As a small child I would watch Mom work on the "Family History" by the hour. She would write letter after letter, talk on the phone, visit family members and cemeteries. She would get so excited when she would get a letter from the "west" people and made many, many friends through this correspondence. I never quite understood what all the hype was about until the "bug" bit me about ten years ago. NOW!!! I understand what she felt and the many thoughts that probably flew through her mind at two o'clock in the morning or as she went about her many chores on the farm. Writing two family booklets held such passion for Mom and were truly acts of love, otherwise she could not have gone through all it takes to do them. Even up to her death, Mom was still working on the family history.

This book, too, is an act of love for the history of our immense family and all the stories surrounding the settling of the western section of Liberty Township, Hardin County, Ohio. It is hoped that some of the information we have found will be of interest to you and bless you as it has me over these past months. We realize that all the information has not been found, but we're still working on it (maybe a sequel). We realize that each family is not completely updated, but we have done our best to gather as much information as possible. Sometimes you just can't find anything else, but as long as we do our best we must be satisfied. We realize, too, that sadly some of our information might not be completely correct and for this we apologize, but again, we have done our best.

Please accept the Tobias Long Family History Book with all our love and know that it is only because of our love of family, friends and history that this has been possible. I appreciate so much the many friendships we have made over the past years with cousins and other people in gathering information and stories about the Long family. Who would ever think you would find it exciting to read obituaries and cruise cemeteries??

RECORD OF THE FAMILY OF TOBIAS LONG

Thanks to Doris Long Mettler, we have discovered more information on the Long "pedigree" of which doesn't quite fit in with some of the information we have had before, but does fit when put together. We haven't delved into much of the very early information Doris shared with us, as we wanted to focus more on our ancestry here in the United States. It seems we Langs/Longs have been in this country somewhat longer than first thought and there are many, many more of us. So as the old saying goes: "forget everything before the 'but' and go on." Well, here is the 'but' and on we go into the Long history. Thank you, Doris, for all your hard work!! What an interesting history we have!

Obituary of Esther Long

Esther, the wife of Uncle John Long, died at their home last Thursday night aged 76 years, 3 months, and 26 days. About a week before her death she had a fall. Although no bones were pronounced broken, still the shock sustained, followed by a bad attack of the asthma, to which she was subjected, terminated her earthly days, already made very feeble by the infirmities of a good old age.

She was born in Westmoreland County, Pa. About 44 years ago, she with her husband and family moved to this country. They occupied and improved the farm on which they ever since lived, now owned by one of our enterprising and best farmers, their son-in-law, Mr. Allen Lantz.

The deceased was the mother of ten children, six sons and four daughters, in which she became the parent of a large, industrious, prosperous and respected family, numbering at her death four sons and four daughters still living and 50 grand children and 30 great grand children.

Early in life Mother Long united with the Lutheran church by confirmation. She remained a member of it until death, always faithful in observing the ordinances of Christianity till prevented by her declining old age.

She was interred in the German Reformed and Lutheran cemetery last Thursday, the funeral services conducted by her pastor, Rev. F. P. Cook, assisted by Rev. T. W. Corbet. A large concourse of people assembled to pay a tribute of honor to one long among them and respected by them. May all, especially her children, hold her in blessed memory.

Obituary of John Long

One week ago yesterday, March 26, John Long, one of the pioneers of this community, was laid away to his rest in the Lutheran and Reformed graveyard, the funeral services being conducted by his pastor, Rev. F. P. Cook. He died in the house of his clever and respected son-in-law, Mr. A. Lantz, who had bought the old homestead and with whom for some years past Father Long has made his home.

One year ago in May the faithful partner of his joys and sorrows, prosperity and adversity, proceeded him to her rest. Sixty long years ago they joined hands in the covenant of marriage. By this union he became the head of a family of ten, 3 sons and 4 daughters of whom are living, who will long remember him as a considerate and kind father.

He was a native of Pennsylvania, born in Westmoreland County, whence 36 years ago he moved, and settled on the farm where he died, three miles west of Ada, in Allen County.

Father Long was a man of a cheerful and happy frame of mind. He was universally respected for his integrity and kind, honest and industrious habits of life. Although he had reached the good old age of 83 years, 7 months and 9 days, he was yet remarkably active and supple. He had never been sick, but little of his life, and at least he was spared the pain and disease which usually overtakes old age, being sick but twelve hours till death released his soul from the body.

He was a member of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran church, having been confirmed early in life. He was a faithful Bible student and died in the belief of the promises which the gospel offers.

Samuel M. Anspach
Born May 16, 1844

Obituary of Mrs. S. M. Anspach (Mary Magdalena Long Anspach)
"The Record" Ada, Ohio September 28, 1910

Mary Magdalena Anspach, daughter of Adam and Susanna Long (Grandpa Tobias' brother), was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, on May 14, 1844: departed this life in her home at Ada, Ohio on September 15, 1910; aged 66 years, 4 months, and 2 days. (1 day)

While yet a young girl she removed with her family from their Pennsylvania home and settled in Allen County, Ohio. Here on May 15, 1864 she was united in marriage with Samuel Anspach. To this union eleven children were born, one of who has preceded the mother to her heavenly home.

Baptized in infancy and later instructed in the fundamentals of the Christian faith, she united with St Paul Lutheran congregation of this parish. Here she held fellowship until 1867 when, upon organization of St Mark's congregation of Ada, she became, together with her husband, one of its charter members, remaining a faithful exponent of the faith she confessed.

Although unable for a long time regularly to attend the public service of the congregation, by reason of her infirmity, yet her deep interest and love for the congregation and its welfare had not ceased. As a parting expression of that love and interest she recently presented a beautiful brass cross for the altar.

While for many years a cross of bodily affliction had been laid upon her, yet the sacrifice and suffering of her Saviour on the cross, together with His precious doctrines enabled her faith fully to triumph over all and to bear her lot in patience. Anxiously did she therefore look forward to the time of her redemption from the sin and suffering of this life, longing to be absent from the body that she might be present with the Lord.

Her husband, four sons, six daughters, twenty-seven grandchildren and one great grandchild, together with a host of relatives and friends, mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother, a kind neighbor and a sincere friend.

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon from the Lutheran church, the pastor, the Re. S. L. Boger, officiating. The body was then duly laid to rest in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Funeral Notice: Mary M. Anspach, for many years an invalid died September 15, 1910, at the age of 66 years, 4 months, and 1 day. Funeral Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. S. L. Boger. Interment at Woodlawn.

- (5) Adam A. Long Jr.
Born February 28, 1848 Westmoreland Co., PA;
Died September 21, 1891 Liberty Twp. Hardin Co., OH Woodlawn Cemetery west Lot #90
Married 1908
Hannah Jane Grubb
Died 1924 Liberty Twp., Hardin Co., OH Woodlawn Cemetery west Lot #90

A. A. LONG, farmer, P.O. Ada, was born February 28, 1848, in Westmoreland County, Penn. He is a son of Adam and Susannah (Baughman) Long, both natives of Pennsylvania and of German descent. In early life, his father was a wagon-maker, but afterward became a farmer. Our subject was reared on the farm and only attended school six months; is a self-educated man, and is conversant with the German language. He worked for his father until twenty-one years old, and then engaged in ditching, chopping and aiding in the draining of the Hog Creek Marsh. In 1870, he came to Hardin County, settled in Liberty Township and is now the owner of forty-four acres of land in Section 16. (which would have been the second acreage north of St. Rt. 81 on the east side of Co. Rd. 35. This would have bordered on property owned by Mrs. P. Dearth) Financially, he has been successful as a farmer. In 1908, he married Hannah Jane Grubb of English lineage, and a daughter of Elijah and Mary Grubb. (Elijah Grubb was a pastor in the Blanchard Christian Church in Blanchard Twp., prior to his pastoring in the Summit Christian Church in Liberty Twp.) Mr. Long is a Democrat in politics, and is Trustee of the Allen Mutual Relief Insurance Company.

History of Hardin County, Ohio 1883

Item found in several issues of the RECORD between September 24, 1884 and November 5, 1884:

The Adam Long farm, situated 4 miles west of Ada, in Allen County is for sale. It contains 140 acres, 100 being under cultivation; has good bank barn, two-story frame house with cellar, two good wells, a never failing spring. Will sell cheap if sold soon. Call on or address A. A. Long Ada, Ohio.

Notice of the death of Adam A. Long in the September 23, 1891 the RECORD newspaper:

The community was shocked yesterday morning by the announcement of the death of Adam A. Long, which occurred the previous night. Mr Long came home from the Northwest some time ago and was then ill, the disease later proving to be typhoid fever. Funeral services were held this afternoon. A more extended notice will appear next week.

Obituary of Adam A. Long:

The funeral of Adam A. Long, whose death on the evening of the 21st was noticed in the last issue of the Record, took place on the 23rd at 11 a.m. from the residence of Mr. D. M. Anspach, conducted by Rev. F. P. Cook.

By moral, industrious and economical habits of life the deceased had gained a degree of prosperity in which he could spend the remainder of life with greater comfort and ease. This it seems he had wisely concluded to do. Accordingly last spring he rented his farms and moved to town renting part of the large new residence owned by D. M. Anspach. Several months ago, accompanied by his wife, he set out on an extended trip through the West. But like the vessel which is often driven back to port by the storm before the voyage is completed, so he, seized by the painful storm of a severe case of typhoid fever which was taking hold of him, turned his face homeward. This he reached on the 7th in so only to lie down in it and die.

"Man that is born of a woman hath but a short time to live." How forcibly the illustration of this divine utterance is the present instance. The deceased was only 45 years, 6 months, and 22 days old, and was an ideal picture of physical strength and manhood, yet in the very prime of this robust manhood he was cut down and whatever plans for the future were laid out, whatever hopes were entertained were suddenly destroyed.

The funeral was largely attended particularly by his old neighbors and friends among the farmers, in whose welfare he always has manifested a deep interest. In following him to the grave the feeling was generally entertained that the last adieu was being paid to one, who in life was a moral, industrious and good citizen.

He was born in Westmoreland County, PA., the only son of Adam and Susan Long. He leaves a wife, mother and 6 sisters to mourn his death.

Obituary of Barbara Long:

Barbara Long was born in Westmorland County, Pennsylvania on May 28, 1822. She was baptized in her infancy and became a Communicant member of the Reformed Church early in life and remained a faithful member unto death. She was married to John T. Long in 1846. To this union was born six sons and four daughters; five sons and two daughters remain to mourn her loss. Besides these are twenty-six grandchildren living, three others proceeded her to the Spirit land.

In 1854 the family came to Allen County and located on the farm where she died. She was a faithful wife and affectionate Mother and was held in high esteem by the community as was evidenced by the unusually large number who attended her funeral. About three weeks ago she received a paralytic stroke which prostrated her, but she gradually rallied and the prospect for at best a partial restoration was favorable; but about ten days later she had another stroke after which she began to sink rapidly, but lingered until Saturday morning, June 4, 1898, when without a struggle she quietly passed away, at the age of 76 years 7 days. The funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. I. A. Sties, Rev. F. Cramer of Lima also took part in the service.

Obituary of John T. Long:

On June 11, 1901 at his home in Jackson Township, Allen County, Ohio John T. Long passed from earth at the age of 74 years 11 months 7 days. Mr. Long was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania on July 4, 1826, where his ancestors made their home for many years and their descendants still live. Here in 1846 he was married to Barbara Long. On August 20, 1854 they reached the farm where they spent their declining days. Their children are named in order of their ages. Florinda, who married Frank Edwards and is now deceased; Mary Ann married John F. Schaffer; Michael, who married Leah Anspach; Paul died in early life; Elizabeth A., married to J. F. Rhodes; Tobias and Cynthia who were twins, the later died at the age of 7 years; Jonas; Manual and Daniel, who were also twins. Daniel passed away at the age of 3.

They have always lived on the farm on which they settled; a little over three miles west of Ada, here the wife died on June 4, 1898 and both now lie in that last long sleep in St Paul church yard. Since Mrs. Long's death their granddaughter Mrs. Sal Fisher have kept house for Mr. Long.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Wolfinger, pastor of the Reformed Church of Lima. Mr. Long was baptized into this church and was confirmed when about seventeen and has lived a life long member. He was a thrifty farmer, a good citizen, a kind neighbor, and his children rise up and call him blessed and what more fitting eulogy could be pronounced.

In the History of Allen County, Ohio, we found the following portion concerning John T and Michael Long:

The fertile fields of Allen County have furnished some of the best citizens with the means of working out their life's destiny and of laying up for themselves a comfortable provision for later years. Among the honored residents of this county who have found contentment and success in agricultural work, and who at the same time have gained the good will and esteem of their associates is Michael Long, still carrying on his operations in Jackson Township.

Mr. Long was born on a farm in Westmorland County, Pennsylvania, February 13, 1853, a son of John T. and Barbara (Long) Long, natives of the same state and county. They were reared, educated and married there, but in 1854 migrated to Allen County, Ohio, arriving August 20 and settling on a farm in Jackson Township, on which they spent the remainder of their lives. Mr. Long was a democrat in politics and a man highly respected in his community, and he and his wife were honest, God-fearing people who were devout members of the Reformed Church. They were the parents of ten children of whom six are living: Mary, the widow of John F. Shuffer; Michael, of this notice Lizzie A., the wife of John Rhodes, a farmer of Allen County; Jonas, who is engaged in farming in Hardin County, Ohio; Tobias, who is engaged in farming in Jackson Township; and Emmanuel A., who is also engaged in farming in Jackson Township.

Michael Long was brought from Hempfield Township, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, to Allen County, Ohio, when he was an infant and was reared on the Long farm in Jackson Township, in which community he was sent to the public school. He lived with his parents until he was twenty-four years old, and September 7, 1876 was united in marriage with Miss Leah Anspauch, who was born May 2, 1854 in Liberty Township, Allen County. Following his marriage Mr. Long rented a farm in Allen County for nine years, after which he purchased his present farm of eighty acres in Jackson Township, in addition to which, he owns thirty acres in Liberty Township, Hardin County. He is a general farmer and also raises a good grade of live stock, and has his farm well improved with good buildings and modern equipment. His standing has always been that of an honorable man of business and he is a stockholder in the Farmers Elevator at Ada. His political affiliation is with the democratic party. With his family he belongs to the Reformed Church, in which he has served as elder. In recent years Mr. Long had the novel experience of a journey in an aeroplane, having made a trip from two miles east of Ada to his farm, the journey having been made at an altitude of 3,000 feet. He thoroughly enjoyed his ride, and had the distinction of having been the most elderly man who had been taken on such a journey by his pilot up to that time.

Five children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Long: Emmett F., a graduate of the LaFayette High School and the Ohio Northern University at Ada, who is now a teacher of the commercial class in that institution; Clara, the wife of Wilbur Rhodes, a farmer of Allen County; Jennie, a graduate of the LaFayette High School, who is the wife of Victor F. Clum, an agriculturist of this county; Charles C., who is engaged in farming in Jackson Township; and George G., who assists his father on the home farm. Mr. Long and his members of his family have always been staunch supporters of movements tending toward the advancement of the interests of their home community.

Obituary of Tobias B. Long May 13, 1940:

Tobias B. Long 77 retired farmer died Monday at his home on West Montford Avenue. He had been in declining health for the last four months and seriously ill for two days.

He was born in Allen County October 27, 1862 the son of John and Barbara Long. The family homestead was three miles west of Ada, now occupied by Mr. & Mrs. Charlie Rhodes. (both now deceased and farm was sold back to John & Barbara's great grandson in 1980 now sold to another family 2001)

He was married to Mary Pugh December 2, 1882, the couple making their home on the Harvey Klingler farm a mile west of Ada. The log cabin they occupied is still standing. Following his father's death they moved to the homestead and then on the farm adjoining it, just north of the railroad.

In later years the family moved to Ada where Mr. Long engaged for a time in the grocery business. They have since made their home here. He was the last surviving member of his father's family.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Long; three children, Mrs. John Lantz; Grover of Westville Lake, Ohio and Freeman Long of Ada.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at the Presbyterian Union Church of which he was a long time member. Rev. W. A. Condon officiated. Burial in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Obituary of Uncle Daniel A. Long:

Daniel A. Long, son of John & Barbara Long was born in Jackson Twp., Allen County, August 22, 1965. As a child he was brought up in the way he should go and in alter years he did not depart from it. He was confirmed in the faith of the Reformed Church in the United States October 22, 1881. He held his membership in the St. Paul Church, Ada charge until May 22, 1899 at which time, after having suffered two weeks from meningitis, the Father said; It is enough, come higher, and transferred his membership to the Church Triumphant.

He was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Smith September 3, 1892. This union was blessed by two children, Stanley Gail and Ida Ilo, aged respectively 4 and 2 years. Though his life on earth was of but 33 years, it shines forth as an example of integrity and spiritual rectitude.

In the church he was earnest, regular and faithful. In the home he was kind, solicitous and affectionate. As a neighbor he was courteous, considerate and obliging. He was honored, loved and respected by all who knew him and his daughter calls forth the sympathetic tear which can be wiped away only by the hand of God.

The funeral was held May 24th at the church. The services were conducted by the pastor J. W. Geier, assisted by Rev. Ernsberger of Herring. The pastors preached from the text: It is the Lord, Let him do what seemeth him good - 3-18. In the discourse several reasons were cited why we should submit to the Divine will.

The vast number who attended the last rites demonstrated thereby their sympathy for the bereaved and their sorrow in the loss of our beloved brother.

Card of thanks: The undersigned hereby desires to express sincere gratitude to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our bereavement.

Mrs. D. A. Long

Many of the descendants of John T. and Barbara Long have long been family, friends and sometimes the love of those of the Tobias Long families. Clara Long, daughter of Michael Long married Wilbur Rhodes. In 1883 their son William married Millie Ann Long, daughter of Tobias and Sarah Long. Manuel Allen Long, youngest son of John and Barbara, and his wife, Nora Guyton Long were the parents of eleven children, many of whose descendents still live and work in this area.

PIONEER FAMILIES OF HARDIN COUNTY

Long Family

By Herbert Blue

(Story in the Kenton Times of Kenton, Ohio May 10, 1960)

Three miles west of Ada on the southwest quarter of Section 19 in Liberty Township lives Charles N. Long, the 24th child of Tobias Long, one of Hardin County's earliest pioneers. On July 15, 1960 Long will be 79 years of age. It is most interesting to note that Tobias Long, the pioneer, purchased this land from the U.S. government in 1835 and from that day to this, the farm has been in possession of the Long family: 125 years with the present owner being Charles N. Long.

Tobias Long was a native of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, where he was born on November 9, 1814, the son of Adam and Magdalena (Boyer) Long. The first of the Long family came to America from Scotland in 1755. The parents of Tobias Long located in the first county east of Pittsburgh. Here in Westmoreland County, Tobias received his early education, and here he grew to manhood, and like his father, became a farmer.

On December 13, 1836 he was married to Sarah Haney, a daughter of Frederick and Catherine (Gonser) Haney, of German descent. She was born August 30, 1816. Not long after their marriage, they rode on horseback from Holmes County in eastern Ohio to their new home in Hardin County. Long had previously made two trips to Liberty Township on foot, and had erected a log cabin on his farm, which he had purchased in 1835 for $1.25 an acre. In those days 160 acres cost $200.

When the young couple reached their destination, they found Liberty Township sparsely settled, in fact, Tobias Long was elected to the office of constable, when there was only seventeen votes cast in the entire township. The Long farm was covered with virgin forest, not a tree had been cut, except those which Long had used to build his primitive log cabin. No crops could be planted until the great trees were removed, and this was no easy task.

When he was finally settled in his new cabin home, he had one lone silver dollar left, which he gave to a neighbor to dig a well twelve feet deep. There was an abundance of wild game in the forests, which included deer, wild hogs and wild turkeys.

Charles Long still has in his possession his father's old rifle, which was used to hunt game in the 1830's. When Long had finally raised a crop of corn and had it ground into meal, he found that the Indians were only too glad to trade their venison for some of his corn meal.

In those days the Indians from around Upper Sandusky and Wapakoneta made frequent hunting excursions into various parts of Hardin County. They were quite friendly with the early settlers and found Tobias Long and his family equally friendly. They liked to come into the cabin to get a piece of corn pone or "johnny cake," as it was called by the pioneers. The Indians called it "jomie cake." They also greatly enjoyed lying on the floor of the cabin with their heads toward the big fireplace.

Apparently the Wyandots of Upper Sandusky and the Shawnees of Wapakoneta felt very much at home when they stopped at the Long cabin. When a few years later the government required them to leave for their reservations in the West, a great many of these friendly redmen came to bid Long and his family good-bye. It was rather pathetic to see the squaws with their small children strapped on their backs, and joining their men folk in their long trek to their lands beyond the Mississippi. Many of the Indians had come to know those settlers who had been friendly to them and it was their wish to bid them a fond farewell.

In 1845 Tobias Long erected a new and much larger log house for the use of his growing family. A number of the neighbors assisted in its erection. They must have built well indeed, for this log house is still standing after a period of 115 years. The "log-rollings" carried on by the pioneers were usually very friendly social events and in a few days time the settlers working together could cut the trees and erect a new cabin or roll a huge pile of logs together to be burned, so that the land could be made ready for cultivation.

Tobias Long frequently plowed his fields in the early days by using a strong yoke of oxen. He was truly a typical pioneer.

In his youth, Tobias Long had learned something of the cooper's trade and had also learned quite well the trade of a shoemaker. For a number of years after he had settled in Hardin County, in addition to his vocation as a farmer, he made boots and shoes for many people for miles around. Everyone seemed to be his friend and thus he became well known throughout the western portion of Hardin County. He and his wife were members of the German Reformed Church, and in his earlier years served in the office of Deacon. Politically, he was a member of the Democratic Party.

In the early 1850's when the village of Johnstown (now Ada) was being established, Long rendered much valuable service in helping the proprietor of the town, William Mitchell, in erecting some of the very first buildings in the new town. One of the earliest industries in Ada was the large sawmill of S. M. Johnson, who manufactured ties for the Ohio and Indiana Railroad (now the Pennsylvania). His workmen needed homes, and these Tobias Long helped to build. In that sense he was one of the founders of Ada.

We hear a lot most every day
'Bout the history of our land.
So thought you might be interested in
Some history of our clan.

One hundred forty years ago
Tobias came along
He found a spot in Hardin County
And bought it for a song.

Few Indians lived 'long Hog Creek
There was a big marsh there
Here lived a lot of wild animals
Sometimes even a bear.

Back in those days, they tell us
The neighbors were quite few
With trees to cut, a house to build
He had plenty to do

In ten years time, Tobias said
"Our children number six
If we don't build a bigger house
We'll soon be in a fix."

The house you see still standing
He built from roof to floor
Good thing he made it big enough
There were children 18 more

In summertime he tilled the soil
And followed the cobbler's trade
The people came from miles around
For boots and shoes he made

Grandpa would have a job to-day
There's Longs now by the score
He'd have to have a factory now
'Cause he'd need boots galore.

The land cost $1.25 an acre
When Tobias was constable there were 17 votes in the Township

TOBIAS LONG

Homesteading in Hardin County, Ohio

Tobias Long was born at Arona in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, where he grew to manhood and became a farmer. In 1814 the Long family migrated to Coshocton County, Ohio. When Tobias was sixteen he joined a group of twelve men who set out to explore the wilderness. They walked, carrying only their deer rifles. When they reached this area Tobias chose land for a homestead. In 1830, Tobias made a trip to Liberty Township in Hardin County, Ohio where he claimed the present homestead and erected a log cabin from logs he cut on the property. In 1835 he got his grant and deed from the U. S. Government for 147 acres at $1.25 per acre from President Van Buren.

On November 13, 1836 Tobias and Sarah Haney, daughter of Frederick and Catherine Haney of Holmes County, Ohio were married. Great-Grandpa was twenty-two and Great-Grandma was twenty when they set out to make a life for themselves and their family in this sparsely settled wilderness in north-western Hardin County, Ohio. There were no family members to turn to for advice or help, they had to depend upon each other and what they both had been taught as they grew to adulthood. These early pioneers were made of strong stock and prepared for life from the time they were born. It is an awesome thought to move what might as well have been to the other side of the earth from your family, to an area where you knew no one and had no idea what life would hold. To think that very possibly you would never see your family again, but to have faith enough to start out. What brave people! I thank God for them and the strength they bred into this family, what an inheritance!

The Long Homestead was covered with virgin forest, not a tree had been cut until Great-Grandpa cut what he used to build his log cabin. No crops could be planted until land was cleared; trees cut, stumps removed and land tilled. What an awesome job that must have been; without chain saws, tractors and bulldozers!! Tobias used a strong pair of oxen to help him clear and plow his land. When the Longs were finally settled into their new home, Grandpa had just one silver dollar left. He gave that to a neighbor to dig a well twelve feet deep.

There was an abundance of wild game in the forests, which included deer, wild hogs, wild turkey, rabbits and squirrel. Tobias carried a Pennsylvania squirrel rifle to Ohio with him and used it in providing meat for his family. On one of his hunting trips he was chased up a tree by a bear and used his rifle to keep the bear away from him by punching at it. To this day you can still see the bear's claw marks on the stock of the rifle.

Tobias was a farmer first, raising corn, oats, wheat, hay and livestock, but engaged in a number of other trades to help support his family such as: carpenter, saw mill worker, cooper and even picked up the cobbler's trade making boots and shoes for his neighbors.

In 1845, due to the growing Long family, Tobias, along with his neighbors built a new four room, two-story log house, which is still standing and is in use today.

In those days the Indians from around Upper Sandusky and Wapakoneta made frequent hunting excursions into various parts of Hardin County. They were quite friendly with the early settlers and found Tobias Long and his family equally friendly. They liked to come into the cabin to get a piece of corn pone or "johnny cake," as the pioneers called it. The Indians called it "jomie cake." They also greatly enjoyed lying on the floor of the cabin with their heads toward the big fireplace on the north wall. Tobias traded tobacco and corn for wild game the Indians caught.

Apparently the Wyandots of Upper Sandusky and the Shawnees of Wapakoneta felt very much at home when they stopped at the Long cabin. On one occasion a group of Indians were about a mile from Tobias's and one of the Indians died. They took grape vines and pulled the body to the top of a tree. The body was left there for three days to let the spirit get to heaven. A few years later when the government required them to leave the area for their reservations in the West, a great many of these friendly redmen came to bid Long and his family good-bye. It was rather pathetic to see the squaws with their small children strapped on their backs, and joining their men folk in their long trek to their lands beyond the Mississippi. Many of the Indians had come to know those settlers who had been friendly to them and it was their wish to bid them a fond fair well.

Early in the 1850's Tobias helped William Mitchell to build many of the first buildings for the new village of Johnstown (since there was already a town named Johnstown in Ohio, was later renamed Ada May 4, 1861), therefore Tobias was in a sense, one of the founders of Ada, Ohio. One of the earliest buildings built was the S. M. Johnson Saw Mill as well as shacks for his sawmill workers and places for the railroad workers to stay. Tobias worked as a surveyor's helper and aided the engineer in the layout of the streets. In fact, the street now known as Lehr Street was at one time named Long Street and ran east and west from one end of town to the other. In the 1879 Atlas of Hardin County, Long Street was one of only six east and west streets running completely through town.

Tobias was a Democrat, served as a county trustee, and ran for and won the election for Constable. At the time the population was small, only seventeen votes were cast.

When the Civil War broke out, three of the Long sons went away to fight in the Union Army. During the war, Sarah took sick and passed away on December 6, 1862 at the age of 46 years. After the war, several of the children went West to Iowa and Kansas to make new homes for themselves.

THE LONG REUNION

The Old Buckeyes Meet on the Soil of the Sunflower State

The following is clipped from the St. John, Kansas Weekly News of August 20, 1902. This family are the descendants of Tobias Long, who died in the western part of Hardin County, Ohio December 5, 1892. (Found among Grandpa Long's papers and pictures)

Last Sunday at the home of our esteemed citizen, Jacob Long, of Ohio Township, was the scene of a very happy meeting of ten brothers and sisters, who for the first time in their lives talked, sang and ate together. Strange this may seem for they are all past middle age of life, yet such is the case. The three eldest of the family were grown to manhood and started out in life for themselves before the youngest was born. The ways of the business world drifted them further and further apart until last Sunday when kind providence joined them in happy reunion for the first time. The meeting was a very pleasant one and the entire day was spent in feasting and talking over the scenes of their childhood. In the Long family were ten full brothers and sisters.

Captain John W. of Ohio City, Colorado; Jacob of Ohio Township; Tobias of Lima, Ohio; George F. of Kiowa; Mrs. Sarah Dearth of Ada, Ohio; Fred and Jerry of Seward Township; Mrs. Lovina Row of Larned; Noah of Briceton, Ohio; and Mrs. Hannah Malone of this city.

In addition of the original ten children, (fifteen children were born in the first set of children of which four died very young and another sister, Mary Jane Long Yarnell, died before this article was written. Great Grandpa Tobias had twenty-four children) there were nine half-brothers and sisters, of which Charles Long of Earlham, Iowa was the only one to join his half brothers and sisters in reunion.

Captain John Long was a private in Co. A, 8th Ohio and served his country for three years and three months. He afterward made up Co. E. 197th Ohio, and was made its captain.

Jacob served in the rebellion for three years and three months in Co. D., 34th Ohio. He was with the same brigade with () President McKinley (). Tobias A. was a private in Co. E. 197th Ohio, of which his brother was captain.

Shortly after the close of the war John W. and Tobias A. separated in Illinois. This was in 1865 and from that time until last Sunday morning a period of 37 years never set eyes on each other. The day will never be forgotten by all who were present, but it will be especially held in fond remembrance by the ten brothers and sisters.

Fully 60 relatives joined in the days festivities. Just before noon photographer Haworth arrived at the house and took views of the entire group. He also took the ten in a separate group.

When the noon hour arrived the family of ten sat down at the table together for the first time and being of German descent they agreed to talk nothing but German during the feast. It was also agreed that those who broke the contract would have to treat the balance. Tobias A. was the first to break the contract and was soon followed by Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Row and Mrs. Dearth, the remaining six staying by the agreement. A merrier time was never had.

After partaking of the spread which was served of the very best that the land affords, the remainder of the day was spent in talking over the things of the past and the plans of the future, eating watermelon and singing sacred songs, such as "Nearer My God to Thee"; "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," etc.

At a late hour the union was broken and probably for the last time as ripe old age is dawning upon the elder members of the family. However the News sincerely wishes for them many more happy occasions.

Taken from the south, looking north

From left to right you see the Old House, the wood shed in front of it.
Next you see the granary shed that stood just south of Phillip & Ruby's house.
There's a small shed toward the barn that I have no idea what they used it for.

This is a picture of the "second" barn that faced north and south.
It burned when Grandpa pulled a truck of straw in out of the rain and straw was up against something hot.

If you look close there's a windmill at the edge of the picture.

History of Tobias Long and Sarah Haney Long

TOBIAS LONG

Taken from the History of Hardin County, Ohio 1883
Biographical Sketches -Liberty Township pp 1012-1013

TOBIAS LONG, farmer, P.O. Ada, was born November 9, 1814, in Westmoreland County, Penn. He is the son of Adam and Magdalena (Boyer) Long, both natives of Pennsylvania, the former of German and the later of Scotch and Irish descent. His father was a farmer. Our subject received a common school education and learned farming for his occupation, which he has since followed, although also familiar with the copper and shoe-maker's trades. He came to this county in 1835 and settled on the Government land. He is now the owner of 147 acres of valuable land. In 1836, he married Sarah Haney, daughter of Frederick and Catherine (Gonser) Haney, of German descent. Fifteen children blessed this union, viz.: John, Jacob, Solomon (deceased), Adam (deceased), Elizabeth (deceased), Tobias, George, Sarah, Lovine, Frederic, Jeremiah, Noah, Mary J. (deceased), Hannah, and Alvin (deceased). Mrs. Long died in 1862. In 1863, he formed a second union with Melissa Ann Fisher, daughter of Michael and Mary (Ocker) Fisher, the former of German and the latter of English descent. There are nine children by this union Albert, Millie A., Salina C., Cyrus, Henry, Emma, Naoma, Charles and an infant not named. Mr. and Mrs. Long are members of the German Reformed Church. In an early day, the former was a Deacon. In politics, he is a Democrat. He was a Constable when there was only seventeen voters, not enough to hold the offices. Mr. Long has eighteen children living, thirteen of whom are married, and he has thirty-six grandchildren.

Just this past summer of 2001, we found the graves of Solomon, Adam and Elizabeth Long in the Candler cemetery, located a little over a mile north of the Homestead. We were always under the impression that these three children died in infancy and were buried at St. Paul's Reformed cemetery with the other members of the Long family. St. Paul's was not yet founded in 1847 and so they were buried in the first cemetery founded in Liberty Township, Candler cemetery. We found all three died within less than two weeks of each other in June and July of 1847. As of yet, I have not been able to find out what was "going around" at that time that would have taken these three little ones, but left four siblings. John and Jacob were older and Tobias and George younger. Solomon was 6 years, 11 months. Adam was 5 years, 13 days and Elizabeth was 3 years, 4 months, 22 days. Why these three little children were taken, only God knows.

The Tobias Long Family's Part in the Civil War

Of the eleven children who lived to make homes of their own, seven of them went west following the Civil War. Thus the Long Family is scattered over most of the United States. John, Jacob, and Tobias Long served in the Civil War. We do have a little information concerning these three who served in the Civil War.

John W. Long enlisted April 22, 1861 for a three-month enlistment with Co A 8th Ohio and was mustered out with the Company May 28, 1861. On this same date of May 28, 1861 he enlisted for a three-year term. During this enlistment the Eighth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry fought in the following battles and bore an honorable part.

September 23, 1861 they were at Romney, W. VA., and fought a second battle there on October 26, 1861.

March 23, 1862 found them at Winchester, VA.; Front Royal, VA.

May 30, 1862; September 17, 1862, Antietam, MD.; Fredericksburg, VA.

December 13, 1862; Chancellorsville, VA.

May 1-4, 1863; Gettysburg, PA.

July 1-3, 1863; November 26-28, 1863 Mine Run, VA. (Operations at); Wilderness, VA., May 5-7, 1864;

May 10, 1864 Po River, VA.; Spottsylvania, VA., May 8-18, 1864; North Anna River, VA., May 23-27, 1864;

Cold Harbor, VA., June 1-12, 1864

Petersburg, VA., June 15-19, 1864.

John Long was mustered out with his Company July 13, 1865.

During this same time Jacob Long, John's brother, was serving with the Thirty-fourth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry as a Bugler. He enlisted July 30, 1861 for a three-year enlistment. This Regiment was organized at Camps Lucas and Dennison, Ohio from July 27 to September 14, 1861, to serve three years. The official list of battles, in which this Regiment bore an honorable part has not yet been published by the War Department, but a list has been compiled after careful investigation of letters and other documents.

The Regiment went first to Princeton, W. VA., May 15-18, 1862;

Fayetteville, W. VA., September 10, 1862 and then on the 11th and 12th they were at Cotton Hill and Charlestown, W. Va.;

On September 27, 1862 they moved on to Buffalo, W. Va.;

November 5, 1862 Manassas Gap, Va.;

Wytheville, W. VA., July 18, 1863;

August 25-30, 1863 Averill's Raid in W. VA.;

Princeton, W. VA., May 6, 1864; Cloyd's Mountain, VA., May 9-10, 1864

Cove Mountain, VA.; Panther Gap, W. VA., June 3, 1864;

June 5 & 6, 1864 Piedmont, VA.

Buffalo Gap, VA.; Lexington, W. VA., June 10-11, 1864;

June 14, Buchanan, VA.;

Otter Creek, VA., June 16, 1864;

June 17-18, 1864 Lynchburg, VA.;

Liberty, VA., June 20, 1864;

Salem, VA., June 21, 1864;

July 9, 1864 Monocacy, MD.;

July 17-23, 1864 the Regiment were at Snickers Gap and Ferry, Winchester, and Kernstown, VA.;

August 21-27, 1864 they were at Summit Point, and Halltown, VA.;

During September 1864 they spent time at Berryville, Martinsburg, Opequan and Fisher's Hill, VA.;

October 13, 1864 Strasburg, VA.;

Cedar Creek, VA., October 19, 1864 and then were at Beverly, W. VA., January 11, 1865.

Jacob Long was mustered out on September 13, 1864 at Columbus, Ohio on expiration of his term of service.

The 197th Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry was organized at Camp Chase, Ohio, from January 8th to April 11th, 1865 to serve one year. "On the 25th of April the Regiment left Camp Chase and proceeded by railroad to Washington City, and on its arrival received the tidings of the surrender of General Johnston's Army. The Regiment was temporarily assigned to the Ninth Corps, and on the 29th of April marched through Alexandria and encamped two miles beyond. On the 9th of May the Regiment was incorporated in the Provisional Brigade, Ninth Army Corps. Two days later the Brigade broke camp, marched to Washington, and embarked on cars for Dover, Delaware, and, arriving on the 5th of May, it encamped at Camp Harrington. On the 31st of May the Regiment moved by rail to Havre de Grace, Maryland, was broken up into detachments, and performed guard-duty along the railroad southward to Baltimore. The Regimental Headquarters were removed to Fort Worthington, near Baltimore, on the 3rd of July, and at that time several companies were on duty as guards at the various forts, camps, and hospitals in and around the city. The Regiment reassembled at Camp Bradford, near Baltimore, and on the 31st day of July was mustered out in accordance with orders from the War Department." John W. Long was a Captain in this Regiment and his brother Tobias A. Long served with him as a Private.

In looking for "other" information in the Ada "Record" of 1920, I ran across some interesting information concerning the Civil War in Liberty Township and Johnstown (Ada). The author, E. W. Gilbert wrote an article about the calling of troops from Liberty Township. The county auditor told the military commission that the township had 292 men able for duty. On July 2nd there were 57 men in the field and on August 29th 104 men were defending the Union. As of August 1862 Liberty Township had 10 ½ percent of the soldiers enlisted from Hardin County.

Mr. Hammond Gilbert, living across the street from the Union school building sent six sons and one young man he raised into the service, making seven from one family. His youngest son D. D. Gilbert died at the age of 16 years and 8 months and was the first soldier from Hardin County to give his life. The boy raised by the Gilbert's also died at the age of 17. The other five returned alive to their father.

Taken from the article: "The old reliable, William Ansley, then living on the farm on the Kenton road east of the George Reece farm, having been reported as having been a captain in the Militia in former years in the state of Kentucky, was induced by some of the greenhorns in town (the writer being one of the leaders) to organize a company and we soon had a company organized and drilled all over town, which was not large at that time. We used hoop poles for muskets. I was at the head of the company; Captain Ansley marched us around and countermarched us in all directions. If we had met an old gander I suppose we would have charged him, and routed him, and done every thing possible to show our bravery. Jacob A. Long, known as "Wessel Jake," was our fifer, and marched at the head and played his fife and said he would go to the front with us as "Major Fife."

The article goes on to tell: "About this time the 1st and 2nd Minnesota Volunteer Infantry was to pass through Johnstown on their way to Washington D. C. and the railroad authorities wired ahead from Wayne for the people of Johnstown to have lots of fresh water along the track to supply the soldiers on the train. The whole town turned out and pressed into service tubs, barrels, buckets, wash boilers and everything that would hold water and had them all filled and distributed along the railroad from east of the old depot to the Main street crossing. The first trains stopped and the boys all had their canteens filled and the many good wishes that came from those soldier boys were things that made a person feel that he had performed one of the greatest duties he had ever experienced. Your humble servant saw and had experiences of the same kind when his loyal women and men in different places contributed to the comfort and necessities of his own regiment in after months.

The different trains transporting those two regiments stopped and the vessels were kept filled with pure well water so that all the men of both those gallant regiments were supplied with all the fresh water they would need until they arrived at Pittsburgh. I became interested in those two regiments and to this day when I notice something that happened in the history of either regiment it reminds me of the time they passed through Johnstown. In visiting the battlefield of Gettysburg, I saw the markers where those regiments fought and have read in the history of that great battle the gallant deeds of the men composing those regiments."

Blanche Long was the youngest daughter of Jacob and Mary Long, born at Larned, Kansas. Her family moved from Larned to St John in 1884, where she grew to womanhood. In 1910, Blanche, her husband and two sons moved to Dacoma, Oklahoma where they made their home until 1925, when they returned to St John, Kansas to spend the rest of their lives.

For many years, while the family lived in Oklahoma, Blanche was a State Superintendent of the Junior Christian Endeavor. She was a member of the P.E.O. Sisterhood, a charter member and regent of the Kanza Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, and Rebecca Lodge. She was christened in the Methodist Church and a life-long member.

Blanche served mankind. She believed that through true knowledge comes serenity.

Paul, her son, lived at Pratt, Kansas and was the Pratt County Engineer for a number of years. He was also a member of several clubs and a member of the Pratt United Methodist Church.

Harold Ware Henderson, their younger son, died at the age of thirty-two.

Elizabeth A. Long

Born February 4, 1844 Ada, Liberty Twp., Hardin County, Ohio

Died July 3, 1847 Ada, Liberty Twp., Hardin County, Ohio Candler Cemetery

Aged 3 years 4 months and 28 days

Solomon and Elizabeth share a tomb stone at the Candler Cemetery, located about in the middle of the cemetery. There are two lambs at the top with the following written on the rounded stone: Solomon & Elizabeth; son and daughter of T. & S. Long; died - - ; Aged - - - . The death dates and ages are not clear enough to be read and the stone has been broken right at the ages. The death and birth dates were found in the cemetery records for Liberty Township, Hardin County, Ohio.

Adam A. is buried to the right of the grave of Solomon and Elizabeth, with very little space separating the stones. His, too, is rounded on the top and features a lamb at the top. Adam's stone reads: Adam A., son of T. & S. Long; died - - - ; Aged - - - .

This stone has also been broken at the Aged area and is unable to be read. With more research I am hoping to find if there was some sort of epidemic that took the lives of these three young children.

Record of the Family of Sarah Catherine Long

The John Valentine and Sarah Catherine Long Dearth Family
John is second from the left, with Charles at his knee and his mother, Anna Prudence Dearth beside him. Milo "Doc" is next and Sarah is beside him, with Ruby in front and William Shelton beside her. We know the seven girls names are: Cora, Lovina, Effie, Jennie, Edith, Elsie and Nelle, but don't know for sure which is which. Peter is standing in the middle.
What a great family picture!!

Sarah and John Dearth went West with the other Long brothers and sisters following the Civil War, but returned to Hardin County, Ohio and settled west of Ada on St Rt 81, with their twelve children. The youngest, Ruby Ramey of Toledo, Ohio is the only one of the twelve living at this time, 1971. (She passed away in April of 1978.)

We have more information on this family than we had for the first book, but still wasn't able to get it all. Sarah and John have the most descendants of Tobias' children, including teachers, judges, engineers, farmers and many other vocations in these large families.

Kenneth Snyder lived in LaMesa, California and was a consulting engineer for Convair Aircraft.

Ruby, the youngest, married Homer Ramey who was in the House of Representatives. He was also a judge and a good man. He certainly added to the Long Reunion when he was able to attend.

Wanda Montgomery was in Burma 1957-1958; joined the Peace Corps in 1961 and served two years in Thailand. When she completed her work there, Frank and Mildred Montgomery, her parents, took a trip around the world and joined Wanda in Thailand for the trip home. In 1964 Wanda began her work in Nigeria; working for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. She served three years in Nigeria. In 1969 Wanda and her niece, Deanna Singer, went to South Africa where they again served fifteen months with the F. A. O. of the United Nations. Mildred and Wanda showed the many pictures they took so others could see and appreciate a little of what they had seen on their travels.

Many of the young men and some of the women, too, of this family have served in the service of their Country.

John & Sarah Dearth with several of their grandchildren

In checking over some of the Civil War Records, we found that John V. Dearth served in two different companies while in the war. He served with Jacob Long in Co. D Thirty-fourth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry until February 26, 1865. He was then transferred to Co. D. 36th O.V.I. where he was mustered out July 27, 1865 as a Veteran. You will find a listing of the battles the 34th O.V.I. participated in under the history of Tobias and Sarah Long.

John Valentine Dearth's father, Noah Dearth and brother, Cornelius were also in the Civil War. Cornelius died in Andersonville Prison as a prisoner of war and is buried in the cemetery there. Noah began his war career as a 1st Lt. William G. Dickson's Co. B. Eighty-second Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry at the age of 44 on November 19, 1861. He was discharged January 18, 1863 at Stafford C. H., VA on Surgeon's certificate of disability. February 25, 1864 he became a member of Co. G. Fifty-fourth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry. They were at Resaca, GA; Kenesaw Mountain, GA; Nickajack Creek, GA.; Atlanta, GA and siege of Atlanta, GA and Jonesboro, GA. Noah died October 30, 1864 in a hospital at Nashville, TN of wounds received in action. He is buried in Candler Cemetery, Liberty Twp., Hardin County, OH.

The following is a letter John V. Dearth wrote while in the war:

Well Cousin George

as I have not written to you for some time I will try and write you a few lines to let you know that I am well and happy and in good spirits one thing that makes me feel good there was about 1700 canon shots fired to day. it was a salute for General Sherman he has taken Savannah and the next will be Richmond and then the war will be over. Big and big and something else makes me happy we was payed of I got my money this morning well George we have had some hard times here in this valley we have done some hard marching and fighting too

I will send you a song that will tell you how our fight began at cedar creek on the 19th of Oct. I will tell you where I was when that fight began
I was on picket and the rebs come in camp before daylight and I was on a little hill and I could see the rebs coming charging through our camp and I thought it time to begin to make tracks to the rear and I light back to the reserve, well George the snow has been about six inches deep and we are not in winter quarters yet there is not much snow on the ground now
The talk is now that we are going back to the old winter

This winter I wish that we would go back there and then likely we will get furloughs
George I think that this war is a going to end this winter
I hope and pray it will for I am tired of it but have not been home sick yet well I must close for this time I want you to write to me so I will quit

send me fifty or sixty Dollars
By the first of May that is if you can come ways at all I was paying Rent here and twenty four miles from our home which made it too unhandy to do much there so I thought I had better Build some kind of a house and move on our own land
I am putting it up just as cheap as I can But I lack just about that much and if you encourage you can let me have it for a while it would help me just at this time a great deal. if you can or not let me know right away
I have my feed to pay till I can raise some and Paid some on the lumber and have Cole to pay and Bought a Plow so now see I am Run-<sup>for you might say well I had money left</sup>- short-But I will hold this till I hear from you - I will give you a small sketch of this Country uncle George as we have not heard from home yet I will write again we are still living in Great Bend yet But we will move this week we have our house finished all But about three days work we intend to move next Thurs. Day

I am Building a Plan house fourteen By twenty feet. Lumber is very high stock Lumber thirty Dollars a thousand of flooring thirty fine Shingles nine Dollars a thousand so you see that it will cost right smart to put up a house I got my lumber in thirty days time now I will tell you what I want you to do I want you to

Corn does very well on old ground
 But not so well in the sod But it will, make feed any ways there is a kind of a warm gets in the corn that hurts the sale of it ~~But after it is Plowed the second~~ time it will Be all right.
 George have you any notion to come out here yet next spring I say come and see for your self and I venture to say your farm will
 Be for sale after you see this Survey Government Land is getting very scarce But Rail Road Land can be Bought cheap yet. Tell Green Father to write when he is coming and I will meet him at Attestation and tell the Boys to gather all the soft maple seed they can get and send them to me as soon as they fall I want to Plant them yet this summer they seem to grow the best here I will close for this time
 Yours as Ever Fred Long in the first Place I will Tell you we are all well & as usual yet so far I think so far in my estimation this was the Best morn I ever could have made The wheat is about 2 foot high and it could not look any Better my spring wheat looks well my oats is up nice we have our Potatoes Planted and a little Corn I looked at it the other day and it was sprouted about two inches

 I want to Plant all my Corn as soon as we get married. There will be a good deal Planted this week
 I want to Plant fifteen acres of Corn the ground is Plowed and Ready Eight acres of old ground and the rest will be on sod that will need no tending then I will commence Plowing for wheat I want to put in forty acres of wheat this fall that seems to Be the main crop

Austin was born in Pawnee County Kansas and was married in Belen, New Mexico. He graduated from Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kansas, where he met his wife, Dorothy. Belen means "Little Bethlehem" in Spanish. The Lovette's owned controlling interest in the Becker-Dalies Company which celebrated its 93rd anniversary in 1970. Austin has been Patron of Eastern Star in 1938, Master of Masonic Lodge in 1942 and 1st President of Belen Chamber of Commerce. He has also been Past President and a Charter member of Belen Rotary Club since March 22, 1937.

Both Austin and Dorothy are members of the Presbyterian Church and served in many capacities. Their children have been active as well.

Gerald operates Lovett Insurance Agency. He is a Major, soon to be Lt. Colonel in the U. S. Army Reserve. He served as Jump Master and Commanding Officer in the Green Beret Reserve Unit.

Luara Lou attended the University of Mexico where she met her husband. He is an ordained minister in the United Methodist Church.

Bruce graduated with a Degree of Medicine in 1968. He was in the service as a medical officer and plans to take his residency at U.N.M. Medical Hospital in Radiology, after his tour of duty in the service. His wife, Marilyn is a teacher and mother.

THE RECORD OF THE FAMILY OF HANNAH LONG

Fourteenth child of Tobias and Sarah (Haney) Long

Hannah was one of the daughters of Tobias and Sarah who went West. She married Robert Malone and lived around Liberal, Kansas, where nine of their children were born. Gertrude Vaught, who lived in Merced, California, where her husband was Sheriff was the last survivor of the immediate Malone family. Most of the Malone family moved to California where several of them are buried. Hannah and Robert Malone and son, George, are buried at Liberal, Kansas.

Nellie Malone, Hannah's oldest child married Ray Hume and had nine children. Most of her family lived around Dos Palos, California. Nellie's daughter, Mildred, was a retired school teacher; son, Laurence was in real estate; others were teachers, farmers, mechanics, day workers, etc. There are several sets of twins in this family.

Beulah Malone's husband, William, was born in Scotland; his parents had gone back to Scotland for the Golden Wedding Anniversary of his grandparents. Beulah and Eulah are twins, born during the flu epidemic of 1918. They slept in shoe boxes. Their father, Robert was also a twin to Fredrick Malone.

Forest Atkins said to leave plenty of space for him on the "tree" as he was really going to spread out. He's spreading, as he already has three children and quite possibly more by now.

Dan Trice was teaching in Guam at the writing of the "yellow" booklet, written by Ruby Long in 1972.

 (2)	Charles Newton Long	Born July 15, 1881	Died June 7, 1968

In going over the birth and death records at the Hardin County Court House, I found an entry for Aunt Omie's twin. We were always under the impression that he wasn't named, but I found him listed as John Long. He lived only twenty days and is buried at St. Paul's Reformed Cemetery Liberty Twp., Hardin Co., OH.

Obituary of Tobias Long

Tobias Long, one of the old citizens of Jackson Township, Allen County, passed away on December 5, 1892, aged 78 years and 20 days.

He was born in Westmoreland (County), Pa., on November 9th, 1814 and moved to Cashocton county, Ohio in 1833 where he united with the German Reformed church in 1836. On November 12th, 1836 he was married to Sarah Haney and to them were born 15 children ten boys and five girls of whom five have died. His first wife died September 10, 1862 and on March 12th, 1863 he was married to Melissa A. Stevens. To this union 9 children five boys and four girls, were born; one boy has died.

There survive him his wife and 18 children, 57 grand children and four great-grand-children. Funeral services were held at the St. Paul's Reformed church, west of Ada, on Thursday, conducted by Rev. Figley. Mr. Long was respected by all who knew him and was a man of many excellent qualities.

(Funeral card will be found on a later page)

Item appeared in the RECORD Wednesday December 31, 1884:

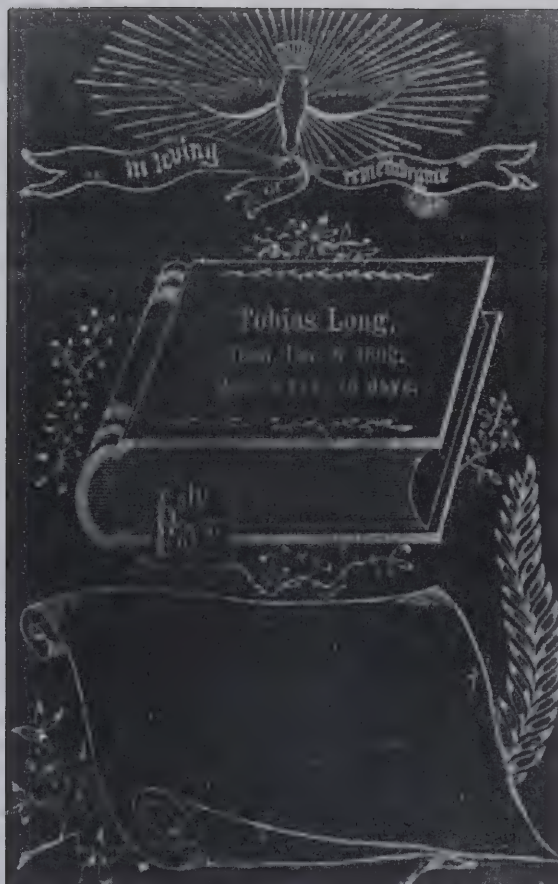

We had a very pleasant call on Monday from Fred Long of St John, Kansas. Mr. Long is visiting his father Tobias Long, and other friends. He is a very pleasant gentleman and speaks highly of Kansas where he has spent the past nine years, this being his first visit home in that time. Mr. Long has several other sons living in Kansas and all are doing well.

Jacob and his wife, Mary Kidd Long came to St John, Kansas with their family: Arthur, Laura, Bertha, Florence, Maggie and Walter in the year of 1877. William was born in Kansas and died when less than a year old. He was the first person buried in Fairview Cemetery at St John, Kansas. It is told that the cemetery was plotted at that time so they could have a burial place. Jacob's grandson, Walter's boy, Courtney was killed in the battle of the Argonne Forest Drive on September 28, 1918, near Bualny, France. He was a member of Company C 137th Infantry, World War I. The Legion Post at St John, Kansas is named the Courtney M. Long Post No. 53 in his honor. His body was identified and sent to St John, Kansas for burial.

Since the book was first done in 1957, the Phillip Long family have been to Kansas and visited with the relatives at St John, Kansas and other places. Others, too, have been out there and visited. The family booklet did one good thing if no other, it tended to bring the Tobias Long descendants closer together. Several from the West have been to the annual Tobias Long Family Reunion at the Long Family Homestead to meet relatives.

The Jacob Long family has been well represented at one time or another. Hazel and Frank Peet were the first to come to the Homestead and for several years made it an annual stop in October on their way back to New Mexico from their son's home in Maryland. Art Lahser of Texas; Mr & Mrs Carl Long of Kansas; Mary Brown, Laura Pierce and son; Maude Peet; Mr & Mrs Maurice Young; Mr & Mrs Wayne Young; Mr & Mrs Lathe Row; Mr & Mrs Alvin Row; Mayme Row, Edith Lyle; Doris Mettler; Joyce Rasko and Linda; Nellie Long and many others have formed new acquaintances and friendships over the years.

A precious one from us has gone,
 A voice we loved is stilled;
 A place is vacant in our home
 Which never can be filled.
 God, in His wisdom, has recalled
 The boon his love had given,
 And though the body slumbers here,
 The soul is safe in Heaven.

This picture was taken at the Tobias Long Homestead in the summer of 1899. Take a good look at the house – starting at the back you can see that the “sleeping porch” hadn’t been added to the upstairs atop the back kitchen. The chimney is within the house and the living room windows aren’t as large as now. Of course, the front porch was still open and not closed in. It must have been quite warm as most of the windows and doors are open. The garage was not yet built on the east end and the large sweet pear tree still stands there. We can name most of the people pictured starting from the left: Cyrus Long’s wife Mary (Lones); Cyrus Long and their two children Iva and Lester; Charles Long; Albert Long; Millie Ann (Long) Rhodes, holding Elmer (sitting); Sarah (Long) Dearth; Grandma Melissa Long (sitting); Naomi (Long) Pierce; Emma (Long) Klingler, holding Lee Geneva (sitting); Child standing against wall could be Otto, son of Henry Long; Henry between two little girls; bigger girls are Bertha, Josie, May and Mary Rhodes and Nellie Long; woman in dark dress is Anna (Musser) Long; Nettie (Hall) Long (Grandpa Charlie’s first wife); Effie Klingler and Maude (Long) Stober, standing by post.

I’ll bet they all had a good time being together that day and probably enjoyed a good hardy farm dinner. I know from growing up on the farm, there were always many who came on Sunday afternoon to spend the day at Grandpa’s. There was always lots of good food and a bunch of kids to play with on those long warm summer days. I’m sure Great Grandma Melissa, too, planned on her children and grandchildren coming to visit and made preparations to feed them. There was probably fried chicken, creamy mashed potatoes with lots of gravy, vegetables from the garden, homemade bread and I’m sure there was at least two kinds of pie to enjoy.

WILLIAM C. RHODES

Taken from the "History of Allen County"

In every branch of industry the advance of Allen County has been remarkably rapid during recent years, and its progress has been equal probably to that of any other section of the state. The present prosperity of the county is well represented in its stockmen and agriculturists, and among these may be mentioned William C. Rhodes, the owner and operator of a well-cultivated farming property in Jackson Township, three miles east of LaFayette.

Mr. Rhodes was born in Montgomery County, Ohio, February 10, 1864, a son of Jacob and Mary (Shaffer) Rhodes, the former a native of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Rhodes was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, and was a young woman when she came to the United States and settled in Montgomery County, where she met and married Mr. Rhodes. Following their union they settled on a farm, on which they rounded out well-ordered, honorable and useful lives, winning and holding the esteem and respect of their neighbors. They were faithful members of the church in their locality and always supported worthy enterprises of a religious, charitable and educational character. While Mr. Rhodes was reared in a democratic family, he early advocated the principles of the republican party, which he continued to support throughout his life. He and his wife were the parents of four children: Amanda, who is deceased; a child who died in infancy; William C.; and John F., a resident of Jackson Township.

William C. Rhodes received his education in the public schools of Montgomery County and at the age of thirteen years completed his studies and came to Allen County, where he was employed by one man for four years. During the first year he received $6 per month for six months, the second year he received $7 per month for the same time, the third year $8 per month for half a year, and the fourth year his salary was advanced $1 for the same length of time. During the remaining six months in each year he worked for his board without pay. Mr. Rhodes then farmed for one year for one-fourth of the crop and at that time decided to form a home of his own, although he was without means. In the spring of 1883 (February 10, 1883) he was united in marriage with Miss. Millie A. Long, and they faced the future courageously, confident of their own ability to weather any financial storms that might arise. In 1884 they were assisted by the receipt of Mr. Rhode's share of the home estate, the sum of $2,000, which he immediately invested in fifty-seven acres of land in Jackson Township, to which, through industrious work and good management he added until he now had 128 acres, all in good state of cultivation. He's engaged in general farming and stock raising, is a stockholder in the Farmer's Cooperative Elevator at LaFayette, and is accounted a business man of the highest integrity and straightforward principles.

Mr. And Mrs. Rhodes have seven children: Wilbur, who assists his father on the home farm, married Clara Long, (daughter of Michael Long, nephew of Tobias Long) and their three children are Vernon D., Edna M., and Isbell; Bertha is the wife of Mason Klingler; Charles, also at home, married Alice Meyers; Josephine is the wife of Newton Klingler; May; Elmer, who is married; and Mabel, at home. Mr. And Mrs. Rhodes are consistent members of the Reformed Church, in which he has been a deacon and elder for eighteen years and a faithful supporter of all church movements, as well as superintendent of the Sunday school for seven years. Fraternally he is affiliated with Jackson Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in which he had numerous friends. He has been active and influential in the ranks of the republican party, and has been a member of the County Central Committee for several years. For four years he served very efficiently as a member of the Jackson Township Board of Trustees.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION (births, deaths, and whatnots)

Emma Long, twenty-first child of Tobias and the sixth child of Tobias and Melissa Fisher Long, married Clement Klingler on December 25, 1897. They lived on a farm that Clem's grandparents, Michael and Magdalene Fisher of Perry County, Ohio had entered here in Hardin County in 1837 at $1.25 per acre under President Martin Van Buren. Several hundred acres were entered at that time. The Fishers gave part of their purchase, which was the farm where Emma and Clem lived, to their daughter Hannah Fisher and husband, Christopher King, who came to Hardin County in 1840.

The Kings' cleared woodland and built a log cabin to live in. They built a dam and ran a saw mill there. Part of the present house was built around 1850. Chris King's oldest daughter was Leah and the mother of Clem Klingler. Leah King was twelve years old when her father, Chris King died, but her mother reared her family on the farm. Leah King married Adam Klingler in February of 1871. In 1901 Emma and Clem bought the Chris King farm and rented it out for several years. They moved there in March of 1904 and raised their family on the farm. Eight children were born to the Klinglers', with three of them dying before the age of four. Leah, the oldest of the children, raised nine children, all of whom lived around the Wooster, Ohio area.

At the writing of the second Family History booklet, there were four of the boys still living, three of whom were farmers, living with their families around the home community. In 2001 Lester is still living on his farm and helps his son, Roy with the farming. Elza spent a good share of his life in the grocery and meat business, living in Michigan prior to his death.

Edison Klingler, Harry's son, was an Extension Agent in Hardin County for many years prior to his retirement. Other sons are local farmers.

Emma celebrated her 95th birthday on February 14, 1971 at the Richland Manor Nursing Home, near Beavertown, Ohio, where she had been a resident for a few years. She got a card from President Richard Nixon. When asked if she would change her vote, she replied, "I vote for nobody!"

The farm that Emma and Clem lived on for so many years was bought by Robert and Diamond Klingler, the youngest living son of Emma and Clem Klingler. In recent years the house was remodeled and sided, but is still a stately old farm home in the Ada area of Hardin County, Ohio.

This picture was taken in 1957 on Clem and Emma's 60th Wedding Anniversary. They were sitting in the south east corner of their living room on the farm mentioned above. The picture on the wall behind Clem and Emma is a portrait of Tobias and Melissa Long Uncle Clem died the next June.

In Memory of Beverly

Twas in the month of September
Just at the close of day -
The Angel of Death came to our home
And took our little girl away.

Somewhere back of the sunset
Where loveliness never dies,
She lives in a land of glory,
Veiled by the blue of the skies.

And deep in our hearts lives a picture
Of our loved one laid to rest;
In memorys frame we will keep it
Because she was one of the best.

RECORD OF CHARLES NEWTON LONG

Charles Newton Long (Grandpa Charlie) was the twenty-fourth child of Tobias and the ninth child of Melissa Long. He was born July 15, 1881 and died June 7, 1968 at the age of 86 years, 11 months and 8 days. After growing up on the Homestead, at the age of 18, Charles married Nettie Pearl Hall, who died within the year. At the age of 20, he married Harriet (Hattie) Lentz of Allen County, Ohio.

Charles and Hattie lived a number of places around the Ada area and even spent a short time in Iowa, before returning to the Homestead in 1919.

Married June 8, 1901
Harriet Estella Lentz
Born December 7, 1876
Died August 16, 1943

Charles and Hattie were the parents of nine children:

 (3)	William Elmer Long	Born January 25, 1902	Died June 10, 1970
 (3)	Fredrick Tobias Long	Born April 9, 1903	Died July 11, 1974
 (3)	Mildred Pearl Long	Born November 7, 1904
 (3)	Eunice Mae Long	Born June 7, 1906	Died April 19, 1995
 (3)	Clyde Neal Long	Born September 18, 1907	Died January 25, 1961

 (3)	Glenford Earl Long	Born August 29, 1912	Died September 22, 1965
 (3)	Phillip Ezra Long	Born June 6, 1917	Died March 28, 1999

Charles like his father, was primarily a farmer, however also engaged at various times in the trade of butchering, ownership of a butcher shop and grocery in both LaFayette and Ada, and as a livestock dealer to help support his family. He was well known for all of these, but most of all he was known to be a good husband and father. He always had time for the children, even when reading the newspaper there was room on his lap (for me!!). He would walk to Ada and get books from the Library such as Black Beauty, and Uncle Tom's Cabin to read to the children. He loved to sing and play instruments, such as the fiddle and guitar. Charles took his oldest son, Elmer, west when he was sixteen, for his health. While there Elmer herded 10,000 goats. Several trips were made back and forth to Arizona over the years.

Grandpa would be very proud of his large family and their descendants, as there are ministers, teachers, ones who cares for the sick in nursing homes, farmers, good housewives and a number who have served their country in the past wars. He raised a very close family and this is due largely to a loving and caring father and mother. He was a great storyteller; he could capture your attention by the hour because he always included all the "details" of every story. He was a great traveler, but always found his way back to Hardin County.

Charles and Phillip became very well known throughout Hardin, Hancock, and Allen Counties as owners of the C. N. & Son Long Stud Service they operated for nineteen years. They kept a herd of both dairy and beef bulls, which they hauled by pick-up truck as well as a car and trailer, to their farm customers. The Longs always took great pride in the fact they could move among their bulls without fear. This came from gentle caring of the animals and at the first sign of meanness, that bull was sent to market. The bulls each had a ring in it's nose and was handled by rope or bull hook wherever they were needed.

Following the death of Hattie on August 16, 1943, Charles married Lucy McElroy Forest on November 26, 1945. After Grandpa's death in 1968, Grandma Lucy lived with her daughter, Margarite Williams until her death October 9, 1979.

When Grandpa was eight years old, the family barn was destroyed by fire. I remember on many occasions Grandpa telling me the story of the fire, while I sat on his lap in his rocking chair beside the living room door, just off the porch. In that chair, on Grandpa's lap, was the best place to hear all about his early life and travels. Back to the fire story Grandpa had just turned eight years old when a terrible thunderstorm came through the area. It was such a bad storm that Grandpa crawled into bed with Grandma Melissa because he was so scared. Taken from the Ada "Record" newspaper dated August 3, 1884:

"Last Saturday night or early Sunday morning a rain storm came up and during the progress the large barn belonging to Tobias Long, west of town, was struck by lightning and entirely consumed.

The structure was a frame 40 by 50 feet and of the kind known as a bank barn. It contained his wheat, a large amount of hay, besides agricultural implements, harness, tools, etc. We have not had an estimate of the loss but the $2000 insurance on the barn will not wholly cover it.

Mr. Long has toiled many long and weary years on the old farm and a large part of the results of his labors were swept away in an hour, as a farm wagon was all that was saved from the flames. We have a great deal of respect for old Uncle Tobias Long and extend to him our sympathy. On Sunday he was stricken with pleurisy, but at last accounts was resting easier."

Grandpa said that as he and his mother lay in her bed watching out the north window of the house, they saw a large streak of lightning come down and strike the barn right in the middle of the roof ridge. The fire immediately spread to both ends and through the entire barn. He also mentioned that it was raining "to beat the band" and the thunder was so loud they grabbed each other and just held on. They knew from the moment of the strike that there was nothing that could be done to save the barn.

HARRIET ESTELLE LENTZ LONG

As with our other grandmothers, we have quite a bit of family history about Grandma Hattie. We begin with her great-grandparents, Daniel and Mary Harshberger Snider and will tell a bit of their story and then follow the family line down through Grandma.

The Daniel and Mary Harshberger Snider family begins in Bedford County, Pennsylvania, then arrives in Perry County, Ohio and finally on to Lima, Allen County, Ohio. This is a very large American family of which Daniel was a hardy contributor; fathering sixteen children. The ancestors of Daniel Snider (born in Pennsylvania in 1772) have not been definitely identified, but are believed to descend from Jacob Snider, a passenger on the ship Allen from Rotterdam, James Craigie, Master, which landed in Pennsylvania on September 11, 1729. The Jacob Snider listed as a passenger on the Allen, may have been part of the group of Brethren from Wittengstein, Germany whose leader was Alexander Mack.

Seemingly, in an attempt to verify this tradition of the Snider family, the Jacob Snider stone in the Ritchey Cemetery, Snake Spring Valley, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, is an important factor. The lengthy statement on the large marker may be a factual statement relating the Daniel and Mary Harshberger Snider family in some way to Jacob Snider, the immigrant from Germany and Holland who arrived on the ship Allen and landed in Pennsylvania in 1729.

Daniel Snider was born August 5, 1772 in Bedford County, Pennsylvania, and died March 7, 1866, aged 93 years, 7 months and 2 days, in Perry County, Ohio and was buried in the Snider Cemetery on the Snider farm. He and Mary Harshberger, born in 1791, also of Pennsylvania, were married probably in late 1797 or early 1798. In 1806, they and their six children immigrated to Perry County, Ohio and settled near Thornville. Perry County is located south east of Columbus. The farm on which he lived is located three miles east of New Salem, four miles south of Thornville and five miles north of East Rushville. It is the next farm north of where John Henry Snider was born and spent his entire life. John was the first son of Daniel Snider Jr.

In the home of Daniel Snider eight more children were born to him and his wife, Mary. Following her death sometime between 1819 and 1827, Daniel married Mrs. Elizabeth Parkinson on November 4, 1827. She brought three children with her to this home: George Parkinson, Katie Parkinson (Whitter) and another daughter. Elizabeth Parkinson Snider died July 14, 1879. Two children were born to this second union:

David Snider
Born August 4, 1828 Perry County, Ohio

Eli Snider
Born January 16, 1831 Perry County, Ohio
Died 1876 Tremont, Illinois
Married November 28, 1850
Sarah Waltmere

In the field south of the house was a family cemetery where Daniel Snider, his wives and some of his children are buried. His son Eli, died after reaching manhood; he was never married. Susan, Catherine's twin also was never married and nothing further is known of her. There also were no records of Sarah. The other thirteen children all married and had families. The land is now being farmed.

At the time of his death the following article appeared in a Dunkard (Church of the Brethren) church paper:

"Daniel Snider, March 3, 1866. He leaves his wife and nine children and many friends to mourn his departure. He was the father of eighteen children; nine have proceeded him to the spirit world. He had 111 grandchildren, 89 living and 22 dead; also 187 great-grandchildren, 155 living and 32 dead. The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord." (The Gospel-Visitor, p. 192, July 1867, Vol. XVII, No. 7.)

Mrs. Emma Clum of Thornville, Ohio, daughter of John Henry Snider, described the home of Daniel Snider in this manner: "Daniel Snider was a Dunkard preacher, and they used to hold their services in his barn which consisted of two squares of logs, at least 40 feet square, and about 40 feet apart. It was all roofed over, and on that barn floor is where their services were held.

The house consisted of five distinct parts: two large porches and three units used as living and working quarters. I was in it often when I was a child. There was a very large living room, at least 30 by 40 feet and another room of the same size above it. On the south side was a double porch the full length of the house. At the west end of the living room was a very large fireplace, built entirely on the outside. The bedrooms were upstairs. To the north was a kitchen about 18 by 20 feet with a room above it. The kitchen was separated from the living room by a porch about 15 feet wide and the length of the kitchen.

The porch was closed at the west by two large doors, but it was always open to the east. To the north of the kitchen was a very large room, or rather, a shed, where they did all their heavy work, such as washing, churning and butchering. It was floored with brick. A mammoth double fireplace served both the kitchen and the shed.

Halfway between the house and the barn was a dug well, 75 feet deep or more, of clear cold water. At that time it was considered a wonderful well. I drank there many times."

We found this accounting, we have no idea who wrote it, but it seems quite accurate:

Family Lentz Record

Fredrick Lentz was born in Germany, also his wife (do not know her given name), but they came to the U.S.A. and settled in Pennsylvania. And there were born to them 5 sons and one daughter. Their names as follows: Henry Lentz, Samuel, David, William and John, and the daughter Mary.

The father was killed in a run-a-way team as he was hauling saw logs.

Later the family moved to Perry County, Ohio near Somerset. There is where the children all married and went their different ways. Henry married and settled in Columbus, Ohio. They had 5 or 6 boys do not remember if they had any girls. Samuel and wife had three boys and one girl. David and his wife Hattie, had 4 boys and 2 girls and they settled near Piqua, Ohio. William P. married Mary Jane Snider and they had 4 boys and 4 girls, and they settled near LaFayette, Ohio, also near Ada, Ohio. John Lentz never married and was slain in the Civil War. Mary Lentz married Noah Snider a nephew of mother's father.

I do not know how old grandfather Lentz was when he was killed. But Grandmother was 87 years old, do not know when she was born or the year when she passed away.

2,000 Extra Meals Served in Year to Visitors at Farm Home Near Ada

Hospitality at Long Home Has Been Traditional For a Century

Town folk who have an impression that farm residents are isolated and lonely should look at the record kept at the C. N. Long home three miles west of Ada during 1935.

Starting on January 1, last year, Mrs. Long began keeping a record of all callers. Tuesday night, at the close of the 12-month period, she was surprised to find that 7,693 calls had been made at her home in 1935, and that she had served more than 2,000 meals in addition to those prepared for her own family.

The Long homestead, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Long, was carved out of the woods by Tobias Long, who settled there a century ago. It has since remained continuously in the Long family, and from pioneer days has been known for its hospitality. First the Indians, then the early settlers, and later all those willing to work were never turned away hungry.

In recent years C. N. Long and sons have engaged in custom butchering, the purchase of livestock, and sale of meat to dealers in nearby towns, which will account in part for the large number of callers at their home during the last year. But aside from business the 2,000 extra meals served by Mrs. Long may be taken as proof that the traditional hospitality of the home is being continued.

As a child I remember so well of the many family and friends who were always coming and going on the farm. If it was meal time and you were there, you were fed. Mom and Grandma always cooked for hired hands and what meals they prepared. The only time I remember of Mom refusing to feed someone was the time a hired hand came to the table with no shirt on. She immediately told him to dress or there would be no dinner. He put his shirt on and never came to the table that way again. As I went through the old pictures I found evidence of many, many gatherings at the Long Homestead. These pictures taken around 1923 again evidence the joy people found in coming to the Long home.

A TRIBUTE TO AUNT GERTIE

She was a lovely lady, don't you agree,
She was lots of fun, too, don't you see.

She was excellent on the piano,
It was meant to be,
She was extra careful to hit the right key.

She was one who trusted Jesus Christ as Lord,
She was not afraid, with sin to be in discord.
She was one with those who loved her Lord in accord,
She was not one to be idle, or to be bored.

She was a fine cook, if you sat at her table.
She was always fun to be with, when she was able.

She has gone on home,
Where Jesus said, "I prepare",
She would now invite you, "Come meet them there."

TO AUNT MILDRED

There's only one Aunt Mildred.
She's lived a long, long time
For 95 years they tell me,
And still she's doing fine.

She's always cared for others.
Her stories are the best.
As one of 9 LONG children
She's outlived all the rest.

For you they planned a party.
You deserve it. It's just great!!!
Do have a happy birthday.
We'll help you celebrate.

Aunt Mildred

Memories reflect the good times:

When all of our families gathered at Grandpa and Grandma Long's
And Uncle Fred dressed as Santa Claus at Christmas.

Going to see you and Uncle Gail at the Johnson place and especially at the Binkley Home farm.
When Uncle Gail would bring his Massey-Harris combine, Moline tractor and do our wheat for us.

We appreciate the strong sense of character you have in feeling responsible for your friends and neighbors,
That you really went out of your way to help in their time of need by literally moving in and physically taking care of individuals when they could no longer care for themselves.

And thanks for adding Alva Lundy to our family.

You have touched so many lives by your acts of love that you have been a blessing to them and us.

We want to say

"Thank You and Happy Birthday, Aunt Mildred!!

Stories of Aunt Millie's "Growing Up" Years

As told to and remembered by Anita

Aunt Millie was the third born child of Charles and Hattie Long, arriving on November 7, 1904. She was the first of the girls, so ended up "mothering" the whole family and anyone else she could find over the years. The following stories are some of her favorites and were told many times over the years we lived together here on the farm. Over the years the stories would take on new twists, but they were always funny and exciting especially while waiting to see which version we would be hearing this time.

Aunt Millie would run her hands through Hattie's long hair and tell her, "When I was just a little girl like you I had long dark hair. Mamma would sometimes get to go to town and if I had been good, she would bring me a pretty little dish. Mamma knew that I loved pretty dishes and she would pick one out for me that she could buy for a nickel. One time she and Poppa had gone to town and when they came back Poppa had brought me a length of bright red ribbon. Mamma washed my hair and brushed it good and dry then braided it in two long braids. She tied the red ribbons on the ends of my braids and I was so proud. I wore those ribbons on my braids for a long time, but I don't remember what happened to them. You know Hattie, when your Mamma was a little girl like you, I braided her hair too." Jennifer remembers that very well, but Aunt Millie never braided Hattie's hair. She may have forgotten just how to do that, but she loved to run her hands through the long tresses.

Uncle Ray's Preaching Experience

Ray was just a little fella and it was his job every evening to shut in the chickens. One night Mamma told him to go get those chickens shut in because it was getting dark and it was about bed time for them and him.

Now Ray was obedient, as we all were, and he went to the chicken coop up by the barn right away, but he didn't come right back. He was gone quite a while and finally Mamma told me to go up there and see what Ray was doing. I went right away to see what was keeping Ray from coming back to the house like Mamma had told him.

Well, I got up by the coop and I knew Ray was there because I could hear him. He had gone into the coop, but he had shut the door behind him which was strange, so I went up real quiet to see what he was doing. There he stood right in front of the roost where he had all the chickens lined up he had a stick in his hand. He would pace back and forth in front of the chickens waving his stick around, telling them what was what. He would stop, shake the stick at them and say, "Now you listen here you old hens, you just be quiet and don't you say one thing all night." He was giving those old hens what for and then he began to preach to them. Every once in a while one of the hens would raise her head and squawk at him and he would quickly tell her to be quiet and listen to what he was telling them.

I thought it was so funny that I ran quick to get Mamma to come to see what Ray was doing. Mamma said, "What in the world is he doing? He needs to get those chickens shut in and get on to the house, it's about time for bed." But she came to see what was happening right away.

When we got close to the chicken coop I motioned for Mamma to be real quiet. Mamma was well known for her giggles and it wasn't long until she was having a fit of giggles, for she, too, was hearing Ray as he preached to the old hens in the chicken coop. I don't think Ray ever lived down the time he preached to the hens in the chicken coop. Mamma had many good times laughing about the antic of her nine children during their growing up years.

When I was a girl at home Poppa had a butcher shop in LaFayette for a time. Quite often Poppa would take some of us kids along to help him. We would deliver meat and the things people ordered to their houses. We learned to know about everyone who lived in LaFayette and where they lived. I liked best going with Poppa to shut the butcher shop up on Friday night. Usually he rendered lard on Friday and if we had worked good at sweeping up and cleaning everything, he would give us a treat. After the lard was put into cans, Poppa would throw a couple handfuls of popcorn into the kettle and pop it for us. Anyone who was near got in on the treat and we would eat popcorn until we near burst. What fun that was!

As the children were growing up they lived several different places around the Ada and LaFayette area. They finally moved back to the "home place" and finished their growing up there. They all had their chores and various jobs to do around the farm. Some were fun, some were hard and some they just plain didn't like. Aunt Millie relates one "chore" she had the summer she was about 12 that she definitely didn't care much for. The summer had been hot, dry and dusty and most of the jobs seemed to take just a little longer and just a little more effort for everyone. There were always a hired hand or two around the farm, usually some other relatives and of course there was the family to care for, too. That summer they had a hired hand that Aunt Millie really didn't care for because he didn't think her little tricks and jokes were very funny.

It had sure been hot that summer when I was about twelve, I think. It seemed as though everything was just harder because it was so hot. Poppa told me every morning at breakfast that about the middle of the morning I had to take a jug of cold water and a chaw of ole nasty tobaccy back to the back field where the hired hand was working. And then at dinner, he would tell me I had to take another jug of cold water and a chaw of tobacco back to the hired hand about the middle of the afternoon. I wasn't very fond of that hired hand and it made me mad to think he couldn't come to the barn and get his own water. When Poppa said I had to do it, I knew I had to. Well, this had gone on for several days and I was sure getting tired of walking back the lane to the field by the woods.

One afternoon I had just about had enough of walking back the lane through the dust the cows had kicked up. I had the jug of water and the chaw of the nasty ole tobaccy in my apron pocket. I dragged my bare feet through the piles of dust, throwing up small clouds around me. A couple of the younger kids were walking back with me, but they were busy playing and weren't paying any attention to me. I passed by a clump of horse manure and a small little plan began to form in the back of my mind. I kept walking and when I happened upon a pile that was dried and looked a lot like the tobaccy in my pocket I just couldn't resist. Before I could change my mind I reached down and took a pinch between my thumb and finger and stuffed it into the pouch. I stirred it around just a bit, slipped it back into my pocket and seemed to walk with just a bit more spring in my step. We made our delivery and I told the hired man I had to get right back to help Mamma at the house.

We hurried back and before too long we could hear the awfullest hollaring and shouting coming from up by the barn. Poppa happened to be at the house at the time and here came the hired man, hollaring at the top of his voice, waving his hat in the air and stomping fit to be tied. (time for giggles!!) Well, he told Poppa that he had better beat me good for putting horse s-- in his tobaccy!! (better take time for more giggles!!) Poppa tried his best to look really fierce at me and asked sternly, "Did you put anything in the tobaccy?" Of course, I nodded to Poppa that I had. The hired hand was still hollaring and swearing to beat the band, so Poppa told him to go on out and get something cold to drink and rest for awhile, that he would take care of things. Poppa had a twinkle in his eye and told me to go help Mamma, so I got out of there fast. I was sure I would get a whipping later, but it really had been worth a spanking to see the look on that hired hand's face.

Nothing was said until after supper. Poppa called me to him and I thought I was going to get punished for sure. Poppa asked me why I had put that horse manure in the tobaccy. I shrugged and said I didn't know for sure. He asked if I was sorry and I nodded yes. He patted me and said to go on to bed, but not to put anything in the tabaccy anymore. He sure had trouble keeping a straight face, but seeing the twinkle in his eye I knew he thought it was pretty funny, too. Poppa did tell the hired hand he could come up to the house to get a drink when he needed one after that.

When Aunt Millie and Uncle Gale Binkley were married 25 years they had a large celebration at their home over on Bentley Road. Aunt Millie told that they had planned for their celebration on November 10 the whole year. They planted and planned so they could serve food for their celebration that they had raised or grown on their farm. They had turkey, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, sweet corn, pickles, watermelons, ice cream and cake. I'm sure there was much more on the table besides what she remembered, knowing Aunt Millie. She was always so pleased to think they could do that. Uncle Gale died just four years later.

Aunt Millie worked in the Ada Nursing Home and helped care for many, many people there. She could get the patients to eat when they didn't want to, behave when they refused to and comforted those who were in need. She was well loved there. I remember as a child going with Aunt Millie on her rounds to care for different ones in their homes. There was Mrs Montville, Lula, the Runners', Aunt Jose, Ray Smith, Aunt Emma, Toby, Grandpa and of course, Dad. Aunt Millie was well known for her "run". She just didn't seem be able to slow down to a walk.

At ninety seven, she moves pretty slow now, but is still a joy to visit with at the nursing home where she has lived the past three years. God has certainly blessed her with long life and a caring heart for those around her. I know her place in heaven will befit her acts of kindness here on earth and she'll have jewels in her crown!!

MOTHER

Eunice was born in Ohio State,
To Charles and Hattie Long, 1907 was the date.
She was one of a family of nine,
Papa and Momma Long, thought that was fine.

In 1923 she was married, we are glad,
Because Owen Cheney was to be our Dad.
Praise the Lord, she was our dear Mother,
For us children, there could have been no other.

To this union was born a family of ten,
We resided in Ohio 'til 1943, when,
Grandma Long moved to Heaven you see,
Then, Michigan, our residence was to be.

At that time there were only nine,
But in 1949, Jerry added another line.
She worked at Gerber's as an employee,
Where she displayed each and every grandbaby.

Through thick and thin we faced the weather,
But we knew it could not be forever.
One by one they began to pass away,
Now she has joined them in Heaven to stay.

Hearing of her passing has made us sad,
But there is reason to rejoice and be glad;
She had her prayer answered and is with Dad,
To be with Jesus and loved ones, that's not so bad!

Many preceded her in death,
Ere she would draw her last breath.
But on April 19, 1995 she was to see,
Heaven, with Jesus, and loved ones to be!

Eunice, of this Church was a charter member,
Chuck Jones was the Pastor, you remember,
It is fitting her last service here to be,
She loved her Lord and this Church you see.

The lessons she taught us we treasure,
Loving her Lord and others was her pleasure.
God's love flowed forth from her in full measure,
Now it's become our privilege and pleasure.

So, to Mom, Grandmother, Sister we say so long,
Soon we'll join you in Heaven and sing a song.
Jesus went before us to prepare a place,
Where we shall sing forever, "Amazing Grace."

By son, Robert M. Cheney

Eunice Cheney was preceded in death by her husband, Owen Cheney; two sons, Clyde and Charles Cheney; one grandson, Larry Cheney; one son-in-law, Lyle Eitniet; her father and mother, four brothers, Elmer, Fred, Clyde and Glen.

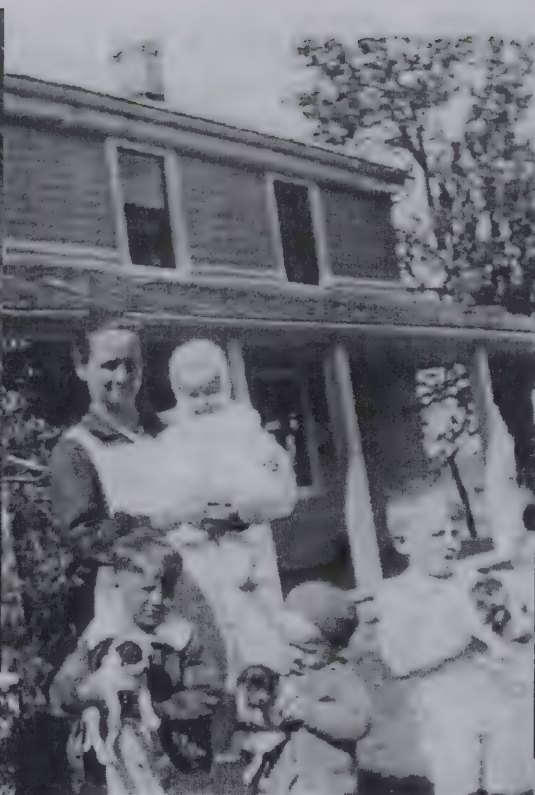

Eunice Cheney has left behind five sons - Dallas of Newstark, Ohio; Joe of Phoenix, Arizona; Max of Blackduck, Minnesota; Harry of Erwin, Tennessee; Jerry of Hot Springs, Arkansas. Also left behind are three daughters - Virginia Jones of Pierson, Michigan; Phyllis Eitniet of Hesperia, Michigan; Theora Self of Abilene, Texas. There are 28 grandchildren; 58 great-grandchildren and 2 great-great-grandchildren. Eunice also left two brothers, Raymond Long and Phillip Long of Ada, Ohio and two sisters, Mildred Shrider of Ada, Ohio and Mary Shumaker of New Pittsburg, Ohio, as well as numerous generations of nieces and nephews.

"OLD AIRMAN NEVER DIE, THEY JUST FLY AWAY"

Clyde was his name, that brother of mine,
He wore a crucut, his character was fine.
After World War II, in the Air Force he did stay,
Who said he died? He just flew away.

Now that 'Ole Sarg," could really be tough,
By the records, he really knew his stuff.
But his loving way, was usually on display,
Who said he died? He just flew away.

Early in service he married Josephine, you see,
Later Jim came along, their family was three.
They lived in many places, seldom long did stay,
Who said he died? He just flew away.

Clyde and Jo always had loving hearts,
Never said no to needy ones from the start.
Loved ones knew Clyde was "A" Okay,
Who said he died? He just flew away.

Now after the service he did retire,
Are you kidding? He was up for hire.
Never one to be idle or relax and play,
Who said he died? He just flew away.

He always loved his Mom and Dad,
Obedience was a badge of honor as a lad.
Taught be the folks to trust and obey,
Who said he died? He just flew away.

Now of suffering, he surely had his share,
But the Lord and his wife gave him loving care.
In September of '93, the Lord said he could no longer stay,
Who said he died? He just flew away to Heaven to stay;

You see Clyde was prepared to fly,
Because he received Christ, in Him he could rely,
Jesus was born, died and arose and is coming one day,
[Trust Him as Clyde did, and you also will just fly away!!

By Robert M. Cheney

Clyde went to be with the Lord on September 2, 1993

CHARLES

Yes, that's his name and quite a name,
Oh, he did not fly as Lindberg to fame,
But to us he was a hero just the same
For telling us stories he was always game.

At the age of 9 he received an awful blow,
The Doctor said, a part of his hip had to go.
Charles was a gritty kid and up to the task
Just don't put me out, was all that he asked.

They gave him his request as he wished to be,
Able to make sure, they'd not take his leg you see,
He recuperated in a home in Lima for four years
For all he endured I never saw him in tears.

He came back home then and finished school,
He couldn't run like the rest, so played it cool
He would direct us while setting on a stool,
He convinced me that he was nobody's fool:

While working in a War factory or plant,
He drove to work and hit a cement abutment.
They shortened his right leg four inches more.
As Charles watched the Doctor care for this chore.

They brought him home in Michigan to die,
But Charles and Mom weren't about to say goodbye:
So Mom nursed him back to health again
His recovery was something wonderful to explain:

You recall Charlie had surgery when about nine,
Well, he trusted Jesus and began doing fine.
That's why he could go through so much more,
Because the Lord never failed him before.

Well Charles trained for a C.P.A. and did great:
Then he and I drove to Ohio for a big date,
Seemed he and Irene Manning could really relate
Soon she moved to the ole Michigan state.

It was a glad day when Kathy came along,
The David blessed Charles with a new song
Becky and Cindy rounded out the crew,
And Charlie and Irene said, "we are through!"

They may have been through but the children not,
Soon, one after another, were born to them, little tots:
Charlie said, "Irene, if we'd known what fun they'd be,
We'd have had them grandchildren first, don't you see!"

Now we've come to another of life's great tests,
But in our Father's great, loving provision we rest.
God has provided salvation, In Christ, all can be blessed,
Believe Him, receive Him and in righteousness be dressed.

For all who receive Christ, the best is yet ahead,
Although bodily laid to rest, they are not dead.
Soon Christ will appear in the clouds with a shout,
Then those gone before and laid in a grave will come out:

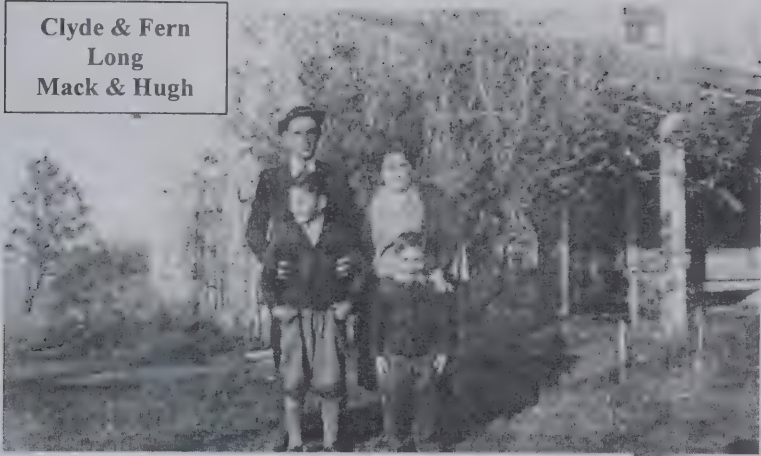

Even so, Come Lord Jesus: Amen:

A TRIBUTE TO RAY LONG

Written by Doyle Long, grandson

Ray, Uncle Ray, Grandpa Ray all of these describe the man we affectionately knew as Ray Long. He was also a son, a brother, a husband, a father, a grandfather, great-grandfather, great, great grandfather, a neighbor and a friend. Many people probably didn't know his first name was Charles, so well known was he by the name Ray.

He entered the world of horse and buggy, manual farm labor and close-knit small communities. He left behind a world radically changed by electricity, the gasoline motor and indoor plumbing. At his birth a trip to town was a full days trip and yet, he witnessed not only men making trips to the moon, but remote control cars on Mars.

My brother Nolan, sister Carma and I had the privilege of growing up and working next to him almost twenty-four hours a day. Some families probably couldn't work together every day, all day, but he made it a lot of fun.

Grandpa Ray had a built-in clock that only he could hear ticking. Morning came right after dark even if it was 5 am. Before we built the milkhouse onto the barn we kept the milkers in the kitchen. The squeaking screen door hinge was my alarm clock to get up; I knew Grandpa was ready to start milking. Breakfast was anytime after the morning milking. Dinner was anytime between breakfast and night milking. Depending on the day and what was going on, dinner could sometimes be right behind breakfast, or if we had lots to do, dinner could be pushed back behind evening milking. We kids didn't like it much when he skipped dinner, but when he had a job going on not much got in the way. Supper was after the evening milking night and bedtime was after supper sometimes in quick order.

It was easy to find him anywhere on the farm by standing still and listening for his quick dry cough or his whistling of the Yellow Rose of Texas. That cough could not only bring you to him on the farm, but it would also silence you when you were fooling around in church. The first two lines of the Yellow Rose of Texas were his favorite song over and over and over. I always wondered if he had known the story of the Yellow Rose of Texas if he would have whistled it like he did.

Work and getting the job done was all important to Grandpa Ray. But the modern day work paled in comparison of the work he knew as a boy and as a young man. While working, he would always tell stories of working with his brothers or the neighbors and at the end of it he would say, "Oh, we had fun that day!" Likewise, at the end of the day hauling manure, cutting wood or baling hay, he would say, "Oh, we had fun today!" At the time, those sentiments didn't carry a lot of weight, but in hindsight I now know he was right.

Grandpa and I baled hay all over this end of Hardin County. If it could be baled, Grandpa would say, "Yes." He drove and I stacked. Stacking hay behind him was a full time job, because you had to watch ahead of the baler for big clumps. When he got to one of those he wouldn't ease in slow he would jam in the clutch, throw you off the front of the wagon and then let out the clutch while you were climbing back up.

On the hottest day in July we went to Delbert Shadley's to bale a field of clover. Their house sat back off the road about a mile and a half and that field disappeared over the rise behind their house. The first bales out of the chute weighed about 200 pounds he yelled back to see if they were heavy enough. I signaled yes; He jammed in the clutch, threw me off the wagon and screwed down the tension to about 240 pounds. By the end of the day the water was running into my socks; my arms were out of their sockets and my spine was jello, from the wagon bouncing over the clover stubble. What did he say at the end of the day?? "Boy, we had fun!"

While baling he liked nothing better than to have all the wagons in the field full and us to be ahead of the four or five in the mow. Then he would heckle the guys about keeping up. If he couldn't keep up, he would open up the tractor and away we would fly.

Grandpa rarely raised his voice he didn't need to. But he had three levels to it. One said "do it" one said "do it now" and the final level said "come here in a hurry." You didn't question him. If he told you to stop and stand still you froze on the spot. But he also had a way of asking you politely to do something that you both knew you were going to do it anyway so you didn't mind.

Probably because no one else would take us, he was the Junior High Sunday School teacher at church. It was mostly boys Gary and Lynn Jackson, Rick and Jerry Dicus, Matt Staley, Bob Zimmer, Phil Long and me. The girls our age opted to assist other classes rather than be in our class. Throughout the week, he would work with almost all of us on one project or another and knew what we had gotten into. At Saturday night milking he would say, "Well, I've got to work on my lesson," and give you that look. At class he was like a runaway freight train He would start off slow and then get rolling. You had to sit there and take it, not knowing where it was going to end up, but knowing all along that you were on the receiving end. At the same time, I think he truly used that time to give us his personal vision and faith.

There are many photographs of Grandpa Ray. One that stands out in my mind is he and Dad holding me, standing in front of a truckload of cattle, in their suits. These were the cattle they donated to the Heifer Project. A companion black and white photograph was of a landscape in Europe enclosed in a thank you letter from the family who received the cattle. My bedroom window looked out onto the cattle dry lot and the woods beyond. As a youngster I tried to envision what it would be like to see German tanks come out of that woods and take our cattle to feed their army. The family who received those cattle were so grateful that they would be farmer and dairymen again. One time I asked Grandpa about donating bred cattle to foreign strangers. He said, "We had them and they needed them, I'd like to think that if they had them and we needed them, that they would do the same." His quiet faith always found a solid outlet.

Grandpa Ray was the gentlest man I have ever known. He could walk out into a pen of cattle even strange cattle and they weren't afraid. They would even come over for a scratch behind the ears. Animals instinctively knew that he was a friend. His chair by the door in the milkhouse would be surrounded by barn cats and as soon as he sat down they would jump up into his lap. He even got along well with his watch dog Bill the meanest goose on the face of the earth.

Grandpa never knew a stranger. He could find something to talk about with anybody. Grandma Donna always kept a box of quilt patches in the glove box of the car in self-defense. He would get to talking and she would quilt. He was a rare person - he truly listened to what you had to say. He also had a vast collection of stories to tell of his life experiences that he never tired of telling. The pumpkin pie story got funnier and funnier through the years.

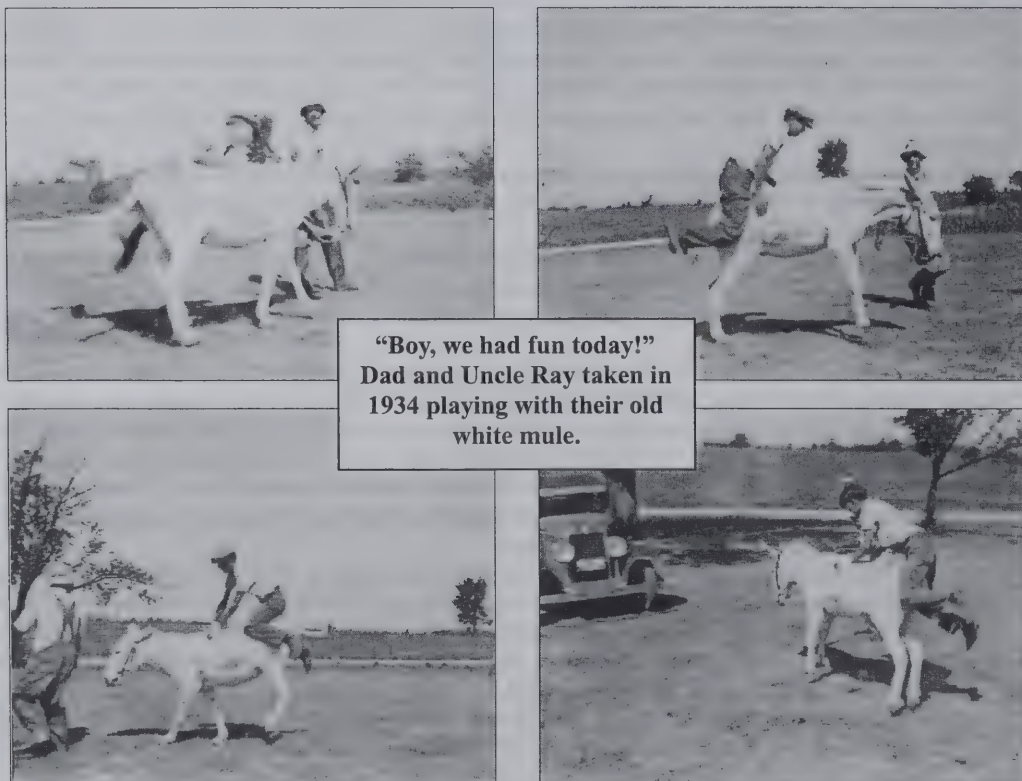

Inn the last years he would ask me, "Did I ever tell you about . . .?" and I would say, "No." I tried to keep track of the changing characters and events while the basic storyline never changed. The stories grew and grew; from building crates in the Arizona lettuce fields - he would end up in later years taking credit for building box cars full of lettuce crates. It was almost believable. He could sink a nail with one whack. I never tired of those stories, but took them as they were and received my enjoyment from the joy it gave him in telling them. Most of the stories were from his childhood - escapades on the farm with his brothers and sisters, or stories about my dad, aunts and uncle when they were kids.

Grandpa had hands that were thick and heavily callused with an iron man's grip. I have often wondered how many pitchforks, buckets of water, hammers, wrenches and small children's hands they have held.

At the end of the day he liked his food, but most of all his ice cream. Checking on his bees in the summer meant a quick trip to the Dairy Queen. Homemade ice cream was his favorite. He would eat two bowls, wait to warm up and then eat another.

When Grandpa was younger, he traveled out west, but was content in later years to travel by National Geographic. He would often come to the barn and say - "I'm going to Africa tonight - or maybe India." In the wintertime he kept a large enamel pan of popcorn by his chair to fortify him on these trips. He liked television - Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom with Marlon Perkins was his favorite, followed by Perry Mason, Ed Sullivan, I Love Lucy, Lawrence Welk, The Beverly Hillbillies, any western and of course - The Wheel of Fortune. I used to tease him about Vanna White until it hit me one day - Vanna looked like a tall Grandma Donna!

Grandpa perfected that dry midwestern humor and the practical joke. He was always thinking up something. Who can forget the cardboard in Ellis Stuart's baloney sandwich? He was always quick to pelt you with a snowball in winter and he always started the wrapping paper fight at Christmas time. Having all his grandkids tearing through the house never seemed to bother him a bit and he always worked around our forts in the haymow. When he smiled his whole face lit up. Grandpa Ray was not a tall man, but he cast a long shadow. I always thought of him as a giant.

"DEAR AUNT MARY"

Blessed are we who call her Aunt Mary,
In her heart our secrets she'd carry,
To visit her was such a delight,
Fun and laughter from dawn till the night!

She could always see the bright side,
You just wanted with her to abide.
Yes, she arranged it, for us to work,
And no one was allowed, duty to shirk!

Earthly treasurers she did not horde,
Sharing with other, just like her Lord.
So quick to see others deepest needs,
Always ready to do some kind deeds.

Early in life she learned things do not satisfy,
A live lived for Jesus will the Father glorify.
At the age of twelve she trusted her Jesus as Lord,
Living for Him, she surely never was bored.

All these years with Aunt Mary we'll treasure,
She sure lived life in its full measure.
If we like her looked to lift ones heavy load,
We'd not be ashamed at the end of life's road.

So, we'll say so long, Aunt Mary, to you,
'Til one day we see you in Heaven anew.
To be forever where there is no night,
See our Heavenly Father and Jesus our Lord,
Oh, what a sight!

Praise the Lord for loving us so much,
That He sent Jesus Christ to die for such,
Sinners as we are, because of Adam's fall,
Jesus will save those who upon Him call!

UNCLE PHILLIP and AUNT RUBY

Uncle Phillip was a very fine, gentle man,
If he gave you his word, it would surely stand.
Together, he and Aunt Ruby were quite a pair,
They were always willing with others to share.

Their love for each other was very plain to see,
It just increased, with each member of the family tree.
Aunt Ruby loved her flowers, and so did he,
Together they were as contented as a couple could be.

I well remember when these two were wed,
Standing in the sun porch and looking across the track,
"Look at all those cars at Uncle Glen's" was all I had said!
Someone bawled me out and wanted to give me a whack!

I reckon I spilled the beans, not knowing what was the matter,
And purty quick Uncle Phillip and Aunt Ruby really did scatter!
Folks came by the car loads to have their fun a yelling,
But 'twas Grandpa and Grandma that got in on the belling!

Uncle Phillip and Aunt Ruby enjoyed family times together,
They worked so hard to make each year a great blessing.
God blessed their efforts with just the right weather,
Homemade ice cream, taters, meats, salads, desserts and dressing!

World series were nothing, compared to those ball games!
It was more exciting than reading about Jesse James!
My how uncles and cousins competed against each other,
Afterwards we'd eat again and tell tall tales, oh brother!

Well, it's different now on the ole Long place,
We are getting older and move at a little slower pace.
Like Uncle Phillip and Aunt Ruby, let's run faithfully life's race,
Then one day we'll see our Savior, Lord Jesus, face to face.

Anita's 50 years I'm told.
Now that is really old!!!
Will someone please check out her hair,
Is there silver with the gold?

Just 50 years ago today,
Was not an average morn
Ruby and Phillip's family changed
A daughter, Anita, was born.

Anita is a LONG, you know.
The mostest folks on earth.
But she took on a longer name,
When she became a Dearth.

When John and Anita married
They asked me flowers to fix.
It was a sweetheart wedding,
In 1966.

The next one in their family,
Was Tim, a boy blue.
Then later on, a precious girl,
As Jennifer made two.

Tim and Elena married
Then two more added to the tree.
When Hattie Melissa came along,
Brought the grandchild list to three.

She knows a lot about the Longs.
Written a book or two.
Enough about her LONG line.
What does Anita do?

She raises flowers, takes care of John.
Busy. Don't be surprised.
As secretary of our church,
Keeps us all organized.

Anita isn't very tall.
But all of us have found.
She makes her mark where 'ere she goes.
She covers lots of ground!

The invitation told us
It should be a surprise.
We don't know if we pulled it off.
Not much escapes her eyes!

The Longs are famous for their age.
They chalk up years galore.
She's gotten up to 50 now.
We hope there's 50 more!

(Alma Long wrote this poem for Anita Dearth's 50th birthday September 8, 1996. Anita is Urban's first cousin.)

Written for the Long Reunion in 1962 to recognize Aunt Emma Klingler, Aunt Oma Pierce and Grandpa Charlie
The last of Tobias Long's children still living

Here we are at our Reunion
Aren't we a happy lot?
To make new friends and greet old ones
Lest 'auld acquaintance be forgot!

History tells us how the Indians
Used to trade here for corn pone,
If they'd come to our Reunion
Think they'd still feel right at home.

Back in eighteen hundred fourteen
Grandpa Tobias Long was born,
And we do not have a record
If 'twas noontime, night or morn.

But of this one thing we're certain
Of Adam and Magdalena Long we'll say;
That they really started something
That's still going on today.

There are children and grandchildren
Great-grandchildren by the score,
For Grandpa Tobias' children
Numbered as even 24.

Of this score and four of children
Only three today remain
And the radiance of their spirit
Seems to always be the same.

To Aunt Emma and Aunt Omi
Grandpa C.N. let us say:
"You're the oldest ones still with us,
And we honor you today."

With these flowers we will say it
That you three have done just fine
To continue what Grandpa started
And helped give us that "Long Line".

Fond Memories

By Isabelle (Kaser) Spencer

Grand daughter of Cyrus Long and daughter of Iva (Long) Kaser

Quite a few years ago, fifty-two, to be exact, I would stay at the Old Homestead with my great aunt Hattie and great uncle Charlie Long. The purpose of my stay was to help with threshing dinners and perhaps other chores. My mother, Iva, would stay also until she became terminally ill.

Early in the morning, I would hear strange noises. Chicken scratching for food, roosters crowing, cows mooing for someone to feed and milk them, dogs running and barking. The bright sunshine would suddenly appear thru my window and then I would smell hot coffee, bacon or ham cooking and soon I knew breakfast would be ready. I hurriedly dressed, made my bed and carefully placed a hand-quilted quilt over the top and hastened down stairs. Aunt Hattie always had a cheery "good morning" and would ask if I had slept well.

Fred was always there ready to tease my mother and I. After a good wholesome breakfast it was wash up dishes, prepare dinner for the many farmers. Pies were already lined on the table on the back porch. I always wondered, in amazement, if Aunt Hattie ever slept. Homemade noodles, chicken frying and all the potato peeling and other items, as well were the many things we did. The men were eager to eat the good food that was prepared for them. After dinner was over, we always had time to rest before fixing the supper.

My mother and I would go home to my grandfathers and say to Grandpa and Grandma what a fine time we had.

Then came reunion time. All our relation would assemble for a great out lay of food prepared with love and expertise. All the cousins, aunts and uncles would arrive from all parts in the U.S.A. I would run and play with some people I had never seen before. The minutes of the year before were always read and then a program would follow. My mother would recite a poem or my Aunt Ruth Riegle (mother's sister) would help her with a skit. Uncle Lester would sometimes help.

I always marveled at the ease in all the preparation for such a large event. In later years, Ruby (Phillip's wife) would ask for an up-date on our families. Finally her wish came true and a lovely history book was presented to each of us for a minimum cost. Her determination and devotion to history and our families will long be remembered. It makes me proud to say I am a descendant of such a large and fine family.

Lovingly,
Isabelle Spencer

Tobias Long was born Nov. 9. 1814 in Westmoreland Co. Pa. He was a son of Adam and Magdalena (Boyer) Long. He came to Hardin Co. in 1835 and built a log cabin just about where the barn now stands. In 1836 he married Sarah Haney. To this union was born 15 children. Mrs. Long died in 1862. In 1863 he formed a second union with Melissa Ann Fisher. To this union were born nine children.

Three children of the 24 are still living. Mrs. Emma Klingler. Mrs Naomi Pierce and Charles Long, all of Ada, O, who is now the owner of the old home place.

Tobias Long died on Dec. 5. 1892 at the age of 78 yrs.

RECORD OF PHILLIP EZRA LONG

Phillip Ezra Long (Dad) was born June 6, 1917, the ninth child of Charles and Hattie Long. Being the youngest of the nine children, he spent much time with Grandma Hattie and always enjoyed helping her. Through pictures we found that Dad liked playing with dolls, puppies and the other kids. In fact, from the time Dad was eleven years old he ran a dog kennel. He raised various breeds and sold many, many puppies over the years. He raised mostly Toy Manchester; Toy Fox Terrier, Dachshund, Collies and even had a Basset Hound at one time. He attended Hostler School until the consolidation of the schools of Liberty Township and graduated in the upper part of his class in 1936 from Ada High School. In the class prophecy, he was to become a junk man. It took a good many years, but Dad did operate a nut and bolt business on the farm for a good number of years. We affectionately called him "Nutty the Bolt Man." He did collect quite a good variety of "junk" over the years that has sure come in handy at times.

On September 11, 1938 Phillip married Ruby Louise Shrider of Allen County, Ohio. She was the daughter of Earl and Olive Dean Shrider and had two brothers, Charles and Donald and one sister, Evelyn. Phillip and Ruby were the parents of four children:

Perry Richard Long	Born July 5, 1939
Joyce Elaine Long	Born August 6, 1941
Anita Louise Long	Born September 8, 1946
Phil Alan Long	Born May 13, 1954

Phillip had taken over much of the responsibility of running the family Homestead by the time of Charles' death in 1968. Phillip had been raised on the Homestead, never having lived anywhere else. After being engaged in the cattle stud service for 19 years, Phillip sold out the business and worked as an artificial technician for Northern Ohio Breeder's Association for another 16 years. During this time, Phillip continued to actively farm the Homestead. Phillip loved animals and over the years raised, rabbits, ferrets, mules, cats, donkeys and horses as well as cattle, hogs, sheep and chickens. He even had peacocks for several years. Now there is just the family dog, several cats, chickens and a small flock of ducks. It was heartbreaking when the last of the cattle were gone and the Long Homestead no longer had those large gentle animals.

The Long Homestead was a working farm the entire time we kids were growing up. Many cows were milked, hogs were raised and there were the many jobs that accompany that type of operation. Corn, soy beans, oats, wheat and hay were also raised to feed the animals and to sell. I remember as a little girl helping to pick up potatoes in the north field. The entire width of the field was planted in several rows of potatoes and everyone helped when it was time to dig them. It was a long way from the barn to the railroad! Gardens were planted in several different places about the farm and it was everyone's job to help plant, weed and harvest the different types of vegetables.

Following Phillip's retirement from NOBA, he became involved in the selling of bolts and hardware items as a sideline business. In the late 1970's as a need for tractor and machinery replacement became evident, Phillip decided to turn over the crop farming to a neighbor, but still made his own hay, straw and raised feeder cattle, a cow, and some chickens for the family's own use.

Phillip and Ruby were blessed with seven grandchildren, whom they enjoyed through the years. Perry and Alma have two children; Patricia, married to David McKay; Anthony and his wife, Nikki has two children, Ceanna and Jonathan. Joyce and Norman Welch have three children, Traci, Thad and Tonya. Traci and her husband, Joel has a daughter, Ruby Kathleen (Katy). Thad and his wife Becky have two children, Toby and Micah. Tonya and her husband, Dan also have two children, Sarah and Shane. Anita and her husband John have two children Timothy and Jennifer. Tim and his wife Elena have two children, Evan and Haley. Jennifer has Hattie Melissa, who is named after Grandma Hattie and Great-Grandma Melissa. Phil didn't contribute!

Mom admitted at one time that it was quite a chore when Joyce and I left our children with her, as three of them were born within a year and four months of each other. She really enjoyed having her grandchildren around her and quite often played in the play house with them or allowed them to add their own stitches to her quilts. It never mattered that the stitches weren't perfect, they were her grandchildren's and that was the important thing. I have thought so many times over the past years of how much Mom would have enjoyed her great-grandchildren.

Two Christmas' before Mom's death she presented each of the grandchildren with a quilt of their very own. She had worked very hard that year to have them all ready. The problem was which one to give to which grandchild. She had in her mind the one she had made for each child, but on Christmas she allowed each one to choose their own. She began with the oldest, Traci, and went down the line. Beginning with Traci, each of the seven picked the exact quilt Mom had made for them. You talk about a Grandma knowing her grandchildren!

Following a battle with cancer, Ruby died on April 9, 1985. Over the many years, Mom held a special place in her heart for the history of the Long family. She spent many, many hours writing letters, visiting relatives and cemeteries, looking through records, making phone calls and collecting as much information and family history as was possible. Two books were put together over the years and at the time of her death she was "collecting" for another. I always thought it a little "odd" that Mom liked to "cruise" the cemeteries, but you know, in the past few years, John and I have become quite fond of doing that on a quiet Sunday afternoon or cool summer evening.

After Mom's death, Dad's sister Mildred (Aunt Millie) moved in with him to keep house and to give him company. Dad continued to operate his bolt business until such time as his failing health prevented that. He continued to maintain the Homestead and did his "chores" of feeding the cats and whatever else he wanted to do around the farm.

In November of 1993 John and I along with our daughter Jennifer moved to the Homestead. We built a house straight in from the driveway, between the old house and Dad's house. We helped Dad to maintain the yards, buildings and of course, the cats. We added more lawn to mow and many more flowerbeds to look after, but hope that it helped to make the Homestead a little prettier. John has had a flock of chickens each year since we've been here and for the past two years we've had a small flock of ducks.

In August of 1998 it became apparent that we could no longer meet Dad's medical needs from Parkinson's here on the farm any longer and he became a resident of the Richland Manor Nursing Home located near Beaverdam. Two weeks later Aunt Millie went to the Home to help care for Dad and that helped both of them to be much happier. Dad lost his battle with Parkinson's on March 28, 1999.

In the spring of 1999 it was decided that Dan and Tonya Kahley, my sister Joyce's youngest daughter, would open the Old House Antique store in the old log house. All of the family treasures have been stored and none have or will be sold. They have had a good business and it is good to have life return to the old house once again.

Since Dad's house had stood empty for almost a year, it was decided that it too should have new life. After some redecorating and fixing up, our daughter, Jennifer and her little girl, Hattie Melissa moved in September of 1999. How good it was to see lights there again.

There were many changes in our lives in 1999. I retired from my position as church secretary in November after being there for 23 years. It was certainly different being at home all day long. It wasn't too long after that until Hattie's babysitter "retired", too. I have been able to care for her during that time and this fall, began putting her on the school bus at noon for Kindergarten. What a blessing it has been for all of us!! I also operate "From Anita's Kitchen", a State licensed, home bakery business from our home. We set up our table at the local Farmer's Market in Ada each Saturday morning from May through October, with homemade bread, noodles, cinnamon rolls, cookies, coffee cakes, pies and Grandma Long's apple dumplings. What fun it is to talk with the people and see them enjoy purchasing good homemade foods. I usually make about eighteen pounds of noodles each week from our duck eggs. They have been sent to Indiana, Florida, Tennessee, Michigan, California and all over Ohio. It is a very rewarding occupation for now, but I tell John that when he retires I'm going to look for a "real" job. By then I'll be so used to being home, I probably won't want to do that.

We continue to do our best to keep up the Homestead and to make all the descendants proud to call it their "home" place. In 2000 John and I gave the barn and sheds an uplift with new red paint and white trim. It was a big job, but once we started we had to keep on, as it was making such a difference! We mow, trim and weed most of the summer and think it will never end, but by February are wishing we could get back at it once again. John began building another house on the farm in 2000. He decided that the kids needed a playhouse, so behind our house there is another "home" on the Long Homestead.

This past summer (2001) we began mowing the "lane" to the woods, just to keep the weeds down and make the place look better. This was usually my job, using Dad's old Wheelhorse mower and spending an hour or more riding slowly looking either toward the woods or the buildings. So many times while mowing my mind would turn towards Great Grandpa Tobias, thinking of the time he spent working so hard on this piece of ground. He had to fell trees to build their homes, barns, and sheds as well as to have fuel to burn and to make their furniture. He didn't ride on his behind when he did most of the farm work nor did he have the luxury of mowing grass just to make things look "pretty". The hard work that he, his wives, children and hired hands put into this farm, just to survive is almost beyond our thoughts. As I grew from a small child to an adult, I saw many jobs on the farm change and the work become easier to accomplish, but they didn't have that happen back in the early 1800's as quickly as we did. Of course, there were changes over the years, but not to the extent that even Grandpa Charlie saw in his lifetime. I thought one evening about how many times Grandpa walked over the same ground that I was riding on. I thought of the times he looked back over his buildings and thought how blessed he was to have accomplished all he had. I thought of how I hoped he would be pleased at all we have accomplished and how pretty the barn, sheds, houses, yards and flowers looked in the twilight sky and gentle warm summer breezes. It was as though he walked along beside me sometimes during those times, as my mind wondered back to those times of so long ago. I like to think that Great Grandpa is pleased with all we, his family, have done with his little piece of "heaven" here in north central Ohio that he found in 1832. Dad used to say that he sure was glad that Grandpa got tired of "looking" when he came across this spot, right here in Liberty Township, Hardin County, Ohio. I certainly agree with you, Dad!!

Of course, I have spent much of my wintertime working on the Family History book, which you are now enjoying. It has been a long time coming, but an act of love for those who have gone before and for all those who will come after. I hope you all enjoy reading it as much as I have loved doing it. BUT!! There's another book in process. I am working on a Cookbook now. If you have a favorite family recipe, be sure to send it along and I'll include as many as I can. I have added many stories and remembrances along with the recipes, so add your stories, too. I am adding a section of "old" recipes and they are a real "hoot"!! I'm sure this will be a book you'll like, too. Hopefully it won't take ten years to do this one!!

Please feel free to come to the Tobias Long Homestead to visit any time you are near. We love to see our family and friends and enjoy very much showing off the Homestead.

Probably somewhere about 1991-93 Dad wrote the following memories he had of his family and their history. What a joy it was to come across the tablet he had used to write on. It was written prior to his failing health from the Parkinson's he suffered from in later years. I was married and had children before Dad told me one time that he never wanted to farm. I was very shocked and asked him just what he would have liked to do. He said he really would have liked to have become a Math teacher. Dad was very good at many things and I certainly could have seen him as an excellent teacher. Maybe that is why both his sons decided to become teachers.

My Grandfather Tobias Long, a native of Westmoreland County Penn. Came to this area in 1830. After another return trip, he built a log cabin and purchased this land for $1.25 an acre. On Dec. 13, 1836 he was married to Sara Haney. Shortly after they rode horse back from Holmes County in eastern Ohio to their new home in Hardin County. Then begun the work of clearing the ground. There were not many people in Liberty Township. Grandpa was elected constable in the township and only 17 votes were cast in the whole township.

When they finally got their cabin built he had one silver dollar left and he gave that to a neighbor to dig a well 12 feet deep.

As their family kept increasing the first cabin got too small so in 1845 a large 4-room log house was built. They sure did not have to skimp on lumber and the house is still standing and is still being used.

Tobias was no different from a good many present day farmers in having outside jobs. He was a surveyor's helper. We still have a piece of his surveyors chain. He helped lay out the streets of Ada, then known as Johnstown. Also he helped build many of the first homes in the town. Having a large family of his own, he made their leather shoes and boots as well as shoes and boots for neighboring families.

A large orchard surrounded the buildings. I remember when the last apple tree and the last pear tree was destroyed. Last summer I had to have a large ash tree cut that had been planted by an uncle better than a 100 years ago. All the trees around the present buildings were set out by me and my two sons.

Grandfather also had built a large bank barn between the old log house and the railroad. It was later destroyed by lightning and he rebuilt on the same location as our present barn.

Getting back to the family, Grandfather and the first grandmother had fifteen children. Eleven of the children lived to maturity and had families of their own. Sarah, the mother of this large family, passed away in 1862 at the age of 46.

Grandpa remarried in 1863 to Melissa Fisher. So my Grandmother had a ready made family to begin with and gave birth to nine more, making my father, Charles Long the youngest of 24 children of Tobias Long. Grandmother also was foster mother to many other relative children and several not close related. She never turned away from feeding or caring for those in need. Eight of this second set of children grew to maturity and had families of their own.

It was always a thrill to listen to my old aunts and uncles tell how the Indians would come to the old house to get corn meal and buttermilk. They would trade venison. Most of these Indians came by as they were going back and forth from around the Upper Sandusky area to their reservation further west. If there were only a couple of them, our grandparents would let them sleep near the fireplace in the old house. So the story goes, the Indians would lay on the floor with their heads next to the fireplace. That way, as out in the open, no one would sneak up on them without their knowing it. Many Indian arrowheads used to be found near our Indian camp ground on this farm.

Getting back to stories of the immediate family. John, the oldest child served as a Captain in the Civil War. My father, Charles, youngest of the 24 was the only one of the second set of children to ever get to see and visit Uncle John. He was 67 and Dad was 21. After the Civil War was over Uncle John went west and never returned to Ohio; he settled in Colorado and became a railroad engineer in the mountains.

Jacob served as a Bugler in the Civil War and Tobias Jr. was a private in the Civil War.

Seven of the eleven first children went west, several to Kansas.

Dad was quite a writer in school. I have a story he wrote in September 1932. He received an M, although I don't know how their grading system worked.

A Long Evening at Home Alone Noises

When I was informed that I would be the only occupant of the house for an evening I tingled with excitement. Now for that forbidden book "Tarzan of the Apes"!

About an hour later, as Tarzan was creeping stealthily through the jungle, I was suddenly jerked out of my drama by a "Bang! Bang! Bang!" on the screen door.

"I shivered in my boots!" Time passed. Seconds, hours long, dragged by. A fumbling on the back door latch brought me instantly from my stupor.

I hesitated, drew a deep breath and blew out the light. Came my sly approach to the kitchen closet. Then with shotgun in hand I took up my guard behind that fateful door. In about fifteen hours, in reality about fifteen minutes a faint step sounded on the walk. My unstrung nerves contracted. The door opened. With more of a cry of agony than a war whoop I leveled my gun. A frightful scream arose and a small shadow fled into the garage. An instant later the focus of a flashlight showed my shaking figure.

"What's comin' off here, son?" called an anxious voice.

"I, I don't know!"

"Well, put that gun down and let us come in."

You cannot begin to realize my astonishment as mother and dad came out into the moonlight. After being reassured that they had just arrived and gathering control of myself, I briefly told the whole situation. Afterwards as you might expect "Tarzan of the Apes" was read in broad daylight.

Our Picture Boy September 16, 1932

"Do you suppose that that boy will let us take his picture?" inquired father of the filling station man.

"Sure he will. Here, boy, would you mind letting this gentleman take your picture?" A Negro boy rode over to us on a very dilapidated looking bay mule.

"I sho will, Mista. Yo all wants me ter git off?" came the willing reply; now all Negroes feel very proud and dignified to get their pictures taken.

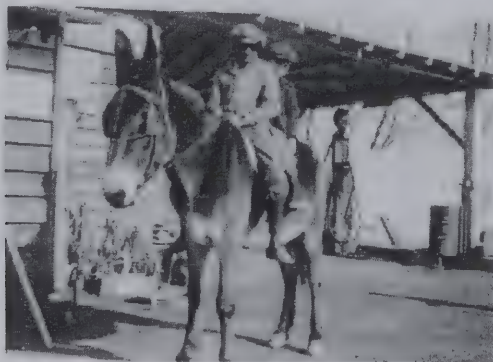

"I guess not," said father as he started to swing me up on the walking skeleton.

"Wait! Wait! Ah don' know if he'll wide dooble. He mot stought buckin'; mebbe yo betta hole him!", cried the now excited darky.

After taking the picture with no reaction from the mule to being "wided dooble" father gave the boy a dime. With many thanks and smirks the darky and his mount jogged onward towards Memphis.

Upon our departure we met the returning knight. With his cheeks full of candy or what not and with a familiar grin, which reached from ear to ear, we again took leave of our "picture boy".

I remember both Dad and Grandpa telling this story over and over. Grandpa would mimic the boy's words, laugh, slap his knee and tell the story again. I never felt that Grandpa or Dad was belittling the little boy, just telling a happening along the road as they headed to the west. In fact, we have the picture copied below that Grandpa took of Dad and the boy just outside of Memphis, Tennessee. Over the years they made several trips west and always had many stories to tell of their experiences.

"Also Guilty"
September 16, 1932

While butchering at a certain place, quite a comical instance occurred. It was the day before squirrel law was in and Dad remarked that he sure would like a mess of squirrel.

Then Johnny says, "Boy, I had a good mess last Saturday."

"A good mess of what?" exclaimed his father.

"Why of squirrel, what do you suppose?"

"It surely wasn't squirrel 'cause the law wasn't in last Saturday!"

"Say, you don't need to act so doggone innocent because you ate some of it too!"

Boy Rescues Child at Cost of Own Life
September 22, 1932

Upon seeing a small child in the path of a runaway team, Rex Brown came upon the scene just in time to toss the baby aside. Unfortunately Rex was knocked to the pavement. He was rushed to a hospital but later died of a fractured skull.

The rescuer, Rex Brown, heedless of his own danger bounded in front of Ray Clark's runaway team and tossed small Margy Helen Runser into the ditch where she received slight injuries. It was impossible for Rex to escape the churning hoofs of the runaways. With a smothered cry he went down just as an auto came around the corner. The brave lad was instantly rushed to the St. Mary's hospital. After fruitless attempts at saving his life he passed away an hour later with a fractured skull and several internal injuries.

Rex, age fifteen years and seven days, is survived by mourning parents Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brown, three miles north of Denver. Funeral services will be announced later.

These last two stories received A+ from the English teacher.

I don't know if anyone wrote about this picture of Ray Long (leading) and Phillip Long (jumping) and this ornery old white mule. Dad always talked about how much fun they had with him.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP LONG

40th anniversary observed

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Long of Rt. 1, Ada, are observing their 40th wedding anniversary. They were married Sept. 11, 1938 at the Desenberg Lutheran Church, Lafayette.

In honor of the occasion an Open House will be held at the Long's home, hosted by their children, on Sunday, Sept. 10 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Long's parents are Mrs. Olive Shrider of Harrod and the late Earl Shrider. Long's parents are the late Charles and Hattie Long. His step-mother Mrs. Lucy Long, resides at 553 E. Lincoln St., Ada. The Longs have four children: Perry, Sidney; Mrs. Norman (Joyce) Welch, Mrs. John (Anita) Dearth, Ada; and Phil, Celina. There are seven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Long have lived their 40 years of married life on the Long homestead west of Ada. Mrs. Long is a homemaker and is active in church work. Long is a farmer and has been employed by N.O.B.A. Both attend the County Line Church of the Brethren.

Pioneer Days dedicated to the late Ruby Long

The 1985 Pioneer Days will be dedicated to the late Ruby Long, a long-time worker and supporter of the craft festival. Mrs. Long demonstrated quilting at the festival for many years. She was always willing to share her knowledge of quilting with anyone who would stop by and visit. The Hardin County Historical Society takes pride in dedicating the 1985 Craft Days in her memory.

Mrs. Ruby (Shrider) Long was born Sept. 11, 1917 to Earl and Olive Shrider, near Lafayette. She and two brothers and a sister were raised on the family farm. Her mother and a brother, Donald reside in Harrod. A sister, Evelyn Epley lives near Ada. Ruby's father and a brother, Charles, are deceased.

On Sept. 11, 1938, Ruby married Phillip Long and four children were born to them: Perry of Sidney, Mrs. Norman (Joyce) Welch of Ada, Mrs. John (Anita) Dearth of Ada, and Phil of Celina. There are three grandsons and four granddaughters.

Mrs. Long has pieced and quilted many items for family and friends over the years. At the time of her death in April 1965, she had completed the fifth quilt for the 1984-85 year.

Mitzie was too interested in seeing what all was happening and wouldn't stay with Anita, so Joyce had to walk along and carry her. Paul Sousley is standing behind the girls.

For several years when the weather was at all cooperative, our favorite past time was hooking every kind of wagon or trailer possible to the back of the garden tractor and driving up and down the driveway. We didn't drive in the yards, just the lane. There were times we would have five or six things trailing along behind. When Perry was home he always drove, but my turn came and I loved it!! The tractor and original trailer are still here on the farm. One day maybe we'll hook up again and take another ride. On this trip Tina, Winnie and Phil Long were the passengers and of course, I was the driver.

"If we don't have it, you don't need it"

By Thad Welch

Having a hobby or outside work is common for many farmers but few have a sideline that is enjoyable and profitable while providing a service for the community. But my grandfather, a local farmer, has managed to do just that.

Phillip Long, 69, began farming on the family farm with his father, Charles N. Long, in the 1930s. Besides farming, his family owned and operated a purebred bull operation. They hauled bulls to farms for a small fee, which was usually for $1 or $1.50, depending on the size of the bull, to breed farmers' cows. This arrangement was the flesh-and-blood precursor of modern artificial insemination. After hauling bulls for 19 years and discovering the popularity and convenience of A.I., Grandpa Long began working as an inseminator for Northern Ohio Breeders Association (NOBA).

Covering various counties and seeing many farmers daily, Grandpa developed the idea for his enjoyable sideline. He decided to offer something cheaply to the farmers that they had a use for and that he could easily haul in the back of his empty pickup truck. He decided to sell bolts, nuts, and washers that he could purchase by the ton from a Cleveland dealer who had surplus stock. In turn, Long then could offer the stock to farmers, selling it by the pound rather than by the piece, at a substantial savings to the farmer.

Each night Grandpa would load his pickup truck with between 700 and 800 pounds of hardware to take along with him on his rounds the next day.

Grandpa remarked, "Often I would drive onto a farm with not a person in sight. When I would return to the pickup after inseminating the cow, I would find the farmer in the back of the truck going through the hardware."

After 40 years of being on the road, 19 years of hauling bulls and 21 years of working with NOBA, Grandpa decided to retire and base his business, Phil's Farmer Specialties, on his farm. Starting with his own workshop and adding a converted chicken coop and still later a dog kennel, Grandpa expanded his inventory to include: pulleys; axe, shovel, pitchfork and hammer handles; brass fittings; angle iron for small repairs, and dozens of other hard-to-find items. A sign hanging in the shop says it all: "If we don't have it, you don't need it." Grandpa added a correction which says: "May have it, if I can find it!"

Grandpa continues to sell his stock by the pound, to simplify pricing, and to entice buyers. This marketing strategy has proved very successful. He has had buyers from all over the United States—Florida, West Virginia, and even Alaska! Locally, buyers come from distances up to 50 miles away. "The satisfying part," Long said, "is when a guy from a factory comes to get a hard-to-find piece that has the factory shut down and I've got what he needs."

Long retired from farming 10 years ago and now concentrates most of his time on running his bolt business. Besides personally waiting on each customer that visits his shop, Grandpa is constantly busy contacting suppliers and getting in new stock. The shop is open 8-5 Tuesday through Friday and evenings when he is home.

HISTORY OF THE TOBIAS LONG LOG HOUSES AND OTHER HOMESTEAD HOUSES

The original homestead house built by Tobias Long in 1836 was a small two-room log cabin located near the west end of the present Shop building in the yard before you reach Dad's house. It was built from logs that Tobias cut on the homestead.

In 1845 Tobias along with his neighbors built a two-story four-room log house from logs cut and milled on the Homestead. At each end of the house was a large fireplace to provide warmth and to cook over. The fireplaces were later closed in and replaced by stoves.

The house had a front porch added that ran across the entire front of the lower level. For many years it was an open porch, but in later years was enclosed with many windows. A two-level porch was added to the back of the house. However the center of the lower level was left open while the remainder was enclosed. The upper level contained a number of windows for ventilation and has long been referred to as the "sleeping porch". Later the center of the lower level was also enclosed. A small downstairs bedroom was placed at one end, a storage-laundry room made up the middle section and a full bathroom was placed at the other end.

The main part of the house was constructed of logs cut on the farm. The logs used were black walnut, oak, and other hardwoods making a very sturdy home. Later Tobias had logs sawed into siding boards to place over the logs making the walls 14 to 16 inches thick. The interior logs of the downstairs ceilings were encased with boards and painted to help keep them cleaner. Several years ago Phillip removed the encasement from the living room ceiling logs, and then coated them with a plastic-like material so they can be seen. The large floor logs can be seen by going into the basement under the kitchen. In 1991 Phillip cut a large portion out of the wall covering in the front porch to expose the logs of the house. Plexiglas covers this so the younger family members can see how the "old house" was made. Many of the tools used to construct the house are also displayed. As electricity became available in the area, it was added to the house.

In the late 1940's the front porch was enclosed and a concrete floor was poured to replace the deteriorating wooden floor. Also, white asbestos shingles were placed over the outside walls, again adding to their over-all thickness. A bathroom has also been added to the second floor to help "modernize" the "old house" and to make it more comfortable. The kitchen also has an electric cooking stove as well as a working wood burning cook stove. In 1984 the two main chimneys were replaced with new brick ones, since the original chimneys were no longer safe to use. In the living room a brick mantel and stone hearth were added, along with a cast iron stove to make the room look more original and for heating the house.

Many of the furnishings of the "old house" are original or at least of the early period of the house. In most of the rooms, tools, dishes and other utensils are displayed for everyone's enjoyment. Many of the windows are original with their wavy lines, distorted views, and other imperfections. Many of the door and window casings are original and quite crooked. It seems that Grandpa Tobias and his neighbors had not been introduced to the "level" as of yet! The stairway is original to the house and although carpeted, you can feel the wear of the boards as you mount them.

In the mid 1950's a garage was built onto the east end of the "old house" to be used for wood storage for the stoves, housing the family car, making an indoor opening to the basement and added extra storage since it was two-storied.

As you can tell the previous part of this story was written a few years ago. The "old house" now houses the "Old House Antique" shop, being run by Dan & Tonya Kahley, great granddaughter of Tobias's youngest son, Charles. Once again the "old house" has life in it and they have it arranged beautifully. The Long keepsakes are all stored and have not nor will be sold in the store. Without extensive renovation the "old house" is no longer suitable for family living, but having the antique shop has worked out beautifully. The house has life once again and people can see this piece of history of Hardin County, Ohio.

Another almost original structure to the Homestead is the "Spring House" located directly behind the main house. The springhouse served as a place to keep vegetables, fruits, milk and cream fresh and cool before the time of refrigerators. Along the inside west wall is a concrete tank to hold cold water to keep milk and cream cans cool. On the back porch of the "old house" was a milk separator to separate the cream from the milk, then it was placed in the spring house until it was used or taken to market. There were also hooks in the springhouse where hams, bacon and other meats were hung after being smoked and cured.

The walls and ceiling of the "spring house" were poured concrete and they are several inches thick. About half of the building is underground, which also helped to keep it cool. For a number of years there was a tick layer of morning glories growing over the springhouse, which added to protecting it from the sun. The "spring House", too, now has other uses and makes a wonderful place to store all the yard and flowerbed ornaments during the winter. New windows and several coats of paint have been added to the building in the past few years. For some reason the springhouse seemed to like the morning glories better than paint, as it "sheds" paint almost as quickly as it is applied.

You can still find the "little house" behind the big house on the property, but it isn't original, although the "spot" is pretty much original to that of Great-Grandpa's day. Aunt Millie shares that the "little house" always faced north to south when she was "using" it. I remember as a little girl, it was a two "high-holer" and a one "lower-holer". The old Sears & Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogs were always fun to look at while the "little house" was in use, but boy, were they harsh to use!!

Another of the by-gone buildings that many might remember was the old wood house and garage that stood between the old house and our house. There were many uses for that building that you might not be aware of. Grandpa Charlie and Grandma Hattie set up house keeping around 1905-1906 in that small "house" just south of the old house. This building had two rooms downstairs, one upstairs, and a lean-to built on the south side. It was about the size of many early log cabins and provided a limited amount of space for Grandpa and Grandma's growing family. Aunt Eunice and Uncle Clyde were born in this building in 1906 and 1907 respectively. You might remember that Uncle Elmer, Uncle Toby and Aunt Millie were already a part of the family before the two new arrivals!! Later this building became a chicken house, so Aunt Eunice always reminded everyone that she had to be born in the chicken house!!

After serving as a chicken coop, part of the building was set aside for wood and coal storage for the old house. Grandpa Charlie also cut hair in part of the building, cutting not only his own boy's hair, but also that of the neighbor boys. Grandpa told of one little boy who was very quiet and would not talk any more than he just had to. Grandpa, knowing that the little boy's folks wanted his hair cut short for summer, cut one streak down the middle and one across his head, then asked the little boy if it was okay. The little boy replied, "Yep" and went home; later Grandpa got him back to finish the haircut.

Still later the south side of the little building became a garage for Grandpa's car. Along the side was a workbench for light repair jobs. Around the mid-1950's, after serving the Homestead well, the garage-wood house was in such bad shape that it was torn down and an attached garage was built on the east side of the old house. The old wood house-garage could not be replaced as a favorite for playing anti-over, one-man volleyball, hide and seek, and the many other games we kids used to like to play in an afternoon, evening or Sunday afternoon when the cousins came.

In the Amish culture when a son stayed on the family farm and built his own house, it was known as the "weaning house". Our house (Phillip and Ruby's) was the "weaning house" of the Long Homestead. Mom and Dad built the house in 1938 by buying two double tourist cabins, setting them about twelve feet apart, then roofing over the top and closing in the ends. Do you suppose this was one of the first "pre-fab" or manufactured houses? This house cost them about $800 to build, but it has provided quite an adequate housing for the family to grow up in.

At first the house had a front porch, but it was later enclosed and became a part of the living room. Around 1950 when Perry, Joyce and Anita were at the ages of needing separate rooms, the folks added a bedroom to the east side of the house. Perry used the one upstairs room as his bedroom while Joyce and Anita shared the west downstairs bedroom. After Phil came along and Perry left home those bedrooms were traded around like baseball cards for the years before Joyce and Anita left home to make homes of their own. About this same time, the "path" was replaced with an indoor bathroom, so we no longer had to have our "Saturday Night" bath in front of the heating stove. The back porch was enclosed also to provide more warmth in the winter, a place to store wood and coal over night, a place for the deep freeze, and also a place for those dirty farm boots and shoes.

Many fond memories are held within those old tourist cabin walls that were "home" to our family of four children. As time passed more memories were made as Perry, Joyce and Anita brought home their mates and then their children and now, grandchildren. Memories such as the cold winter mornings when you either dressed under the covers or made a mad dash for the living room heating stove, to dress beside it; the Christmas mornings when it seemed as though Dad was milking each cow at least three times!!; the Saturday mornings when Mom baked a couple of different kinds of cookies, pies and if we were lucky, a sunshine cake and a chocolate angelfood cake, too; the warm summer Mondays when we washed in the wringer type washer and hung the clothes on the clothesline; the early spring days when we would carry furniture outside and "clean house" ; the times when it was time to "dress" chickens; the Sunday evenings when popcorn was our supper; the later Christmas's when we tried to see how many jokes we could play on Mom; the times when each of the grandkids were born and we would gather together as one big family; the holidays and special times that were spent together, just because we wanted to be to. Many, many more memories run through our minds, but we'll share more of those a little later.

As with the "Old House" times have changed for our house, too. Following Mom's death in 1985, Aunt Millie moved from the old house to live with Dad and to care for the house as well as him. They lived together very well for many years with Aunt Millie becoming a very important part of our family. She never tried to take Mom's place, but provided that "grandma" for the grandchildren and great grandchildren as they came along and gave us kids the "mother figure" we still needed and appreciated. As Dad's health deteriorated it became necessary for him to have more health care than we could provide, so in August of 1998 Dad and Aunt Millie moved to Richland Manor nursing home, near Beavertown, Ohio. Following his death March 28, 1999 it was decided that we couldn't let the house sit empty any longer, so our daughter, Jennifer and her little girl, Hattie Melissa, moved across the yard and took up residence. Even though we have redecorated and made several inside changes, it is still Dad's house in my mind, but it, too, now has life once again and is making many new memories.

Early in the spring of 1993 Dad spoke to me one day about John and I moving to the farm. Due to his deteriorating health with Parkinson's, he knew he couldn't keep up with the work much longer. I told him I would have to give it some thought, which I did for several weeks. Finally I spoke to John about it and then we went on to Perry, Joyce and Phil. After several family meetings it was decided that we would move and build a house on the farm. Due to Dad's health, we knew we needed to be close to them or we might as well stay in town, so we looked and looked for the right spot to put the house. We finally decided to place it directly behind the Shop facing toward the road. There were a couple of problems that had to be dealt with though. Dad said he really didn't want me to have to live in that spot. After much questioning, he finally admitted that the problem was he didn't want me to have to live in the hog pen. I laughed and told him that I never remembered there being many hogs on the place and I certainly didn't remember them in that spot. Perry had a few hogs when he was in Vo-Ag, but they were always out by the barn and John had a few hogs here over the years, but they, too, were south of the barn. I did have to admit I remembered the spot being a dog run, a chicken yard and a garden over the years, but none of those bothered me. That brought us to the other problem the "little house" sat right in front of where our front door would be. Dad thought it would make a good conversation piece, but I didn't think so. He thought we could make an entrance through, but that didn't fly either, so he and John decided they had better just tear it down. As they were working on it, Dad even suggested that they could save the seats and I could hang them on the wall for decoration. Darn, they broke when they tried to remove them!! It was kind of sad to see the place without the "little house" because it had stood there as long as I could remember. Once we got those problems worked out everything else went forward.

In the fall of 1993 they moved in and began digging for the crawl space and septic system. I thought, "Oh, my what have we done. Will the place ever look right again!!" Jennifer and I went to Germany to meet our new Granddaughter, Haley during October and when we got back, we had three weeks to get out of our house in Ada. Our house wasn't even here yet!! So, towards the end of November we moved ten rooms of "stuff" into the already full, old house. They brought our house in two big pieces and set one by the north side of the barn and the other in front of the barn. The next Sunday at church, Lester Klingler said he was sure sorry to see that John and I were separated and hoped we could soon be back together. It was such a treat to be able to finally live in the old house and to spend Christmas there once again. It turned out to be a cold, snowy January and after finding a couple inches of snow on the inside of the window sills upstairs where John and I were sleeping, we were glad to move into our new, modern, propane heated home on January 15 1994. We had mud and fine stones to deal with until spring, but very soon there were sidewalks, grass and many flowers surrounding another house on the Long Homestead. I knew when our farmer told me one day that he was thinking about our place one day as he farmed the field behind us and he had come to a decision. He said that he thought our house would really look odd where we put it, but as he looked at it that day, he had to think hard about how it had been before because it looked as if the house had been there forever. I knew we had accomplished what we had tried to!! We had made it all look like "home" and well put together.

It's lonely here without Grandpa, Grandma Lucy, Toby, Mom, Dad and Aunt Millie, but just as they did; we must go on and make our own memories and memories for all of those who will come after us to be a part of the Long Family Homestead. I'm sure when Great Grandpa Tobias was laboring so hard over this land, he never gave it a thought that four, five and six generations beyond him would be reaping the benefits of his hard work and love for his Hardin County, Ohio Homestead.

As I mowed the lane leading to the woods during the summer of 2001, I thought so many times of all those who had walked that part of the farm over the years. I can't begin to count the times as a young girl, I walked from the farm buildings to the woods to water the cattle, hunt mushrooms, walk in the woods, or just to spend time alone in that precious spot. I do know that up until these past few years that part of the farm had never been mowed, just to make it look pretty. The lane was the modern to get from one end of the farm to the other. It was the way to get the cattle to the woods without them getting into the crops. It was the way to get farm equipment from one field to another. It was just a necessary part of the farm. The past couple of years the fences have all been taken out and we have begun to mow, just because it looks so pretty. (I remind our farmer quite often that he needs to drive straight when he is taking machinery in and out, because it makes my mowing look better!!) As I said, I have felt Grandpa's presence so many times as I think back over the years he tramped over these same spots and worked so very hard to etch out our heritage. He couldn't have in his farthest dreams ever thought that his great granddaughter would be riding on a "machine" just to cut good grazing grass. I have to comfort myself with thinking of how pleased he would be to see how his hard work has ended up here in the years of 2000. It is a warm, humbling thought to realize that we still can walk and enjoy what he and so many others fought, bled and strived for.

History of the Tobias Long Homestead Buildings

The Homestead barn in the midst of being painted in 2000
Boy! It needed it bad!!!

HISTORY OF THE LONG HOMESTEAD BUILDINGS

The Long Homestead has had three barns in its history. The original barn was located north of the "old house" toward the Pennsylvania Railroad. This barn was destroyed by fire from lightening around 1890, while Grandpa Charlie was still a boy. He said that it was a very, very stormy night and that he was scared, so he went to his mother's bed and crawled in. While watching the storm, a bolt of lightening hit the peak of the barn near the middle, instantly a sheet of flames spread to both ends of the barn, destroying it. Farming the field where the barn stood still brings up rock from the foundation.

The second barn was located just west of the present barn, positioned north and south. This was a large gable roofed barn with a haymow, livestock pens, and an attached straw shed. In the summer of 1928 Grandpa Charlie and his son, Fred brought home a load of straw, and due to rain pulled into the barn where, during the night, straw got against the manifold and caught fire destroying the barn.

The present barn, built just behind the second barn facing east and west, was built in 1930 during the height of the Depression when labor was plentiful; therefore many neighbors helped to raise the barn. The frame of the barn was put together on the ground, then "raised" into position with pulleys and a Model A Ford truck. Grandpa said that the #1 white pine boards used for the siding cost $52,00 per thousand board feet, and any lumber that was not satisfactory could be sent back to the lumber company. The main beams for the barn were also cut from the farm, as were those for the first two barns. The entire main part of the barn was put up at a cost of around $3,000. To the main part of the barn sheds were added to the east, south and west to provide added room. Horses, hogs, and cattle were the early inhabitants of the barns, later becoming a dairy barn until the early 1980's when Dad quit milking other than for the local use of the farm. For almost twenty years the barn was used to house the 20-30 beef and dairy bulls used in the C. N. & Son Long Stud Service. In 1954, Dad quit with the live bulls and joined Northern Ohio Breeder's Association as an artificial breeding technician. Dad always said, "If you can't beat them, then join them", so that is what he did for sixteen years.

The east shed of the barn contained a corncrib, which made this an ideal place to feed out hogs and beef cattle for sale and for family meat. For awhile the shed on the south had a killing floor for butchering livestock, however state laws, plus the bother finally deemed this idea impractical.

Much of the feed for the livestock was raised on the farm so the need for storage was found in corn cribs, grain bins and in the mid-1950's a 10 ½ by 36 foot silo was added to the south of the barn. There are three hay and straw mows in the barn, which was built to hold several thousand bales of feed and bedding for the cattle. Originally the barn was built high, with a hipped roof for easy storage of loose hay, however the baler made that impractical and loose hay was only put in the barn for a year or two. Hay forts, volleyball games, and basketball games were some of the other uses for the mows over the years.

The livestock water has been provided by a well at the southeast corner of the barn. The water flows into a large concrete tank, which contains two large iron mill wheels and other iron for reinforcement.

Dad built hay and silage bunks, livestock pens, milking stanchions, milking parlor and other additions have been added to the barn over the years to make farm life somewhat easier for farm operation. Grandpa was kind of reluctant to make changes around the farm, so Dad sometimes had to use some sneaky methods to get the changes made. Grandpa liked to visit Kentucky, so when Dad wanted to make a change, he would suggest that the scenery was probably really pretty down there. Grandpa always liked the changes and usually wondered why they hadn't made them earlier. Recently metal siding has been added to the two gable ends of the barn for easier maintenance, while the other parts of the barn are kept up with painting. During the spring and summer of 2000 John and Anita painted the barn, tin shed and shop a bright red with white trim; what a difference that made to the whole farm!

On the west side of the barn across from the milk house was an oats bin. The dust from putting the oats in or taking them out was always an itchy job, especially on a hot day. Today that area, as well as several other areas has been turned into storage places. For several years much of Dad's bolt supply was stored in various areas of the barn.

Regardless of what the barn has been or is being used for, it has been a very valuable part of the Homestead life. Much of the barn is now being used for storage although there are still the cats, chickens and feeder cattle that make their homes in the big red barn on the Long Homestead. Here in 2001, the barn houses about fifteen cats, a good-sized flock of chickens, fourteen ducks and some raccoons, groundhogs and who knows what else.

The "old north tin shed" was built after the second barn was destroyed by fire. It was built to provide temporary shelter for the stock and machinery until a new barn could be built. Even after the new barn was built, the tin shed remained as a machinery shed for a number of years, being torn down in the forties.

The chicken coop/dog house has undergone a number of changes and additions over the years. It began as a single unit laying house with roosts as well as laying boxes. Later a second unit was added onto the west where feeding, watering, and laying was centered. How Perry used to hate cleaning out the manure from under the roosts, since there was just no clean way of doing it. (and he couldn't get the tractor in the door!!)

Finally a third unit was added, again to the west to provide a dog kennel for the toy Manchester's, toy foxterriers, dachshunds, and even basset hound dogs that were raised and sold by Dad and in later years, Phil. There were dog runs both in front and behind this unit for exercise. Many puppies from this kennel have made boys and girls as well as many adults very happy over a long period of time. At one time Dad shipped some puppies to Maryland and I remember being so worried about those poor little puppies having to ride on the train.

As the farm began to lower its emphasis on poultry production, the center section was turned into a shop. Then as Dad began to become more involved in his bolt business, the entire building was devoted to the storage and the selling of the bolts and hardware.

After a new well was drilled near the shop, another section was added onto the south of the building for a sales room and pump house. Customers would come from a wide area to get bolts, hardware and other things Dad would have for sale.

The "West Shed" is located just to the south of the "weaning house", or our house. This shed consisted of three grain bins along the south side with a drive separating them and a corncrib (This was a great place for a play house!!). The drive was used when unloading or loading the grain and was also a covered storage area for wagons or machinery at other times. North of the corncrib was a lean-to shed that was used for a garage for Dad's car, the tractor, and/or machinery. As the farm began using more commercial storage for its grain, and as the rat population became more of a threat to the folk's house it was decided to tear down the west shed. This area was grassed and put into Mom's flower garden.

The need for more wagon and machinery storage led to the need for a new and larger machinery shed. The pole tin shed was constructed north of the main barn to provide a garage, wagon and machinery storage, a corncrib, and a chicken house. When Dad was building this shed, Mom walked out one day to see how things were progressing. John Dearth, Anita's husband happened to be helping that day and Mom proceeded to tell him his hammer would work better in the other hand, that it really looked "dumb" being held that way. John is left-handed and of course, was hammering with his left hand. But, for those of you who remember, Mom was about as left-handed as anyone could be and why she thought John looked funny using his left hand we couldn't figure out. The corncrib in the shed was only used for a few years before the picker-sheller combines made it no longer necessary to store the corn that way. This shed has a gravel floor and is large enough to meet most of the farm's storage needs.

Over the years there have been many out buildings come and go as there was need for them. Storage sheds, grain bins, hog houses, brooder houses, corncribs, chicken houses, dog kennels, Quonset style dog houses, structures for ferret and rabbit raising, a smoke house, and of course, the little house behind the big house that would accommodate three people at once. There is still a "little house" on the homestead, although it is used mostly for storage of yard and garden tools, but always has to be properly cleaned for the annual Long Reunion, just in case it is needed.

Another of the Homestead structures which is still standing behind the old house, however, it too, is used primarily for garden tool storage, is the spring house. The spring house served as a place to keep vegetables, fruits, meats, milk and cream fresh and cool before the time of refrigeration. Along the west wall is a concrete tank to hold cold water to keep the milk and cream cans cool. On the back porch of the old house a milk separator stood to separate the cream from the milk, then it was placed in the spring house until it was used or taken to market. There were also hooks in the spring house where hams, bacon and other meats were hung after being smoked and cured.

The spring house was a great place to play. We kids loved to crawl up on the roof and play cowboys and Indians. Whoever had "custody" of the spring house won the battles. Many deep thoughts were pondered on the roof of the "old spring house". In fact, that was where I tried my first and only cigarette. I still remember throwing up over the north end, hoping that Grandma Lucy wouldn't look out and catch me.

A favorite spot for us kids while we were growing up was under the old apple tree located across the driveway from the folks house. There was usually a swing or two hung in its branches and a sandbox under them. As kids Perry, Joyce and Anita spent lots of time in the sandbox making fields for the farm toys, construction projects and whatever else our imaginations took us to. Perry got his backside warmed quite well one time because he stuffed green apples down a hollow part off the tree trunk. It wasn't that Dad minded the apples being in there, but he did mind that there was a nest of baby birds living in that hollow part. Perry says that he really was just trying to "feed" those baby birds. After many faithful years and the winds of time, the old apple tree had to be cut down, so the sandbox was moved across the driveway to the tree beside Mom and Dad's bedroom. Again, many hours were spent playing in the sand, dreaming dreams and letting our imaginations build roads, fields and castles.

The lawns surrounding the Homestead buildings have long been as much a source of pride as the buildings themselves. Our early memories of the Homestead involve helping to mow the lawns, pulling weeds and seeing Grandpa dig out buckhorn weeds and thistles from the lawns. Grandpa Charlie had a great hate for weeds, so he made sure we kids learned early how to cut and pull weeds such as: buckhorn, dandelion, plantain, and other obnoxious weeds. He would never allow a stalk of mustard in any of the fields. And believe me, he could see one from here to the woods. Out to the fields we would go and when we finished there was not one piece of mustard on the Long Homestead!! We have used quite a variety of lawn mowers over the years, but none seemed to stunt the grass so it would stay just the right length. We started out with the man-powered hand mowers, the electric mower, the reel type gas mower, the rotary mower, the riding tractor type and now the lever controlled mower. All have worked well to keep the farm trimmed and neat. We did notice that as the mowing got easier, the lawns increased in size, so that the work was much the same. Now the areas around the barn and towards the woods that used to confine cattle are now mowed and kept as nice as the rest of the lawns, again making the place look its very best.

Mom and Phil took great pride in the flowers they planted and grew to keep the Homestead looking bright and pretty. The flowerbeds and borders have been a great addition to the looks of the otherwise well-trimmed lawns. From the earliest time of our memories, Mom always planted flowers in her vegetable garden, because she said a garden should be pretty as well as useful. Phil continues to help keep the flower beds and lawns well cared for, although there aren't as many flower gardens since Mom is gone. Many trees have been planted over the years in the lawns, providing much shade and beauty. A well kept grounds shows the farmer's pride in his place and the Homestead has always been painted, trimmed and well cared for to enhance its looks. Since we moved to the Homestead, we too, have planted many flowerbeds and do our best to have the Homestead looking as well as possible.

In 1991 a landmark of the Long Homestead had to be taken down since it was no longer safe. A very, very large Ash tree was transplanted from the woods by Uncle Cyrus, one of Grandpa's brothers and placed on the north side of the entrance to the driveway. It served the family well over the years with much shade for resting and visiting. Its widespread branches shaded much of the front yard of the old house in the summer and towered high into the cloudy winter skies. Many, many little arms tried to see if they could reach all the way around that mighty towering tree. An old friend was laid to rest when the big old Ash tree had to be cut. That old tree heard many secrets and saw much change over the hundred plus years it stood sentry over the Long Homestead. With the coming of new and bigger farm machinery being brought into the farm, it was necessary to widen the entrance to the driveway in 2000. The stump of the Ash tree is gone now and new flowerbeds grace both sides of the driveway now.

The Long Homestead has been an integral part in the lives of the Long descendants. Much visiting, ball games, teasing and eating has gone on in the old house over the years. To this day it is a special meeting place for the family members, although many times now it is the place to gather for funeral dinners. In the summer of 1948 a tradition was begun that will continue to happen on the last Sunday of July as long as there are any Long descendants left on the Old Homestead near Ada, Ohio. The Tobias Long Family Reunion has been held at the Homestead every year since 1948 and has hosted family members from many of the states of the Union. Many of the relatives of those first children who went West following the Civil War have returned to see the Old Homestead for themselves; to acquire that feeling that comes from standing where their Great Grandparents once stood; to see for themselves the land where their loved ones began their lives. There are usually over a hundred relatives who gather each summer in July to reflect on the past, renew acquaintances, mourn the loss of loved ones and to learn to know all the new "little" Longs who have arrived since the previous Reunion. It is always a hectic few weeks before the Reunion because everything from the flowerbeds, the buildings, the basement and even the old "toilet" has to be in tip-top shape for that special day. In all the years since the Reunion began we have never been rained out. There have been some showers either in the morning or the afternoon, but the Reunion has always gone on!! Just like all those Longs before.

MEMORIES OF GROWING UP ON THE TOBIAS LONG HOMESTEAD

By
Perry Richard Long
1993

I was born July 5, 1939 to Phillip and Ruby Long, their first son. We lived in the "weaning house" across the lane from Grandpa Long's house. Mom and Dad built their house in 1938 by buying two double tourist cabins, setting them twelve feet apart, then roofing over the top and closing in the ends.

Joyce and I were probably around the ages of four and six at the time we decided we wanted to have roasting ears for dinner, so we went out to the old tin shed corn crib to get the supply of corn. We each took an armload of corn to the house for Mom to cook for us. Mom could do miracles in the kitchen, but this was one time she was unable to perform a miracle for us, since it was fall and the corn was dry. As we grew older we were never allowed to forget this episode, especially when it was roasting ears that happened to be on the menu.

Christmas brings back many memories of past Christmases on the Homestead. One Christmas when I was about five, I had gotten a toy hook and ladder truck. Shortly there after, while Mom was outside getting wood for the stove, I decided to use one of the ladders to make roads around the sides of her corner cupboard. That little metal ladder made very distinct "roads" in the wooden cupboard!! When Mom came back in, I took her to see my "pretty" roads, she took one look and sat down and cried. She didn't lay a finger on me, just seeing Mom cry was the worst punishment I could possibly have to ever endure.

I must have been six or seven years of age when Dad had his woodworking shop in the upstairs of the house. For a period of time before Christmas Dad would go work in his shop after Joyce and I would go to bed. One day I was upstairs nosing around in the cabinet drawers and found a bunch of little rubber animals. I told Dad that I would sure like to have some farm animals like those; he very quickly hustled me back downstairs. On Christmas morning I found a large red barn (just like our real barn!) under the Christmas tree, with the little rubber farm animals around it.

Dad made a variety of Christmas presents for us kids, as well as the cousins, aunts, uncles and grandparents. Many of the tiny tractors, trucks, doll cribs, stools and other items we had were hand-made by Dad. Mom also made a lot of our Christmas presents in the form of shirts, blouses, skirts, gowns, and other things. Mom also quilted the quilts that helped to keep us nice and warm during those cold winter nights. Another treat that Mom always made for us at Christmas time was a large 50 pound lard can full of caramel corn for us to piece on. She also made lots of cookies and candy for a special treat.

As we kids were growing up, we would also make a variety of gifts for our parents, such as: clove apples to add a pleasant smell to the house, a plaster of paris block with a test tube in it for a flower vase, potholders and quite a few other projects. Money was not plentiful then, so we used our talents instead to make gifts. I know those gifts meant a lot to the folks and also to us. It was their way of teaching us to enjoy giving just as much as receiving, if not more so. (I remember that Phil was due to arrive just before Mother's Day. I had made a decorated pot with a plant in it at school, so I intended to ask her if she wanted her "gift" before Mother's Day in case she wasn't at home that day. Instead I asked her if she wanted her flower. Mom and Dad laughed, but I was really "mad" to think I had spoiled her surprise!)

Prior to another Christmas, I had become fascinated by the P-38 fighter plane of World War II, so when people asked me what I wanted for Christmas, that is what I told them. I received six P-38 fighters that Christmas, all alike and from six different people.

After Christmas I always enjoyed going to the city dump north of Ada with Dad to take our unwanted trash. It was remarkable the good toys that people threw away after getting new ones for Christmas. I found several good toy farm tractors and also a lot of good train track for my electric train layout. Today with the landfills these good treasures are buried as soon as they are dropped.

For many years it was a common practice for all of Grandpa Long's family to get together for a large carry-in meal and gift exchange at Christmas time. A large gag box was always prepared for Uncle Toby, because he got so much enjoyment out of wondering what was in the next package. On one occasion some of the older cousins had caught an opossum. They decided to wrap it up in a box for Uncle Toby. I don't know which one was more scared when the box was opened, Uncle Toby or the opossum, but they parted company in different directions very quickly!! As each of the families grew larger and older, the Long family Christmas get-togethers came to an end. Even though those times ended the memories of those happy times lives on and are shared with each other and our children.

As I was growing up on the Homestead two quite regular and very interesting visitors were Uncle Will and Aunt "Omi" Naomi Pierce and Uncle Clem and Aunt Emma Klingler. As kids we always enjoyed them and the stories they told of days gone by. We really got a special kick out of how they would prepare to leave. Uncle Will drove a 1926 Plymouth and it was almost a ritual of how he would go about getting the car started. He would first try to start the car, then he would get out and raise the side panel of the hood, then with a ball peen hammer, he would hit the motor in two or three places, reenter the car and it would start. Of course, Uncle Will never drove up into the lane very far. Generally he would stop at the end of the driveway under the two ash trees and that is where the car stayed during their visit.

Uncle Clem drove a 1935 or 36 Chevy. He would start his car, then race it full force for a few seconds before backing out of the lane. On one occasion, as he was racing the engine his foot slipped off the clutch and the car shot out of the driveway like a rocket, coming to stop in the ditch across the road. Uncle Clem and Aunt Emma were not hurt, but they were shook up pretty good!! We often laughed about that episode, however it could have been serious considering the amount of traffic by the farm.

It seemed as though there was always a flow of visitors to the Homestead and I guess it was because they were always made to feel welcomed and wanted. I have often wondered how Grandma or Mom always managed to have enough food for everyone, but with a good supply of canned meat, vegetables and fruits in the cellar, it didn't take long to add a little more to the meal already being prepared. I doubt if anyone ever left hungry, or if they did, that it was their own fault because the food was on the table. (As we were looking through the old pictures, Dad shared with us that the day they raised the present barn in the thirties, ninety people were served their noon meal. Grandpa furnished the entire meal for all those present. One of the meats served was his special homemade bologna. Grandpa loved to see people enjoy their food and he especially enjoyed being able to provide it for them.)

In regards to the stud service operated by Grandpa and Dad; there were a number of incidents that could have been serious if "Lady Luck" had turned her back. On one occasion Grandpa had the car and trailer with a big Brown Swiss bull in the trailer. As he was traveling along the road, the trailer came unhitched and upset on top of the bull in the side ditch. However, the bull was not injured and everything turned out okay.

At another time, Dad had come in late from a call and decided to put the bull in a box stall in the barn rather than out in the pasture with the other bulls. During the night he awakened to a bull causing a disturbance, so he went out to check on the bull in the barn, but found him quiet. A little later after returning to bed, the noise started up again. Well, he got up again and started out to the barn to check on the bull. When he was about half way to the barn a little "mad" Jersey bull came around the corner of the house and started toward him. Dad called for the collie cattle dog to come help him and together they were able to herd the bull into the barn safely. The bull had been in the pasture with the other bulls and a larger bull or bulls had pitched him over the fence. No wonder he was "mad"!!

As soon as a bull started showing signs of meanness they were taken to market and as a result there were never any serious problems with the bulls. The bulls had a ring in their nose and were gentle enough to be led by a rope wherever they were needed. Dad and Grandpa always took a lot of pride in the fact they could walk up to their cattle and handle them without any fear from them. This came from the fact that they always treated their cattle with gentleness and took good care of them.

(One time when Joyce was just little she climbed through the fence into the bull pasture. Of course, as soon as someone saw where she was they got her out immediately. When questioned as to why she would go in there, she said that she had to go get the dog out of there so the bulls wouldn't hurt it, never giving a thought about herself. We all knew from the time we were very, very small that we did not go around the bulls.)

When I was around twelve, I persuaded the folks to buy me a new Daisy B-B gun while we were doing our Saturday night shopping. The next morning before leaving for church, I decided to try it out on a bird sitting on the dog kennel fence. I knocked that Robin clean off the fence with my first shot!! I lost any chance for a second shot for the next two weeks!! I learned really fast to be a little more selective in what I chose for a target.

Most of the time I used good judgement in the use of my guns, however, like most boys I slipped up once in awhile. A later shooting episode involved a 22-caliber rifle and an old Bantam rooster. I was out plinking around when I saw the old rooster, so I decided to scare him by shooting the dirt between his feet. For some reason the gun shot a little to the right and I blew off the rooster's right leg. I caught him right away and started for the barn to get rid of him, but just then Grandpa came out of the house and asked what had happened. I told him that the rooster had gotten caught in the fence and pulled his leg off. Grandpa told me that those 22 caliber fences could be murder on chicken legs. I could never fool Grandpa!! While he never punished me, I always knew better than to try to lie to him again or to try to outfox him. He was quite a guy and a good man!!

Form the time of the first B-B gun; I always had guns as I was growing up. Grandpa Shrider gave me my first 22-caliber rifle, a Stevens Favorite single shot. He told me the necessity of being careful with it. Since there were no other boys my age nearby, I spent a lot of time out shooting and hunting. I worked hard to keep the groundhog population down along the railroad. They would burrow back into the railroad grading and then destroy the crops along the railroad. One summer in an area of about a mile along the railroad, I shot sixty-five groundhogs and this greatly improved the crop production in that area.

Around 1950 when Joyce, Anita and I needed separate rooms, the folks added a master bedroom to the east side of the house. I had the room upstairs for my bedroom then because Joyce and Anita shared the west bedroom downstairs. I displaced Dad of his woodworking shop which he had set up in the one room upstairs of the house.

I always liked the upstairs for my room because I had plenty of room for my many interests and hobbies. I had an electric train set, so on Christmas Day my room became the cousin hangout. I also had a gun and coin collection, so I had plenty of storage for these hobbies as well. The only draw back to the upstairs was that it was quite warm in the summer and quite cool in the winter. By the time Phil was ready for his own room in 1957, I was leaving home to enter Brethren Volunteer Service.

The house contains many fond memories of bygone days and has served our family well. We will never forget the happy times at Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, birthdays and all the other times of just getting together as a family. The living room especially was just that a place for living together as a family, sitting around the stove, eating popcorn and visiting were important parts of our growing up years. Even after we left home to begin homes of our own, it was and is still good to rejoin as a family in the living room.

Our house was also the center of the family farm business for years, as Mom would take the "bull calls" for the stud service that Dad and Grandpa operated. We kids all learned at a young age to tell Mom it was a "bull call" when we answered the phone. In later years these calls became "bolt calls" as Dad changed his line of business.

Our memories of living in the "weaning house" will continue on and the lessons learned there will continue throughout our lives. Mom and Dad built our foundations in this home of Christian love, and we love them for their leadership and thank them for their patience with us.

Many of my early memories revolve around the farming operation that went on day by day and year by year on the Long Homestead. I remember watching Dad on his old 1937 W-C Allis Chalmers and hoping for the day when I could be up on the tractor driving it around.

In 1947 Dad bought a new 8-N Ford tractor along with some tools. In spite of having some new tools, Dad still used a converted horse drawn corn planter. Someone had to ride on the corn planter to raise and lower the arms that marked the next row and I got to do that job for Dad. At the ends of the field he would raise the planter and swing it around to head back across the field. Who needed a carnival for thrills!!

Grandpa, Uncle Toby, Dad and us kids usually got a good dose of hoeing Canada thistles, pulling yellow crest or mustard, pulling button weeds and other weeds that would sap strength from the crops. We always had good clean crops, but I sure hated that backbreaking work.

As I learned to operate the 8-N Ford, I was able to plow, cultivate, and do other jobs around the farm. My favorite job was pulling the grain wagons to the elevator or going to get feed ground for the cattle. One of my more embarrassing events with the tractor involved the time when my Vocational Agriculture class from school came out to judge soil. We had a post hole digger on the tractor, so I went out in the middle of the field to dig a hole for us to practice judging. I hit right in the middle of a field tile, so after school I had to dig out the broken tile and replace it with a new one. Another time we were changing a fence and I was pulling the old posts while Dad was gone. I did not realize the old practice of putting a cross beam anchor on the bottom of the corner post, so I yanked and pulled until I finally broke the lift arm on the tractor. It was Uncle Ray's tractor to boot!!

A big time around the farm each summer was putting in the hay and straw for the coming winter. We usually had quite a bit of extra help for baling, since we baled directly onto the wagon. These had to be unloaded quickly in order to keep empty wagons to the field. We used a conveyor to get the bales from the wagon to the mow floor, then man power to stack them back into the mow. Mom and the girls usually were kept quite busy feeding and watering the hay hands because it was such a hot dirty job. It was fun to run after baby bunnies we would scare up with the baler and then take them up to the house for the girls. Usually we ended up turning them loose.

Another task on the farm that needed to be done was to pump water for the livestock at the woods. Uncle Toby generally took care of this task, however the rest of us helped him. Sometimes on a hot day it wasn't too hard to get a water fight started. We usually got cooled off quickly or warmed up if Dad caught us. This job was made a lot easier and faster when Dad hooked up a gas motor to the pump jack. An added attraction to pumping water at the woods was getting to enjoy the quiet peacefulness of the woods. A lot of deep thinking and decision making took place during a slow walk through the woods among the trees and birds.

Hauling manure was generally a fall and a spring job that was not eagerly looked forward to. Except for Anita's boy, Tim. Even when he was just a little boy he loved to haul manure. He told Aunt Mary one time at the dinner table as he was putting a spoonful of mashed potatoes to his mouth, "Here comes another load of manure," and popped it right in. Aunt Mary was not very impressed!! First this was entirely a hand job, but with the power lift on the later tractors, the manure loader made the job much easier. Dad also rearranged the barn to make it more accessible to the tractor and loader. This was another of the farm jobs that we exchanged labor with Uncle Ray, Urban and Edison. We used two or three spreaders and with one loader it kept everyone on the move. The manure helped to keep the fields in good production, along with the crop rotation that was practiced faithfully.

In the late summer and into the fall we would begin buzzing wood for the winter fuel supply. We cut up old lumber as well as trees that had fallen, were diseased or were damaged in the woods. Very seldom was a good healthy tree cut unless it was absolutely necessary. The buzz saw was mounted on the tractor and run off the power take-off. Dad was generally the saw operator and the rest of us would either carry wood to the saw or help him hold the wood on the saw bench. By always being safety minded we never had an accident with this very dangerous tool.

During my high school years I was in Vocational Agriculture and F.F.A. therefore I had to maintain farm projects as part of my class requirements. Each of the four years I had a sow and litter projects and I chose registered Spotted Poland China hogs for this project. I also had two dairy projects each of the four years. One was dairy testing and the other, dairy management. With the dairy testing I weighed each of the cow's milk each day and once a month I collected samples to test for butterfat. I had two purebred Holstein cows for my dairy management project. Finally, each of the four years I had crop projects consisting of corn, corn silage and soybeans. Two of the years I had a crop partnership with Grandpa, and the other two years Dad and I had partnership. This was a very good experience for me and at the same time, it gave me an opportunity to make some money. This money later helped me to pay part of my college education, so these were not only good learning experiences, but also quite practical.

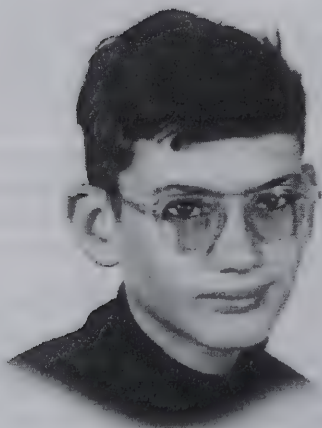

In the late 1970's as the need for tractor and machinery replacement became evident, Dad decided to turn over the crop farming to a neighbor. Dad still was able to make his own hay and straw, clean out the barn and buzz wood with the tractor and tools he already had. With the great increase in operating costs, this was really the best decision for taking care of the Homestead farming.

Another highlight of the Homestead activities involved the annual Tobias Long Family Reunion held the last Sunday of July each year. Beginning in 1948, the days prior to the reunion were spent in last minute preparation for the 125 to 200 relatives who assemble for lots of eating, visiting and recalling days gone by. Dad always said, "I don't know if I would get my weeds cut if it weren't for the reunion." I am sure he would have gotten his weeds cut anyway, but it has always been a good excuse to get it done. The family has always felt this was a way to be of service to the whole Long family and to be a part in bringing them together. Over the years everyone looked forward to the big roaster of chicken dressing Mom would make, as well as all the other goodies she just felt we would need. She made sure there was coffee and cold drink for everyone also. Long tables would be set up for all the food everyone would bring. When the reunion first began, the tables would be set up in the back kitchen of the old house and everyone would go in the back door, around the tables and then out the front door. As the years went by the tables were moved to the yard in front of Grandpa's house, under the shade of the Old Ash tree. As the trees in our yard grew and provided good shade, the reunion tables were moved over there. Mom and Grandma Lucy had several discussions before this move was made!!

I remember for a few years a tent was borrowed from the local funeral director to provide shade for the relatives as they sat around and visited, but over the years that practice was abandoned. For the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Homestead, the Paulding County relatives rented a tent for the reunion. It worked so well that Dad purchased a tent to use each year. That tent has now been replaced by a new one and should serve well for several years.

Everyone seems to enjoy this day of returning to the Old Homestead to remember, reflect, and visit about those times past. We have usually been fortunate to have nice weather for the day and have never been rained out, although we have been rained on a few times. It is always sad when members of the family passes on to their reward, however it seems as if there are marriages and new babies to keep the family going. Relatives have come to the reunion from a wide variety of areas such as: Kansas, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Colorado, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas, Illinois, Indian, Michigan, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Florida and probably others I have forgotten. It does not appear that the Long family will run out any time soon, and hopefully the Homestead will continue to be a gathering place for them for many years to come.

I know the minute I finish typing I will think of many other things that I could have included. The intent of this was to give a brief history of the farm from my own point of view. It has been impossible not to include the many people involved in my growing-up as well as the making of the Long Homestead. May God bless all of those who have made the homestead a great place to live and to grow up.

MEMORIES OF GROWING UP ON THE TOBIAS LONG HOMESTEAD

By
Joyce Elaine Long Welch
1993

I have many memories of growing up on the farm. There was always something to do or someone to talk to. We could go over "home" and listen to Grandpa Long tell stories. He would sit in his rocker by the porch door and tell stories of what it was like to settle on the farm in the "old" days.

One of the things I remember most was dressing up the collie puppies in the doll clothes Mom made for my dolls and then pushing them around in my doll carriage. The dolls only were played with when there were no puppies available. There were always collie, fox terrier, rat terrier and sometimes dachshund puppies to play with. Dad even got a basset hound once. Usually though, it was collie puppies that we played with.

When Phil was quite young and went out to play, our Lassie would take him by the wrist and kept him close to her. Her jacket sleeves were always frayed from Lassie's teeth keeping Phil from danger.

We had many good times playing with the Fleming kids who lived on the farm across the railroad. Especially in the summer you could find the Long and Fleming kids playing at one of the two places. Sometimes we went swimming in the watering tank in our barn or swinging from ropes in the haymow at Fleming's. In later years, Bill Plummer and his family moved in across the road from us and many, many hours were spent playing with them also. We built tents over the swing set frame and slept out on occasion. That was always fun for all of us except the adults on the farm!!

Reunion Day was one of the highlights of each summer. We would work really hard cleaning, cooking and getting everything ready for all those who would come for the "Big Day". The cousins would come and we would catch up on what had happened since the last time that we had seen each other.

Saturday was another special day around the farm. Mom always baked on Saturday and nothing ever smelled so good as it did on that day when the cookies were spread out on the table to cool.

When we got under Mom's feet too much we usually got to go on "bull calls" with Dad. If we just happened to be going near the Jumbo or the Greely Chapel stores, Dad would stop and buy us ice cream cones. You know, those cones that had the pointed ends!! I always got into trouble because I would invariably bite the end off of that cone and the ice cream would leak out and make a sticky mess.

Another of my special memories is of waking up on a Christmas morning and the farm being blanketed with snow; all quiet and peaceful before Dad made a path of footsteps on his way to the barn to do chores.

Most Sundays we would get up go to church, come home and eat dinner and then go for a ride in the car. Dad was a master at finding roads we had never been on before. He would turn onto it and we would drive down the road just to see where it went and what was on it. That was great unless there happened to be a bridge on it, I didn't like bridges as a child and still am not fond of them. When Anita learned to drive and we happened to be in Kenton, she always took me over a high wooden railroad bridge just to hear me holler. They have since replaced that bridge and she doesn't seem to have much occasion to drive on that street anymore!! We have seen much of Ohio through those Sunday afternoon drives of long ago. Norman and I still like to go for a ride and try out some interesting roads we haven't traveled before.

As we were growing up Dad had a movie camera and took many pictures of us. He enjoyed taking pictures of us kids around the farm, on our "trips" and especially of the Long Reunion. A few years ago Dad had the old movies put on video tapes and gave copies to each of us kids to enjoy in our own homes. It surely brings back memory after memory to watch those old movies. We remember those crazy things we did as kids, we laugh and yes, we even cry a little as we relive those days of growing up. One of Dad's greatest pleasures was to show the old home movies whenever Anita had a new boyfriend. Of course, he always showed the one of her taking a bath in the front yard in her dishpan. When we were dividing up some of the folk's things, we all made sure Anita took her "bathtub" home with her. Her daughter, Jennifer added that granite dishpan to her collection of graniteware.

As I watch those old movies, our granddaughter Ruby Kathleen (Katy) reminds me so much of Anita when she was a little girl. In the way Katy walks squats down and then gets up to run. So many of those little things are just like Anita all over again. I have never liked to have my picture taken, so usually all you see of me is a rear view, but it is still fun to take time and watch the movies. Mom always told that I walked out of more pictures than they were able to take of me. It is fun to watch and see our actions and mannerisms in our own children and grandchildren. And of course, as we get older, Anita and I are seeing more and more of Mom in each other, in what we say and what we do.

I grew up, married and moved one and a half-mile away from home, but I still look forward to "coming home" for holidays or a quick "drop-in visit" with Dad and Aunt Millie. These times bring back memories of Mom sitting at her quilting frame working on a quilt, Dad hurrying her and there trying to do a hundred and one things all at the same time. Of checking out the baby chicks, new kittens in the barn, the calves being fattened, looking at the flowers in the side garden or just sitting down and enjoying being home once again.

I cannot imagine growing up anywhere else except on the farm, or of living anywhere other than right next door to Grandpa and Grandma Long, Toby and all the other people who came and went over the years. It seemed that especially in the summer there were always extra people around to work in the hay or relatives just stopping by for a visit at the "home" place. Relatives still stop by to visit the old house and to look at the log structure just to get the feeling of history, heritage and family.

We were and are so fortunate to be a part of a close-knit family who believes in preserving our family heritage, farm and history. To be able to pass this on to our children and grandchildren is so important that they might be able to carry on the tradition of the Tobias Long Family Homestead.

MEMORIES OF GROWING UP ON THE TOBIAS LONG HOMESTEAD

By
Anita Louise Long Dearth
1993

From the very earliest of my memories, I remember being loved and cared for on the farm. There were jobs required being done by each of us, but there were lots of fun times, too. I remember spending much time in the old house with Grandpa, Grandma Lucy and Toby. Grandma Hattie had died in 1943 before I was born in 1946, but she was talked about and always seemed a part of my memories. The kitchen seemed to be the center of activity in the old house and that is where many of my memories stem from. I don't remember it, but Grandma Lucy always told me how she dented my head when I was about a year old. Apparently she was keeping me for Mom and I was crawling around my favorite spot in the kitchen the stairs. I slipped and bumped my face right by my left eye. It never bled, but it made a dimple, which I carry to this day. Grandma always said she cried harder than I did. As I grew older and the story was told and retold, I always said she pushed me, but Grandma was quick to say that she hadn't done that at all. She would always tell once again how it had hurt her much worse just to see me cry. Grandma Lucy always drank Postum or sometimes coffee. Well, whatever Grandma had I thought I should have too. She would give it to me on a teaspoon and then tell me it would make me black if I drank it. As Grandma grew older her skin would bruise readily. It sounds terrible now, but I used to think it was so funny to make little pinches on her arms and then look the next day to see how many "rotten" spots she had. I always checked both houses before meal time to see who was having the best thing. If I liked both things equally, I usually ate at both places. Once in a while Mom would make me stay home, I think just so she could prove to me where I belonged. Nevertheless, I really think to this day that I belonged equally to both places.

There is another place that really stands out as I think back over those years of growing up. That is a spot in the living room, right in front of the door off the front porch. This is where Grandpa's rocking chair sat, with his spittoon on the floor beside it, where many, many hours were spent sitting on his lap. Grandpa would either be telling a story of by-gone days, singing songs or sleeping. Sometimes we each took our nap there. Some of the songs Grandpa sang were Red River Valley, Beyond the Sunset, The Tennessee Waltz and Mule Train. Red River Valley was my favorite and Grandpa is very close to me any time I hear it.

Many times Grandpa told of trips to the west he took as a young man and later as a family. One I remember is when he had a team of horses and a wagon he was driving out to Iowa. It was his habit to stop at farms and ranches along the way to spend the night and sometimes to work a day or two. At one particular place where he had stayed the night, the family appeared to be quite poor, but were hospitable and he had slept well. He sat down to a breakfast of hotcakes, corn mush and I think bacon. He said there was a pitcher on the table of what he thought was hot syrup (he was used to having maple syrup at home and his mother always heated it, just like that syrup on the table) so he poured a good amount on his stack of hotcakes. When he took the first bite he realized it was not the hot maple syrup he expected, but hot lard he had poured over his hotcakes. I can remember so well Grandpa saying that was the biggest stack of hotcakes he ever ate in his life. With the family being so poor there was no way he could waste that food. Well, after breakfast he quickly decided he had better get on his way and headed for the barn. He said he went on his way with a very empty stomach, but was a much wiser young man. He firmly decided to taste a little bit the next time before assuming it was what he was used to.

Another favorite story was when he was able to visit his oldest brother, John in Kansas. Grandpa was twentyone years of age and Brother John was sixty-seven. Uncle John had been a railroad engineer in the mountains of Colorado after he traveled west following the Civil War. In 1902 he took seriously ill and requested to be sent to St John, Kansas, so he could see his brothers and sisters who lived there. He stayed at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hannah Malone. At the time Grandpa and Grandma Hattie were living in Iowa. When they received word that Uncle John was so sick, Grandpa decided they would go and see him. None of Grandpa's brother and sisters had ever seen their oldest half-brother and Grandpa wanted to see him. Well, Grandpa and Grandma Hattie along with their son, Elmer, traveled to Kansas. When they got there Uncle John had been in bed for weeks, hadn't eaten much and was just waiting to die. Uncle John knew Grandpa right away and they talked and talked. Grandpa said it was as if they had always known each other. It wasn't too long before Uncle John got up, dressed and began to eat with the family. On the fourth day of Grandpa's visit, they walked four blocks up town and had their pictures taken together. (I have this picture here in the book!) Grandpa's were there for three weeks and he told of the many miles he and Uncle John drove around the countryside. Of course, this was with horse and carriage as there were no automobiles at that time. Uncle John seemed to improve each day, ate well and enjoyed their time together so much. The day Grandpa's left for home, Uncle John went back to his bed and died within two weeks. Grandpa was so pleased, even after all those years to have been able to spend that special time with his oldest brother, John.

Grandpa also told of the time when he took several of the family and drove to the west. I really don't remember why they went, but I remember at the time thinking about how long it must have taken to drive in those "old" cars of the twenties. In going through the old pictures I found one of Grandpa, Dad and Uncle Glen with their car mired down in the mud in Iowa. I can hardly imagine starting out with a car like that on dirt roads and very few "service" stations along the way. I guess what we have to realize is, they didn't have anything better to compare it to and a motor vehicle had to be much better than a horse! He told of how they would stop in a small grocery and buy a little lunch meat, bread and whatever else they could and then camp along side the road for the night. I guess that was before the time of motels, too. No one ever bothered them and they would get up in the morning and drive on to the next "stop."

Another of my favorite memories is of going with Dad and Uncle Toby on "bull calls." We kids really had no idea what we were doing other than going along for a ride and being with them. Somewhere along the way, maybe Maysville, Slabtown, or at a little store southeast of Linna, we would stop and usually got licorice. I liked to sit on Toby's lap, with my arm out the window and "smoke" my licorice pipe. Can you remember how good that licorice tasted? I sure can!! Dad was usually good for a bottle of pop or an ice cream cone, too. I can remember one time Dad and I were out northeast of Ada and one of the bulls decided to be ornery and got away from Dad. We were backed up to the barn and I remember hearing Dad holler, seeing the bull run by the cab of the truck and then watched as Dad went across the road and back the field to get the bull out of the woods. It was a long way back to the woods and I thought it took an awful long time for Dad to come back. The farmer told Dad he was crazy to go after that bull by himself, but how else was he to get him? Dad took a rope and brought him back to the truck. I still think of that when we happen to drive by that place and I still feel the same feelings knowing Dad really wasn't safe, but he was doing what had to be done.

Aunt Omi and Uncle Will Pierce lived at the corner of County Line Road and Harding Highway (St. Rt 309). Quite often we would stop by and take Uncle Will with us on "bull calls" and sometimes Dad would leave me with Aunt Omi. That was so much fun because Aunt Omi would drop whatever she was doing and play with me. One sunny afternoon Uncle Will came down to Grandpa's and parked his old car at the end of the driveway, just like always. He asked Mom if he could take us kids up to their house for a while. Of course, we all had to have our faces washed and our hair combed before we could go. He put us all in the backseat of his "old" car and away we went. I have no memory of what we did while we were there or when we got back home, but I remember being allowed to ride in Uncle Will's car.

I remember the evening, too, that we drove by their house and I saw Aunt Omi and some other people standing out by the old barn. We were clear by when I told Dad what I had seen. He worried all the way home that he should have stopped. It wasn't long before they called and said Uncle Will had died in the barn. They felt he had gone out to do his chores, locked the door from the inside, had a heart attack and died. The lock had to be broken to get in to him.

One day after Uncle Will had died, Dad dropped me off at Aunt Omi's to keep her company. Aunt Omi was lonesome that day and talked so much about her little girl, Annabelle, who had died so many years before. She took me upstairs and we went through her keepsakes. She gave me a little china dolly, the little plates Annabelle had cut her teeth on and a few other little trinkets. Even though I was just a little girl, I realized that Aunt Omi had shared something very precious with me. They are displayed in my home today and are very special to me. Another day when I was with her a bad storm came up and we sat at the north living room window to watch. A ways over the field a very large tree just fell over as we watched. I know now it was struck by lightning because I remember the loud thunder. Aunt Omi and I talked for a long time as to whether or not the tree made any noise when it fell. We didn't hear any noise, so did it make any?

Many times I would play with the children where we went. I knew I was not allowed out of the truck unless Dad said I could get out, but we still played. One time we were sitting up at Doc. Rodabaugh's in Ada and his twins, Tom and Tim, climbed up on top of the cab of the truck and leaned way over to look at Joyce and me in side the cab. Doc sure wasn't too happy with those boys when he came out. Other times we would play hide and seek with the kids outside or they would run around the truck, showing off. Sometimes the ladies would come out and bring us warm cookies, other treats, or would just come out to visit.

There seemed always to be someone around the farm. Someone staying with Grandpa's, someone who had come to look at puppies, someone who was working for Dad and Grandpa or just someone who just came to visit. I always loved it when Aunt Omi came to spend a few days. Most of the time I enjoyed having "visitors", but once in a while it wasn't much fun. Around Reunion time we always had lots of visitors and one I remember most was Bessie Volk's grandson, Bobby. He used to drive me crazy!! He always wanted to be where I was and messing in what I was doing. A couple of years ago he and his family stopped by for a visit and you know, he didn't grow up too badly. I sure wouldn't have believed that he would become a missionary those long years ago.

Uncle Glen's came to visit one spring when Tina and Winnie were just little girls. We had lots of fun playing with those two little girls. It must have been around Easter time when they came because they all came out to "look us over" before we went to Sunday School. Uncle Glen had his jammies on and I thought that was quite peculiar. The thing that brings that memory back so vividly though was the daffodils blooming by the fence. Uncle Glen ran over, picked one and gave to me before Dad drove away. That made quite an impression on a little girl. Later Uncle Glen came home by himself, it might have been for a funeral, I don't remember, but I know he came over to our house one night to take a bath. The louder he sang, the more stuff (plastic cups of COLD water and whatever else we could find) we threw in on him from the little window at the ceiling above the bathtub. I think he had as much fun as we kids did. He was the one I remember playing with us and acting like a big "kid" whenever we saw him.

It was as much a treat for us as it was for Grandpa, Grandma and Toby when Aunt Eunice, Aunt Mary or any of the other families came to visit. Joyce and Theora always had lots of fun playing together while Perry, Jerry and I had fun teasing them. Uncle Owen was always good for stories and arguing with Grandpa (good naturally most of the time!) Aunt Mary usually had a whole list of "jobs" she was going to do, but had time to talk to us and explain what she was doing and why. She taught me the finer points of papering where the walls weren't straight and you wanted the pattern to look like they were. I think too, it was her love for the old house that she shared with us that made us realize just what a special place it was to live and grow up in.

There was the strangest thing that went on all the years any of us kids went to school. We could never see the school bus from our house!! Can you believe that? We always had to go over to Grandpa's and watch for the bus to come. I can remember when I first started to school I had trouble getting on the bus because the step was too high. Perry usually lifted me up so I could reach the step. When he wasn't there or would forget, the bus driver would help me. If there happened to be company at Grandpa's we entertained them before we would go off to school. One time Bob Harrison was there and we acting a fool and he dropped live ashes in my school bag. He wanted me to stop, but I didn't have time, I had to get on the bus right now!! He was so afraid they would smolder and cause trouble. They didn't and we probably acted a fool the next day, too as we have every other time we have seen each other. The best place to watch for the bus was sitting on the stairs by the kitchen window, but the porch worked just as well when it was warm.

I must confess I used to run away from home pretty regularly. I would go down the lane to the Plummer place and visit them there. It seemed as though Gale would always ask me if Mom knew where I was and when I said "no", she would call to let them know I was there. I usually got a snack, a good visit and then sent home again. I remember what put an end to my running away though. I had gotten my nose out of joint one day and told everyone I was just going to leave home for good!! It was dark out and Dad had a call to make over north. He stood in the doorway between the kitchen and living room, told me to pack a bag and he would take me that far. I told him I really thought I would wait until morning to go since it was dark, but he insisted that I shouldn't put it off, I should go then. I cried and he finally said I could stay, but I had to make up my mind if I really wanted to stay at home or leave because I couldn't keep on threatening to go. I don't remember ever threatening to run away again after that.

Somewhere between the time I was probably eight to eleven, the women in the Ladies Aide at County Line sold cards, vanilla, pepper and Cloverine Salve. I would put a good variety in my little apple basket and then would walk to the neighbors to see if I could sell them any. It was fun to go visit every one and to make my "sales." That was at a time when it was safe to be out along the roads and no one ever thought to be worried about who you might meet.

One of the things that all of us kids as well as everyone who came to visit enjoyed was the "train". As long as Perry was at home, he almost always got to drive, but once in awhile others were given a turn. The "engine" was the garden tractor, then came the trailer with a board across the front end to sit on and then came every type of wheeled cart or wagon we could find to hook on. We would start at the "station" usually at the barn or at our house, the "engineer" would then drive around the edge of the drive (that way we got as big a "track" as possible!) and we all rode in our "car". If there weren't enough kids to fill up the train, sometimes the puppies, cats (if we could make them sit still long enough) and dollies filled up the cars or we dropped the "cars" and just used the trailer. After Perry left home, Joyce and I each took our turn as "engineer," finally ending up with Phil and the grandkids. The old garden tractor and trailer are still in the shed; maybe one of these days they will be brought out and put back into "service" once again.

Most little girls remember their favorite dolly, but I remember playing with puppies and dressing them in doll clothes, pushing them up and down the lane in the doll buggy. It was a pretty good lesson for us because if we got too rough with them, they would bite us and we knew we had to be more gentle. Dad put straw on the back porch one time because the collie dog was having her puppies and it was too cold out in the barn. It was sure fun to crawl in and play with the little bundles of fur. Usually Dad made the collies a house of straw in the barn and we would play with them there. I think Mom probably told him the back porch was off limits from then on. I always felt bad when people came and bought my favorite puppy. I always picked out the littlest ones as my favorites, I really can't imagine why, can you? One time when I was older we had a fox terrier puppy that was liver and white colored instead of black and white. I really think Dad was teasing, but he told me that whatever I could sell that pup for, over and above his price, I could keep. It took me quite awhile talking to some people, but I ended up getting double what Dad's price was. He let me keep my share, too!!

We always dressed up the puppies in doll clothes, but much of the time we dressed ourselves up, too. Somewhere around the farm there was always room for a "playhouse". One time I remember Dad made us a playhouse in a corn shuck. There were several corn shucks out in the north field across from the barn and in one of them Dad cut all the corn stalks and fixed us a house inside. Joyce and I spent many hours that fall playing in that old corn shuck. During the summer we could play in the corncrib in the south shed beside our house. We would drag anything and everything imaginable out of the house we could get by Mom and set up "house keeping." I remember one time I was "dressing up" in the prettiest white sweater. I had "showered" myself with really good smelling perfume (which made really nice spots on the sweater). Well, Joyce came out and saw what I had on and went right in and told Mom. I had to give up my favoritist sweater and it just ruined my outfit, but it was one of our best sweaters that Mom had gotten us for school that fall. Yep, I was in big trouble again!!!

Dad and Perry went to the dump north of Ada one day with a big load of trash. That was one of Dad's favorite things to do because he always found such treasures there. Mom always said that he brought home more than he took. Maybe so, but at least he brought home "new" trash and that day he hit the jackpot!! That particular day they brought back a great big box of costumes, and what costumes they were!! We spent hours and hours dressing up in those wonderful creations. My goodness, when you got all dressed up you could be anyone you wanted to be.

Another time Dad was asked by a family in Ada to help them clean out their stuff to move. Well, clean out we did! I am sure there are still things at home that if you asked where they came from, someone would say "Truman's"! That old saying of one man's trash being another's treasure certainly was true at our house.

Besides playing in various playhouses and sitting on top of the old springhouse, we had many other fun things to do. During the winter when everything was icy, it was so much fun to go up towards the barn about half way or a little further from our house. You would take off at a run with a sled held in front of you. At about the west end of the dog runs, you would flop down on that sled and coast all the way past the back step. We would play out there in the cold until way after dark and Mom would make us go inside. Now we fuss if we have to walk half a block from a parking place. Perry and Joyce were always good for helping to make snowmen, play fox and geese, making snow angels and having snowball fights. The kids these days have no idea how to have fun in the snow!

It was a real treat to all of us kids when Grandpa got his first television. We were so excited to be able to watch it along with him, Grandma and Toby. The only draw back was that Grandpa liked mystery and shoot-em-up stories. Mom didn't think those were the types of programs we kids should be watching, so it wasn't too long until we had a television at our house. It seemed like miles to our back door when we had been watching something scary and then had to go out in the dark to go home. Perry and Joyce always ran ahead of me, and of course, I hollered loudly! Sometimes Perry would run ahead and hide, then jump out and scare us.

Mom was good about teaching us what we would need to know in the future, cleaning house, cooking, doing dishes, cleaning chickens, sewing and ironing. Of course, Joyce and I both were in high school before we found out that right-handed people don't iron left-handed. We always helped to plant the garden, harvest the crops and preserve them. One time Mom told me to plant the seed corn a foot apart with three kernels. I did just like she told me, I put my foot in the row and dropped the three kernels of corn. She had a fit when she saw how close together the corn was planted. I thought a foot was a "foot". I had to replant that corn, too. Can you remember how itchy that dew-wet sweet corn was when you had to go out early in the morning to pick it? How about picking tomatoes and finding a tomato worm? (Ugh!) How about the long hours it took to shell peas, snap green beans or shell those kidney beans? They all tasted good in the winter though.

The year I was seven, I asked Mom what she was sewing on the sewing machine. She told me she was making diapers. I assured her that I really was too big for diapers, but she informed me that there would soon be a little "bottom" at our house to fill them up. (You can take that however you want!)

Mom had several meals she would fix pretty regular. One of my favorites was when she boiled eggs and then had creamed potatoes or creamed tomatoes to go with them. It wasn't that I really liked the eggs so much, but it gave me the chance to tease Perry. Of course, at the time I was too little and really didn't realize that was what I was doing. And I really couldn't help it that my place was just around the corner of the table from him. He would take his boiled eggs (2) and he would peel them, eating the white first. He would lay the yolk on his spoon to eat last because they were his favorite. Well, they were my favorite too, so I would watch, sneak my hand up, grab the yolk and pop it in my mouth really fast!! Boy, that would sure make him holler!! I always got scolded, but usually got at least one of those yolks the next time we had boiled eggs. I don't know why he always laid them on my side where I could get to them, but he always did. Mom finally convinced Dad we needed a new table and she got a really big one so none of us could reach each other above the table or below it. It about filled the kitchen, but at least there weren't too many more steals or kicks. That is unless we stretched a little bit.

I was pretty good size the morning Mom told me to go over to the basement to get some canning jars from the basement of the old house. Grandpa had brought home some new cats and there was one black one that liked to ride on my shoulder. We went over to the basement, just like I had many, many times before, turned on the light and went right down to get the jars. About the time I got to the middle of the basement, the cat yeowed, stood straight up on my shoulder, dug in its claws and I saw something flying around our heads. The cat leaped off my shoulder, I screamed as loud as I could and ran for upstairs. Grandma Lucy said she was in the back kitchen and before she could get further than the old china cupboard, I was in her arms, crying and sputtering. Finally they got me settled down so I could tell them what had happened. They thought maybe I had been hurt some way and thought it was pretty funny when they found out it was a bat that had scared me so. Of course, they were wise enough to be sympathetic and not to laugh because that would not have gone down well at all. When I settled down some, I went and got Dad to take care of the bat. He killed the bat and told me I could get the jars, but you know there was another one down there. Needless to say I made sure he took care of that one too! I never go into the basement without remembering the terror I felt that warm, sunny morning.

We played with several of the neighbor kids through the years and as we got older found many ways to entertain ourselves. We spent time fishing in the creek across from Gerald Flemings, we waded that creek barefoot from the railroad to the Lima/Ada road and about gave Dad a heart attack because he knew how much trash and broken glass had been dumped in there, we picked up buckeyes down at the railroad, we walked all over visiting each other and played at each other's houses.

One summer we went through a stage of "camping out". You probably think it was back in the woods. WRONG. We would put a tarp over the swing set frame, ran an extension cord for light and camp right outside the folks bedroom window. One night there were probably eight or ten of us in the tent, I could have said we slept in the tent, but we didn't sleep that is. Dad and Mom said later it was just like having a chicken coop right outside their bedroom window. As I remember, it must have been sometime between two and three in the morning when we decided we wanted to tell ghost stories. Well, it was too scary to do it in the tent, so we went out and sat in the middle of the road between our house and Grandpa's. Of course, we were quiet and didn't bother anyone! As we were sitting there we happened to look over at Grandpa's and there in the upstairs window stood something white. When you have a whole bunch of early teenage girls it takes very little to excite them. As soon as one of us mentioned seeing something white we all screamed, got up and ran like crazy, considering ourselves lucky to get back to the tent all in one piece. I'm sure it was Toby, whom we had awakened with our giggles, checking to see what was going on. We probably scared him as bad as he scared us! When Dad got up to go out and do the chores we were still giggling and carrying on. In fact, one of the neighbor girls was standing on an upended bucket reciting poetry. Dad picked up a handful of little fine stones and threw them up on the tent. He said there was total silence for a few seconds and then, just like in a chicken house, everyone squawked!! For some reason I really don't remember "camping out" any more after that.

Don't get the wrong idea, we didn't play all the time, we just had fun with whatever we were doing. We each had our chores to do. Perry, Joyce and I all took our turns carrying in wood and coal to keep the stove going. Phil probably carried in some, too, but it wasn't too long after he came that Dad put in a gas stove. In the summer we used the little red wagon and in the winter we used sleds. We all took turns cleaning out the dog pens, helping with the chores around the barn and helping in the fields. Several different years I raised orphaned lambs on the bottle. The year it was taking more than my cow could give to feed them, Dad said I had quite enough. I think I had twenty-three that year. I would get up around five in the morning and feed them on the bottle. Mom would feed them during the day, then I would feed them in the early evening and before I went to bed. I thought I had really struck it rich in the fall when I sold them though.

It was fun (at least I think so now) to help in the fields. One of my favorite jobs after I got older was plowing corn. I liked to watch the rows go by under the tractor. I also helped with the baling and quite often drove the tractor. Those older hired boys sure got mad when Dad told them I would be driving the tractor, not them. We also had to take "care" of the pasture before the reunion. We would take the tractor with the chain harrow and run all over the pasture so there weren't any "big" piles because they liked to play baseball out there. Joyce and I liked to see how high we could throw the "piles."

About the time Grandpa had gotten to the point of not helping with the farm work anymore, he was out in the north field rolling hay. He had worked for quite a while and had gotten pretty tired. He stopped the tractor, got off and laid down to take a nap. We weren't concerned about him because we had watched him do it. We had all gone on about our business, Grandpa rested and was once again rolling hay. After a bit we heard sirens and here came a couple of sheriffs cars and the officers jumped out and began looking all around. They finally came to the house and asked if we had seen anyone lying in the fields. A train had gone through and reported seeing a man lying by a tractor in a field. Of course, we laughed because we knew it was Grandpa taking his nap they were looking for. After we told the officers what had happened they felt better, too. They did suggest next time to have Grandpa come in and lay down in the house when he was tired instead of lying in the field.

Toby gave us many memories too. He was always there, sometimes he would play with us, sometimes he would boss us, sometimes we would tease him and sometimes he would tease us, but he was always there. I remember one time while sitting on the big corner fence post out at the barn, like I liked to do, and agitating him while I perched there. He came over and proceeded to knock-me off. I hollered and Dad told me I should learn to be quiet. I really wasn't too impressed with his comment, but I think it was probably a pretty wise statement. Our kids were all pretty small when Toby died, but he had made such an impression on them. For sometime after he was gone, they would play "Toby." Toby loved all the little kids. You knew he really liked you if he offered you some of his Black Jack chewing gum or offered to let you wear his "Handy Andy" gloves. Jennie says the thing she remembers most about Toby was him offering her his pineapple cookies straight from his overall pockets.

It isn't the same when we go to Grandpa's anymore without Grandpa, Grandma Lucy and Toby there, but sometimes you can almost feel their presence in the house. There are so many good memories that go through my mind as I wander around through the rooms. I recall the times when the aunts and uncles would bring their kids to visit and then when those cousins would bring their families to see Grandpa. I remember the feelings of loss when the families would gather after the loss of a loved one. I remember the times everyone laughed, teased and told stories about each other. It feels just like home as many of the same furnishings are still there.

As I have looked through the old pictures I can sit back and remember so many of those happy long-gone times. I remember the many loved ones who are now gone from us here on earth, but live on in our hearts. They bring back those warm memories of being loved, hugged and cared about. It seems as though one memory brings back another and another and yet another. I remember Aunt Ada coming each Sunday to go to church with us and spending the day. I remember the trips to visit with Uncle Charlie and Aunt Mary Cochensparger, Grandma Hattie's two sisters. I remember the visits down to Uncle Bill Rhodes where he always had coconut candy for us, the visits to Aunt Emmy and Uncle Clem where he usually tried to catch my leg with his cane and scared me so. I remember the times when Uncle Clyde came to visit after so many years away and when Otto Long would come eat our "burnt" cookies at reunion time and when Aunt Millie came to live at the Homestead. All of these memories are so precious and important to me. They were and certainly are an integral part of my life.

I feel the security of know that the farm is still in tact after all these years, knowing that we have preserved Great-Grandpa's dream when he walked to Hardin County, Ohio from Pennsylvania. Knowing that as we move through life our grandchildren will have a heritage to be proud of, just as we have had through the years. I really feel that the upbringing I had on the Long Homestead gave me the basis for my life. Learning to live, develop and mature in the atmosphere we had has given us the strength to deal with what life brings, to be compassionate towards others and to make a mark to leave for those who come after. I know that having puppies bite me when I was too rough has made me more tender. I know that learning early in life that some people are different has made me more compassionate. I know that having the heritage we have grown up with has made me more aware of who I am and where I fit into things. I really wouldn't think of trading the memories I have and the up bringing I experienced with any rich or famous person I can think of. I owe a great deal to Grandpa Long, Grandma Lucy, Toby, Dad, Mom, Perry, Joyce and Phil, as well as each one of you. Thank you!!
